

DRUNKARDS CURED IN ONE DAY

Any Lady Can Do It Secretly at Home.
Costs Nothing to Try.

An odorless and tasteless remedy when put in the drunkard's coffee or food will destroy all desire for drink. This remedy is so simple that anyone can use it and the drunkard need never know why he quit drinking intoxicating liquors. Many have been cured in one day with a free trial alone.

THE OUTCOME OF A DRUNKEN SPIEL.
A Trial Package of the Great Healer Cures Would Have Saved Him From This Awful End.

Lola Penitence, Rocky Mountain, Va., cured her drunken father with the free package of Golden Specific which Dr. Hulse sent her. She writes: "I hope God will bless you for it."
Mrs. Agnes Carroll, Calabash, Minn., says: "The trial package so turned my husband against liquor that he hates the sight or smell of it now. My happiness is so great."
Mrs. Mattie Perkins, Vanceburg, Ky., says: "My husband took two doses of your medicine about two weeks ago and has not taken a drink or had any desire for liquor since then. Our home is so different now."
Mary L. Harris, Lewiston, N. C., writes: "The sample you sent me cured my husband of the drink habit. May God bless you, for you have blessed me with a happy home."
Mrs. Mable Zink, R. F. D. No. 6, Salem, Or., says: "My husband has not touched liquor since I gave him the sample package of your Golden Specific."
It is a physical impossibility for anyone to drink intoxicating liquors and take this medicine.
If anyone desires to try this marvelous remedy, Dr. J. W. Hulse, 407 Glen building, Chicago, Ill., will gladly send a free trial package, that they may see how easily it can be used and how potent its effect is.

SHOWS FATAL STROKE.

Murder Defendant Astonishes the Judge by Backward Stroke.

Pottsville, Pa., Sept. 22.—The murder of Charles Shurtz, of Philadelphia, will practically go unavenged, the jury in the case of Augustino Varandini, who stabbed Short, finding him guilty only of voluntary manslaughter. Judge Mary immediately sentenced Varandini to three years in jail and his two accomplices were released.
The defendant testified that he stabbed Short while the latter was standing back of him. The murder was simply planned by the knife back-knife to Short's back, and did not know where the blow struck.
Varandini gave an exhibition entirely novel in the court of how quickly he could open his knife and use it, sending a thrill of terror through the spectators. The testimony showed that Short had pursued and was beating Varandini.

BAKER'S WAGON

Is Raided by Starving Hop-Pickers in England.

London, Sept. 22.—Hundreds of unemployed hop-pickers are starving in the Waterbury district of Kent, and are raiding bakers' carts and provision shops in search of food.

It has been the custom of one of the largest growers in Kent to ask the bin-men he employs to bring down their force of pickers with them.

This year, anticipating that many would neglect to obey the order, he wrote to each bin-man to bring down a force of twelve good pickers. Every man obeyed, and the result was that over 300 more pickers than were needed poured into the district.

Some of them started to tramp back to London, but the majority hung about in the hopes of getting a little work, and they were speedily reduced to starvation.

A baker's cart and emptied it, and later several of them called on the baker and apologized for the part they took in the affair, but pleaded that their children were starving. The baker decided not to prosecute.

INSPECTION AT SUPERIOR

Vessels Loaded There to Be Steamed Into Duluth Harbor.

Then Samples Will Be Taken By the Minnesota Inspectors.

St. Paul, Sept. 22.—Charles P. Staples, who returned from Duluth yesterday after a thorough investigation into the matter of Minnesota inspection of grain at Superior, and addressed a communication to Governor Johnson in which he tells him of the final decision in the matter. In the future, in order to avoid conflict with the Wisconsin authorities, all state inspectors have been instructed to see that vessels loaded with grain at any house in Superior shall be either steamed over into Duluth harbor or put into neutral waters and there probed by the inspectors. The following letter to Governor Johnson sets forth the situation clearly and the solution which it is thought will avoid the necessity of a lawsuit to determine the rights of a Minnesota inspector to inspect grain at Superior.

This will acknowledge the receipt of your recent communication in which you state a letter from his excellency Governor La Follette of Wisconsin, complaining that the Minnesota railroad and warehouse commission is permitting the Wisconsin grain laws providing for the inspection and weighing of grain in Superior to be violated.

"Replying to the same, permit me to say in behalf of our commission that we do not intend knowingly to violate the Wisconsin law in any respect. So far as the weighing is concerned we have not and do not intend to weigh any grain in Superior to weigh either 'in' or 'out' since the law looks effect. The 'out' inspection is concerned, all cars intended for Superior are inspected at some station outside Wisconsin. There has been no inspection in any yard nor has there been any inspection of any car of grain either 'in' or 'out' on Wisconsin soil since the law looks effect. The 'out' inspection of our state inspectors on board the boats, which we have been advised by counsel, and have every reason to believe, is in no manner a violation of the Wisconsin law."

"I have taken up with our chief inspector all cases cited by the governor of Wisconsin, and while there have been a number of cases of the different elevators on different occasions, the facts are that actual inspection was made on board the vessel. As this is complained of by the Wisconsin authorities, and no doubt they feel it to be a violation of the law, I have instructed our state inspectors to see in the future that all vessels loaded with grain at any house in Superior shall either be steamed over into Duluth harbor or put into neutral waters, and there be probed by the inspectors and samples taken to the office and there graded. This, it seems, will remove all cause for complaint."

"I repeat again, it is not the purpose of this department to in any manner violate the laws of Wisconsin knowingly. It may be proper to say for your information that the actual inspection law only applies to the inspection and weighing of grain in public houses, though it is the penalty is imposed on any person found inspecting grain in Superior who is not duly appointed according to the Wisconsin law."

"All elevators in Superior have become private elevators, and the grain which we inspect both 'in' and 'out' is done at the house of the owner of the different elevators, claiming that they do that their trade has been built up based upon Minnesota inspection, and that their customers insist upon the Minnesota inspection, and that in the only basis upon which they can do business."

"Any shipper of grain who desires, is perfectly free to consign his grain to Superior and would then be entitled to Wisconsin inspection."

SAYS GOVERNOR IS UNTRUTHFUL

Sherrick Makes Brief Public Statement on Hanly's Charges.

Indianapolis, Sept. 22.—David E. Sherrick, depositor state auditor, last night gave out the first public statement he has made since Governor Hanly forced him to resign his office. The statement, Mr. Sherrick explained, was only preparatory to a more detailed one that he will give out later. Until his complete explanation is made, Mr. Sherrick in his statement asks the people of the state to withhold judgment in the matter of his exposure.

The statement follows: "Governor Hanly, in a speech at Hamilton, Ind., Tuesday night, thought it proper, in justification of his course toward me, while claiming to be my friend, to attack not only my official but my private character in a manner that seems to me most vicious. I have so far refrained from making any reply through advice of my counsel. Feeling so keenly the injustice done me in those speeches, I can no longer remain silent.

"His statement that I gambled away at French Luck $10,000, that I was unable to attend to my official duties on the tax board on account of carousals, drinking and gambling at night, are absolutely false. His statement that I did not loan him $750 for campaign purposes I will prove beyond question is likewise false. In due time I shall prepare and publish a full statement concerning the charges of the governor, which I am sure will convince the public that each of his statements is absolutely false. I will also show that other charges he made against me in those speeches were made so as to misrepresent me, to do me gross injustice and to leave a false impression regarding my conduct."

"I do not ask the public to believe these simple denials any more than they should believe his unsupported charges. I simply ask the public to withhold opinion until I can prepare and present such facts as will show the truth. When I make my statement it will be supported by evidence of trustworthy men."

FIVE ARE KILLED IN TRAIN WRECK

Pay Train and Combination Passenger Collide in Pennsylvania.

Harrisburg, Sept. 22.—Five men were killed and eight others seriously injured in a collision between a pay train and a combination passenger and milk train on the Philadelphia, Harrisburg & Reading branch of the Philadelphia & Reading railroad at Rowles Cave, at Mount Holly Springs, yesterday afternoon. None of the passengers were injured.

Dead: EPHRAIM MCLEARY, engineer of milk train of Harrisburg.

C. J. SHEARER, fireman of milk train of Harrisburg.

JOHN HILL, fireman of pay train, of Reading.

THOMAS MARION, conductor of pay train, of Pottsville.

Hill died on the way to the Harrisburg hospital; the other four were killed outright.

GREAT SALVAGE SALE WATER-DAMAGED COATS FOR MISSES AND CHILDREN!

Everything is in readiness for the great sale of Misses' and Children's Coats tomorrow.

Our entire shipment of high-class winter coats for misses and children was on board the Steamer North Wind when that terrible North-easter drove it into the pier and sank it in the slip! We have adjusted the loss with the insurance companies, securing a very liberal allowance for the damages.

Excepting that the garments are moist and wet, they are, with very few exceptions, in no wise injured or damaged—a little drying and pressing will put most of them in the original good condition.

But we have no time for drying and pressing, and we are willing to give you every benefit of the liberal damages allowed by the insurance companies!

Not one of these water-damaged coats must stay on our racks. We want to sell them all and sell them quick—and for that reason will name prices that represent but a small fraction of the manufacturer's cost.

lacerations of shoulder and scalp; Isaac McElroy, paymaster, Reading, fractured skull and both arms severely crushed.

The injured who were taken to their homes are: Robert Itelwino, trainmaster, Mount Holly Springs, fatally injured; George O. Savits, trainmaster, Harrisburg, injured about arms, legs and face, may be necessary to amputate one foot; John Miller, baggage-master, Harrisburg, slight injuries; Harry Bomberger, conductor, Harrisburg, slight injuries.

The pay train, consisting of a locomotive and one coach, was going west to pay the men along the division. The combination train, composed of locomotive, combination coach and two passenger coaches, was coming east. The two trains ran together on the curve, in which is a sharp one, and is flanked by a heavy clump of trees.

Amole jumped from his engine and landed at the foot of a twenty-five foot embankment. McCleary was found on his engine with the whistle cord in his hand, it having been pulled clear of the machine and all the brakes on the train set. The pay car contained about fifty thousand dollars in checks, which were scattered about the tracks. Officials of the company here say the accident was probably due to a misunderstanding of orders.

CONTRACT FOR SALE

Of Wheat Different From Option and Not Violation of Law.

Chicago, Sept. 22.—Judge Gary of the superior court yesterday decided that an offer to contract for the sale of wheat was distinct from the contract for an option, and was not a violation of the criminal code which prohibits a contract for an option to take, or not to take, what is offered for sale. The decision was given in a suit brought by Mark Bates, board of trade man, against Henry Woods, a fellow member, who had refused to abide by an offer to contract for the sale of 60,000 bushels of wheat.

An offer to contract for the sale of the wheat at 82½ cents a bushel was signed by Woods on Sept. 13, the offer to remain good until the next day. The price of wheat rose to 84½ cents the next day, and when Bates offered to take the contract, Woods refused, and suit was brought for the difference in the price of the wheat, Bates alleging that he had been forced to buy 60,000 bushels in the open market.

BROWER NOT CANDIDATE

For Governor But Will Support His Father-in-Law.

St. Paul, Sept. 22.—"Jim" Martin's appearance at the Merchants' hotel during the last few days gave life to a rumor that he was laying wires for a gubernatorial boom in the interests of Ripley B. Brower of St. Cloud. It was definitely announced in political circles here yesterday that Senator Brower would not be a candidate before the next state convention for governor.

The authority for the statement is a person who is close to Mr. Brower, and knows well just what his future political aspirations are. It is urged that P. E. Hanson, while refusing to enter the light until he is given assurance that the leaders of the party are generally for him, will ultimately be in the contest for gubernatorial honors.

On these grounds Senator Brower will unite with his father-in-law to secure the nomination for him.

SOFT GROUND

In Potato Patch Saves Boy From Being Killed.

Marysville, Ohio, Sept. 22.—A most peculiar accident happened at the home of Patrick Maloney, who resides in Union township, and it is a miracle that nothing serious resulted. Mr. Maloney had been digging potatoes and landing them into a big wagon, on which his little son was sitting.

The horses started suddenly and the child was thrown to the ground, falling in such a manner that the wheels of the wagon passed directly over his neck.

The father supposed his son had met instant death, but upon picking him up he was greatly relieved to find that the child was not only alive, but to all appearances was none the worse for his frightful experience. That he was not instantly killed is due to the condition of the ground, which had just been plowed and the earth was soft, permitting the boy's head and neck to sink into it as the wheels passed over him.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

LYCEUM—Saturday, "Her Only Sin."

LYCEUM—Monday, "Hans and Nik."

ROSELLE KNOTT.

In the course of the play "When Knighthood Was in Flower," as in the book, the action centers about "Mary Tudor, princess of England, the madcap sister of the famous Henry the Eighth. This role is portrayed by Roselle Knott in a most captivating manner, and she will be seen in it at the Lyceum this evening. As Princess Mary she dances in and out of every scene, as changing as a summer day, now laughingly as only a royal princess can be, now wild and defiant, again sweet and tender as becomes her, but always winsome, womanly and lovable. It is a difficult role that Miss Knott essays but one to which she proves herself equal in every particular. Never once does she fail to assert her sway over her auditors through all the devious paths where Mary's capricious nature leads her. Her gaiety is natural, her anger real, her love-making true, and her quick transitions from rage to tenderness, from emotion to another, are those of the delightful Mary of the book. And in the more serious and sober third and fourth acts she shows a depth and veracity surprising in one who is so captivating in the lighter passages. Miss Knott has proved herself a present mistress of her art, yet has a future rosy with promise.

"HER ONLY SIN."

"Her Only Sin," Lincoln J. Carter's successful drama, which is now on its third season, will be seen at the Lyceum tomorrow. Miss Julia Gray plays the steller role and is surrounded by an able and efficient cast. The scenery has been thoroughly overhauled since last year, and some new effects have been added.

"JOLLY GRASS WIDOWS."

La Brower's orchestra of seven pieces will furnish the music at the Metropolitan after this week, when the house brings the home of high-class extravaganza and vaudeville. It will be under the direction of Otto Muhsen. The first attraction at the Metropolitan under the management of Otto Muhsen will be "Jolly Grass Widows," which comes Monday evening for an engagement of five nights and three matinees. Popular prices will prevail.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS.

The work of civilian physicians in examining recruits for the army has given so unsatisfactory that their services will be entirely dispensed with in that capacity after September 30.

According to reports received at the Southern Pacific headquarters in San Francisco, a long section of the company's snow shed at Cheyenne, Cal., with a number of cars and one or two station structures, were destroyed by fire last night.

The last session of the national encampment of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, which was held at Gettysburg, Thursday, Col. H. V. Speelman of Cincinnati, was chosen commander-in-chief, and Morris, Ill., was selected as the next place of meeting.

Romulus DeLaurie, the brother of Mrs. Humbert, was deported to France Thursday on the French liner steamer La Touraine, on which he arrived as a cabin passenger last Saturday. He was ordered sent back under that section of the law which forbids the entry into this country of a person who has served a prison term for an offense for other than political crime.

Don Patch, paced by two runners, with H. C. Hersey driving, went a mile in 2:01 Thursday at the Allentown, Pa., fair. An hour later, hitched to a road wagon, he cut the pacing record of his life, Joe Patchen, from 2:12 to 2:05. The quarters were made in 2:31, 2:22, 2:32 and 2:30.

Mrs. Mary Owsen, of Whitehall, Wis., aged 74, a pioneer of Wisconsin, was found hanging in the woods Thursday by a posse which had started out to find the woman. She had committed suicide by hanging, using her apron strings with which to form a noose.

Directors of Public Safety Potter issued an order to all policemen and firemen of Philadelphia, Thursday, prohibiting them from paying any assessment or contribution for political purposes. Disobedience of the order will be cause for immediate dismissal.

A monument erected to the memory of the soldiers and sailors of the civil war, was unveiled at Forest Lawn cemetery at Omaha Thursday in the presence of 2,000 people. Gov. Mickey and staff, and several prominent military men were present.

FRANCHISES ARE TAXABLE

The State Wins Its Suit
With the Western Union.

Board of Equalization
May Now Increase Other Franchise Taxes.

St. Paul, Sept. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The state supreme court decided in favor of the state today in the suit of the state of Minnesota against the Western Union Telegraph company.

It was a suit to collect taxes on a valuation of the company's property in the amount of $1,000,000.

The valuation was based on an assessment upon the company's franchises.

The company resisted the taxation of its franchise, claiming that the state constitution did not give that right.

The court holds that franchises of all kinds, although intangible property, are taxable under the constitution.

The fight of the state against the Western Union dates from 1890, when the state board of equalization fixed the company's assessment at $1,000,000. Previous to that it had been assessed on a valuation of $60,000. In his findings which were against the state.

Judge Bunn fixed the cash value of the company's holdings in the state at $60,000. The state then appealed. Justice Jaggard says: "The prima facie validity of an assessment of personal property for general taxation is not overcome by a well grounded claim of over valuation. Courts do not interfere, except when tax officials have acted fraudulently or maliciously to the substantial prejudice of the taxpayer, or have made a mistake so gross as to be inconsistent with fair and honest judgment, or when they have proceeded on an erroneous rule of law; and then only upon sufficient proof, addressed to proper legal standard of valuation."

The cost price of tangible property of a telegraph company, together with reasonable deduction for natural deterioration, is not a proper basis for valuation of such property on the general lists. The language of a law providing for a constitutional method of taxation is to be construed fairly and reasonably, so as to effectuate legislative intention and to compel property protected by the state to contribute its ratable share of public revenue, and to avoid discrimination in taxation between property owners."

As stated, the principal point at issue was the right of the state to tax the company's franchise, and the court in passing on it says that while an assessment of this subject is somewhat vague, yet the state law undoubtedly permits the action taken.

That the decision was an important one was evident from the fact that within a few hours after its filing a copy was given the state board of equalization by Assistant Attorney General Simpson. The board has ordered a general inquiry into returns made on franchises held in the state and the opinion will undoubtedly have considerable bearing on any action taken.

DROWNED IN EXCAVATION

West End Baby Slips Into Hole Full of

Body Is Found Floating Face Downwards
By Mother.

While playing about in the yard in the rear of his home, Harry Szczepkowski, a little 2-year-old boy, was drowned Wednesday afternoon in about three feet of water, which had collected in an excavation during the heavy rains.

An excavation had been dug in the rear of the house, at 213 Devonshire street, for a woodshed. The hole at one part was from three to four feet deep, and during the heavy rains it had been filled with water. The soil consisted of heavy clay, which held the water and prevented it draining off.

About the sides of the hole the ground was very slippery from the rain.

No one was with the child when the accident occurred. He had been playing around in the yard, when suddenly his mother missed him and went out to search for him.

On the edge of the excavation there was a mark showing where he had slipped into the hole, and there, floating about in the water face downwards, was the child.

Horried at the sight she pulled him out, and attempted by every means to revive him. Dr. W. A. Coventry was summoned, but there were no signs of life when he arrived.

How long the boy had been in the water when found is not known, but it may have been anywhere from a minute to a quarter of an hour. Nobody saw him fall, and he had not been seen for fifteen or twenty minutes previous to the discovery of his body.

The coroner was summoned and gave a verdict of death by accidental drowning.

GRAND LARCENY CASE IS TRIED

Against Hanrahan-Chisholm Cases.

Richard Hanrahan, who was indicted with Frank Cunningham on a charge of implication in the holdup of John Spelman, near Hibbing, was tried today in Judge Cant's room. Cunningham was convicted and is awaiting sentence.

Spelman states that he was walking on the tracks near the roundhouse of the Great Northern company at Hibbing, with two other men, one Butler and one Esch, when Hanrahan and Cunningham stepped out from behind some ore cars and stopped him, holding him, while Hanrahan went through him, taking about $80 in gold and bills. He testified that while the robbery was going on Butler and Esch were standing a few feet away laughing.

Esch, who was one of the witnesses called by the defense this morning, admitted upon cross examination that he had been arrested and placed in jail on other occasions, but he could not remember how many times this had happened in the past twenty years.

The defense rested when the noon adjournment was taken, and the case reached the jury this afternoon.

The next case that the state has scheduled for trial is that against George Booker, the young man who was indicted for assault in the second degree. Booker is one of the two or three persons said to be implicated in a Garfield avenue trouble some weeks ago when an Assyrian was struck a dangerous blow in the back of the head by a brick or rock.

As near as County Attorney McClintock is now able to judge the cases against the Chisholm Village officials, who are under indictment, will be taken up the first of the coming week.

It is likely that the case against William Grant, president of the village, will be the first called for trial.

The trials will be largely attended, it

At a recent meeting of the Duluth Humane society the condition of laws in Minnesota regarding wife desertion was discussed at some length. A larger number of children of wife deserters are cared for by the society than children who are orphans by the loss of one or both parents through death. This existing condition is one which demands the attention of the members of the society, for a man who has the duties of a husband and father and is well able to fulfill those duties but neglects them most shamefully ought, in some way be reached by the law. Until 1901 wife desertion was a common misdemeanor punishable as such by a fine of not exceeding $500 or ninety days in jail. In 1901 by an act of legislature, wife desertion was made a felony and for two years the law was in force.

During these two years County Attorney McCullough vigorously prosecuted many cases of wife desertion. It was possible to extradite the offenders and during the time that this law was in force several were sent from here to the penitentiary. In 1903 the legislature repealed this law and the one now in force is a failure in all respects. A man guilty of deserting his family may be ordered to pay a certain amount for the support of his wife and children as in the case of payment of alimony. Failure to do so may be punished as contempt of court by imprisonment. The object for which the authorities are striving is not gained, however, for while the man is in jail he is unable to earn anything for the support of the family and upon his release may continue in the way he has gone. The wife and children are meanwhile either leading a hand to mouth existence or the Humane society in many cases is asked to care for the little ones, as the effort is too great for the mother alone. The law as it now stands is miserably inadequate, the offense not even being a misdemeanor, and this class of shirkers bring almost free of the law. The fact that the burden which they should rightfully and gladly assume is left upon the public is a phase of the question which demands attention. Last year a bill was introduced at the meeting of the legislature making the desertion of wives a felony, but it failed to pass. After hearing the report, the Humane society passed a motion that the society take up the matter and if possible have a measure introduced at the next session of the legislature making the offense a felony. The remedy rests alone with the legislature, and it is hoped that the bill will pass.

Home From Adirondacks.

Bishop and Mrs. J. D. Morrison returned yesterday from their summer home in the Adirondacks. The bishop left today for St. Cloud, where he will conduct "Quiet Day" services tomorrow for a class of devotees to be ordained Sunday. The day is one of retreat and prayer and special instruction from the bishop to the candidates. The ordination sermon will be preached Sunday by the Rt. Rev. Cameron Mann, E. D., bishop of North Dakota. Six candidates will be admitted. The affair is of no little interest to the church people throughout this district as so large a class seldom appears at one time.

Highland Club Entertained.

The Highland club was entertained yesterday afternoon by Mrs. John Hogan at her home on Duluth Heights. In the amusements of the afternoon the prizes were won by Mrs. William Pennell and Mrs. J. A. Brayton. The guests were: William Doulton, T. E. Johnson, Hugh Pawcett, William Pennell, W. E. Hanson, John Wilson, William Stewart, John McDonald, J. H. Tomlin, and J. A. Brayton.

Events of Interest.

This evening a reception will be held at the church parlors of the Unitarian church in honor of Rev. and Mrs. Harry White. The friends outside the congregation are cordially invited to attend the affair.

The teachers of Duluth schools will be the guests of honor at a reception tomorrow evening at the Young Women's Christian association. A large number of cards have been issued for the affair, which is especially arranged for those teachers whose homes are outside of Duluth.

Personal Mention.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Phillips of 1914 First Second street, and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Dana H. Kelsey, of Muskogee, I. T., have gone to Walker for a week's outing.

Mrs. J. F. Hayes of 715 East Second street left yesterday afternoon for a visit to relatives at Saginaw, Mich.

Mrs. J. W. Noyes of Portland, Ore., formerly of this city, is visiting friends here.

Miss Mabel Johnson will leave tomorrow for a two-weeks' visit with her parents at St. Paul.

Mrs. J. C. Hunter of 16 Twenty-second avenue west has returned from a visit to Detroit, Marquette and Lucknow, Ont.

Mrs. David H. Day of 9 Chester terrace has returned from St. Paul, where she was called by the illness of her mother, Mrs. Mary E. Morris. Mrs. Morris came to Duluth with Mrs. Day and is the guest of Mrs. S. F. Wadhams of the Buffalo flats.

H. A. Leidel left this afternoon for Winnipeg, where he will make his home. Mrs. Leidel will be the guest of friends in the city for a few days before going to Winnipeg.

Mrs. Clara Goosman, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Leidel, has returned to her home in Chicago.

Mrs. William P. Quayle was hostess at an informal afternoon today in honor of her guest, Miss Ruth Quayle of Cleveland.

Mrs. N. O. Lundberg of 121 West Fifth street, will entertain at a small tea tomorrow afternoon.

DISPLAY AT WEDDINGS.

Writer in Leslie's Weekly Comments on Vulgar Show So General.

Not long ago a Baltimore clergyman, the Rev. Charles E. Guthrie, pastor of a Methodist Episcopal church of the Maryland city, refused to take part in church wedding rehearsals. Mr. Guthrie explained that he did not believe in the pomp and ceremony that made a rehearsal necessary, and that the theatrical atmosphere pervading such affairs was not in keeping in a house of God. The refusal to stage-manage, as it were, a church wedding ceremony challenges interest and directs our thoughts to a review of the weddings of the past year. Where two persons care for each other and, without hope of acquiring money or social advancement, decide to live together, there can be nothing more sacred than the ceremony which makes them man and wife, says Leslie's Weekly.

In the light of this fact, the farcical pomp and vulgar display of modern ceremonies, indulged in by even highly respected persons, cause surprise that the event should manifest itself in the inordinate desire to outshine others in the display of finery and the following in the religious fashion, however, absurd it may be. Mere personal dislike of showy weddings is of small account, compared with the temptation our present manner and custom afford to incur unjustifiable expense on occasion when two persons please to tell the world that henceforth their love shall be solemnized by living together in holy wedlock.

The pomp of a swell wedding is a great advantage to jewelers, florists, etc., but a tax on the young husband, and she is seldom the happiest bride or, save rarely, the best of wives, who has seen her husband's pocketbook emptied of dollars were spent on her wedding. One of the prettiest marriage ceremonies of the past year was that of a very poor girl, the bride with her set, wealthy, beautiful, and with a social prestige second to none. Her only fault seemed to be her inordinate love of display. She would go to almost any means for show.

That she really loved the man to whom she was married was proved by the fact that a month before the date set for the affair, which was so most elaborate, with unlimited expenditure, a railroad accident occurred and the groom was almost fatally injured. The bride, whose mind had been centered upon her gorgeous trousseau and the details of the coming nuptials, forgot them and flew to the stricken family of the man whose life meant so much to them all. After a long period of doubt and worry, and months of convalescence, the wedding was celebrated, but the misery which was to have been spent in dowry and feasting was given, by express wish of the bride, to endow beds in the city hospital, and to pension several old and worthy persons. The simple ceremony, the inexpensive dress of the bride, and the radiant face which shone beneath the veil, with the general attitude of the groom, who could scarcely understand the transformation, impressed me as a sacred coupling of two lives. Happy the bride who can say: "I have made many hearts glad on my wedding day."

Tennyson Waited Ten Years.

Tennyson waited for his bride ten years. When the wedding day came, the bride, who had been waiting for him, arrived too late also. But that did not spoil either the wedding of the bride or the groom. The couple first went to London, enjoying, as became a poet and poet's wife, long rambles, through the woods and over the heather, in spite of the weeping Devonshire climate. Thence they passed to the English lakes. Tennyson spoke of the country round about as the Garden of Eden.

Another great man—Mr. Huxley—at last, after waiting for his bride for eight years, came at last to the time when he was to be married. He was married in England, and the ceremony was performed by Miss Heather. With the thousands of leagues between them, she in Sydney and he in England, each had proved the other's fidelity and devotion. When Miss Heather arrived in England, Huxley was to learn from a famous physician that she had only six months to live. But he married her, and look how Tennyson, the beautiful watering place in Carmarthen bay, "six months or not," Huxley had said, "is going to be my wife." The devotion of the great biologist brought her back to health, and when, after long years of happiness, the hand beckoned and the voice called for him, he directed her to inscribe on his tombstone the words: "Be not afraid, ye waiting hearts that weep."

For still he giveth His beloved sleep, And if an endless sleep He wills, so be it."

THE NEXT ROOM.

By Norman H. Crowell.

(Copyright 1905, by Daily Star Pub. Co.) We were married at noon, and by skillful generalship, shyly seconded by the best man and my own younger brother, succeeded in making the best possible train without the usual embarrassing demonstrations at the hands of admiring friends and relatives. Mr. Brundage (my husband, of course) drew a sigh of satisfaction as the station slid out of sight behind us and became at once noticeably absorbed in the theatrical poses of a Chicago newspaper.

Mr. Brundage had always been a lover of the stage, and the room of the theaters was to him something more than mere sight-seeing. He studied them closely and, occasionally, criticized them. It pleased him to select a weak spot in a play for one that he informed me was weak), and dilate on how he would have written the lines if he had been the playwright. My habit of firmly opposing, and finally accepting his views, was, I think, a mighty factor in causing me to marry him. I was, of course, driven to the hotel, registered and went directly to a room. My husband began to unpack his trunk from his case, preparatory to what he announced was to be a "gentle" and "subtle" course at the wash basin, and, after crushing my hair into shape, I felt as presentable as was necessary among entire strangers.

Drawing a chair to the window, I sat for a moment idly gazing at the people far below. Happening to observe writing material on a table close at hand, the idea occurred to me that the opportunity of dealing with one to mamma was one not to be neglected, and forthwith I seized the pen.

A short note was soon accomplished and, with my face tingling peculiarly at the sudden sound of my pen in the tub just beyond the bathroom door, I darted from the room and stood down the hall to the envelope left down the tube, then, picking up my skirts up hastily, I retraced my steps.

I entered the room flushed from my run and felt relieved to hear the continued plashing from the bathroom beyond. Judging by the sound my husband was enjoying the tub immensely. I resumed my seat at the window and abstractedly felt for my little secret kerchief that I always carried secured to the under edge of my waist. It was not there. Well, there were more things to be done than to look for it. I had grasped nothing, I looked. The case was not in sight.

Then I saw it all. My joke-loving husband had slipped out during my absence and had taken the kerchief to the bathroom, thinking to frighten me. Frightened me, indeed! I arose and stepped briskly to the bathroom door and rapped sharply.

The splashing abruptly ceased and a general grant and rapid shuffle, followed by a knock, opened the door. I knew that Mr. Brundage was making a weak attempt to disguise his voice. I'd like you to hand my clothes out to me, I said, in my sweetest tone of voice.

There was a swash of water and a half-clothed sound that was evidently the result of attempting to refrain from bursting right out with laughter.

"What's that?" Mr. Brundage now came in a fine attire—I would have failed to recognize him but I had known absolutely who it was.

"My clothes, please!" I repeated, "in the case, I need—some of them."

"Well, I'll be horn— I lost the remainder of the speech, but I began to believe that Mr. Brundage was innocent of taking my case. It must have been stolen then. I shivered slightly."

"George," I called desperately, fully aware of my loss, "my clothes are gone—lost. If you don't hurry up and find them I'll cry. Do hurry, dear!"

He cleared his throat. I could hear him as he partly turned in the water so that he could face the door.

"Madam, I regret that—ah—"

"Madam, I threw back my shoulders and my heels clicked together. It George Brundage or any other Brundage imagined that he could address that epithet to me with impunity he was going to be thoroughly advised of my opinions in the matter. I seized the knob and gave it a vigorous turn."

I had not fully determined upon what form of vengeance my fancy would light and it was not until a yet bulky object plumped against the door and held it shut that I realized the extent of my fury.

"Madam, I am at a total loss—"

"If you use that word again, George Brundage, I will stick my head out of the window and scream for the police."

"I'll do the same if you attempt to force an entry into this room again!"

I grew weak, but desperate. Tears were crowding to my eyes and I trembled with apprehension. Then the magnitude of his base treatment filled me with sudden and fierce resolution. I would fly—fly as far from the hated spot as I could.

As I flung myself from the room I saw only from our special agent who left me doubting Mr. Brundage's sanity and for a moment I paused in the hall, hesitating, trembling.

At this moment a door close to my right hand was suddenly yanked open and a tousled head was thrust forth. I reached down and in a twinkling snatched at my skirts, intending to race for the elevator and freedom. Then the tousled head saw me and spoke.

Menominee-Sheriff Packer of Menominee county arrested "Butch" Martell at Menominee on a charge of desertion from the United States army. Martell is well known at Menominee. He enlisted at Marquette in March, 1894, and was sent to Fort Russell, Cheyenne, Wyo., where he deserted June last. Previous to his arrest he had been in Menominee several days. He was leaving the city when taken by Sheriff Packer and members of his family had accompanied him to the train.

Sault Ste. Marie—A detachment of the First United States Infantry, from Fort Brady, consisting of First Lieut. Reed and two privates, is at work near Sault Ste. Marie, Mich. The men are engaged in making surveys for a progressive military map. The work is practically the same as that of the United States survey maps, showing all railroads, wagon roads, lakes, streams and elevations and other information that might be of value to the military service in time of war. Lieut. Reed's territory covers four quadrangle sections with a total area of 88 miles and is known as the Nett Lake, Witkeba, Sault and Crystal Falls region. The outfit of the party consists of Lieut. Reed's saddle horse, a team of mules and army wagon, tentage, camp supplies and engineering outfit. It is understood that similar work is now being done all over the United States by detachments from the regular army.

"The Only Sure Cure" for Stomach and Liver Troubles

is "COOPER'S NEW DISCOVERY" and "QUICK RELIEF," writes Mr. A. Thompson of 427 Chestnut street, Milwaukee, Wis.

Here is his letter: The Cooper Medicine Co., Gentlemen:—I have been ill for seven years with Stomach and Liver trouble. All the medicines I used and all the doctors I treated with did me no good. One physician advised an operation, but I would not consent to it. I finally decided to try Cooper's Remedies, as I heard they had effected some wonderful cures. I began to improve at once, and after taking them for a few weeks I am almost as well as ever. I advise all who have liver and stomach trouble to take Cooper's New Discovery and Quick Relief; they are the only sure cure.

"Quaker Gray"

You'll see this being worn by many men this Fall. It's the fad color and one that will have an unprecedented following. It's not only a new, but a common-sense color as well—does not border on the freak variety that have made their appearance. When you are passing the store call in and see our "Quaker Gray" display. We believe you will be favorably impressed with it. It will be used in Topcoats, Business and Dress Suits, and Overcoats.

Fall Suits, Topcoats and Overcoats Are Ready.

In gathering this display together we made our purchases from the same strictly high-class concerns as in former seasons—Hart, Schaffner & Marx and Ely Meyer, the "Clothing Kings" of America. You are sure of being well-dressed if you wear their clothes—they are shown in Duluth exclusively by us. Coats are a little longer and the garments are proportioned larger, on general principles. They are

IS TO FEED ISTHMIANS

J. E. Markel Says Good Living Will Be Much Cheaper.

Cooked Food in Bulk For Men Who Have Families.

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 22.—J. E. Markel, who has been feeding the hungry most of the time by the thousands, in and out of Omaha ever since the day he stepped off the steamer Colorado, up-river from St. Joseph, over thirty-nine years ago, is home from New York. There he landed the biggest contract of his life—that of feeding the thousands of employees engaged at work on the Panama canal for five years to come. Of it he says:

"It isn't any $50,000,000 contract to feed 50,000 men, as the newspapers have indicated. The contract, as a matter of fact, will amount to from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000 a year for five years, and the maximum number of men that will ever be employed, in my judgment, will be from 15,000 to 20,000.

"This is all about about there being any unfairness in the award of contracts. The specifications for bidding were open to the public, and everybody had the right to bid. The facts are that not one of the other firms bidding had sent men to the isthmus, and knew the conditions there. I was first invited to go there by Mr. Wallace last March and was studying conditions at the time when he left. I kept watch of things and continued my investigations until they got straightened again, and found out what they wanted.

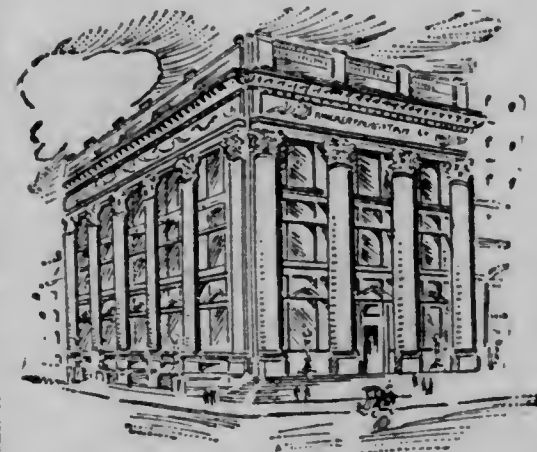

"What the commission wanted was and what we are going to furnish is a system of substantial meals at reasonable prices, so that the employees on the canal can afford to buy them, and be in condition to return to the commission in labor the worth of their wages. For instance, the Jamaica negroes now about 4,000, employed at the canal, are scattered along in camps from one to two miles apart, there being thirty along the forty-seven miles of canal. These will have from 200 to 300 negroes to the camp. These camps consist of houses built especially for the purpose and thoroughly sanitized. There are strict rules for keeping them clean; the negroes have to have everything cleaned up by a certain hour every day; the houses are thoroughly scrubbed once a week, and fumigated every two weeks. They have comfortable canvas beds, and on the isthmus, is sugar cane and bananas and such stuff, and a man can't stand up and do a hard day's work on such diet, and give back the value of his wages. Eggs are 10 cents apiece, salt fish 40 cents a pound, fresh meat from 50 cents to $1 a pound, and everything in proportion. Now we are going to offer them three meals a day, with coffee, bread and meat for breakfast; coffee, bread, fish, two kinds of vegetables and pie or pudding for dinner, and much the same for supper, at 45 cents per day, or $14 per month. In addition, we will have a place at each camp where we will sell the cooked foods in bulk to the men with families who want to take them home, or to the men who live in clubs and do their own cooking, or part of it, and want to buy some more cooked stuff. There is no compulsion about buying from the men can buy wherever they please, but I agree with the commission to have the food there to offer to the men at a reasonable price.

For the white men, of whom there are 1,500, and who will run up to 3,000 later on, we will run hotels. Two are now finished; three more are under construction, and the number will eventually increase to ten. We furnish their first-class board at $1 per day, and rooms at $5 per month each, making the total cost of living $36 per month each.

The Jamaican negroes get from $1.75 to $2.25 per day each, silver, which is equal to from 90 cents to $1.10 each gold, and no one gets less than $100, so their living is made comparatively cheap.

"I shall assemble all of my supplies at New York for shipment to the isthmus, my buying being done wherever I can do so at the best advantage. In fact a large part of it will probably be done right here in Omaha. The commission ships my stuff for me on refrigerated steamers at a rate that just covers the actual cost; it gives me cold storage room at Colon, also at a cost. Otherwise I give me facilities for doing business at cost, or just a little above. Practically everything will have to be shipped. There is also, lately nothing that can be bought on the isthmus. The natives are too lazy and worthless to raise anything. As the fish as I ever saw can be caught on the isthmus, but the natives never catch enough to amount to anything; of course, they have never known what it is to have a piece of ice to keep a fish, so that may have something to do with it. As it is now, their sugar cane and banana diet makes it impossible for them to do more than one day's hard work; and that gives them a dollar or so, and enables them to buy more rum, and all of the stuff that they need under present conditions for several days."

WOMAN IS POOR SHOPPER.

Danversport, Wash., Sept. 22.—W. D. Southard, attorney of Almhira, has been granted a decree of divorce. The case was not contested. Previous to appearing in court a division of the property was effected and the children are in custody of the father.

In the complaint it is set forth that Mrs. Southard was negligent in her household duties. The document states that she has no energy or taste to buy her own clothing and so her shopping. It is alleged that a servant was hired so that the housewife could move in the society of the town and properly care for her children, but that she failed to avail herself of these opportunities.

Among the unusual features of the case is a document filed by Mrs. Southard representing her own appearance.

CATTLE THIEVES

Take the Entire Herd of a Farmer in Pennsylvania.

Lancaster, Pa., Sept. 22.—Lancaster county appears to have become a center for a gang of thieves whose operations resemble those of the cattle rustlers of the Western plains. About two weeks ago a herd of steers was stolen from a state near Eden, but the rustlers had to abandon them after driving them twenty-five miles, the animals becoming exhausted.

Later a herd of nineteen was stolen from a state near Eden, but the rustlers had to abandon them after driving them twenty-five miles, the animals becoming exhausted.

WINS HORSE SUIT.

Gets Judgment For One Dollar and Gives Banquet.

Winfield, Ind., Sept. 22.—Adam Repp, one of the wealthiest farmers of Tipton county, has just given an elaborate dinner to all his neighbors and friends in celebration of his victory over W. C. Legg, another wealthy farmer.

The men have been in the courts for more than two years over a dead horse, the original price of which was $5. After paying out more than $1,000 each for attorney's fees, Repp, who claimed he had been swindled when he bought the horse, was awarded a verdict of $1.

Of course this carried the costs to his opponent. These amount to $1,432, consequently Legg's court expenses stand him at $2,432, or rather $2,433, for he must pay $1 to Repp.

ARKANSAS CAMPAIGN

Governor Davis Works Hard to Defeat Rogers as Successor.

Present Executive Aspires to Seat in United States Senate.

Little Rock, Ark., Sept. 22.—Arkansas is now in the throes of a political fight so bitter that at times it approaches closely on the grotesque. Mud-slinging, profanity, joint debates, charges and counter-charges are features at every political gathering which is being held in the state, and there is something doing all of the time in that line just now.

Governor "Jeff" Davis wants to be United States senator. Senator Berry wants to hold his present seat in congress.

Attorney General Rogers aspires to succeed Governor Davis as executive in Arkansas.

In the ordinary course of events it would be that Governor Davis would direct all of his attention towards defeating Senator Berry, but in this instance Governor Davis has made his fight against Rogers secondary to his desire to defeat Rogers as his successor in the gubernatorial chair.

Governor Davis and Attorney General Rogers are the bitterest of enemies. With offices in the state capital side by side, these two officials have spent a considerable part of their official career in heaping abuse on each other.

Governor Davis says that Gen. Rogers threatened to kill him. Gen. Rogers qualifies the statement by saying that he might have said he would "hurt" Governor Davis if the latter attempted to bring his family or personal affairs into the campaign.

"What do you think of a man who threatens to kill another as a candidate for governor of this state?" asked Governor Davis of an assembly at a recent political meeting.

"Look at me!" retorted Rogers from the same platform. "Do I look like a dangerous man? Search me and take the cannons from me."

Then he turned contemptuously to Governor Davis and said:

"Kill you! Why— I can take a corn-cob with a lightning bug on it and make you jump into the Arkansas river."

And, strange to say, Governor Davis, usually quick with retort and never famous for saying nothing, did not reply.

Thus the campaign is progressing. For every word Governor Davis says in favor of his candidacy for the United States senate, he speaks a dozen sentences against Attorney General Rogers as his successor for governor.

Meantime Senator Berry keeps aloof from the controversy and refuses to meet Governor Davis in joint debate.

"It is beneath my dignity to speak from the same platform as that man," says Senator Berry, when asked to speak with the erratic governor.

In spite of the fact that Senator Berry is the idol of the Arkansas Confederates, and that following is a powerful one in Arkansas, there are many who think that Berry will be defeated.

The political career of Governor Davis has been a succession of surprises, and his success in this campaign, which he is believed to have more against a personal enemy, who wishes a position which Davis is known to be unable to fill, than an ounce of brain tissue, lost during an attack of the skull, is a surprise to all who are acquainted with the political vicissitudes.

How Jeff Davis defeated Senator Jones for re-election to the United States senate, and was his election a surprise to all who are acquainted with the political vicissitudes.

Senator Jones had spoken against one of Governor Davis' many pet anti-trust measures and it was defeated.

"He pumped morphine into my old bill and I will defeat him for re-election," said the pugnacious Davis. People laughed, for Jones had all the money he wanted at his disposal and a tight grip on the machine. But Jones was defeated.

Governor Davis is hated, feared or mistrusted by a majority of the business men of the state and the church and social interests are appalled at some of his actions.

But up in the backwoods—the land of hogs and donkeys—the popularity is unbounded among the "woodchuckers" and they cut a big figure in Arkansas. With them his seat-padded chair is a royal raiment and his habit of receiving callers to the governor's chambers without wearing shoes is a habit far more to be commended than the manners of the best-trained diplomat.

The wholesale pardoning of convicts by Governor Davis has been a matter of much unfavorable comment on the part of many in Arkansas, and it has been hinted that there were some bribery attached to some of the examples of executive clemency. But Jeff Davis scoffs at such accusations.

"They say I am bought," he said. "Last Christmas I got a carload of presents from people I had pardoned out of the penitentiary. I don't deny it. But do you know what those presents were?" and his voice took on that impressive, earnest tone which makes you wonder, sometimes, in spite of his scoffs, how he really is a demagogue. "Bacon," he said, tapping the table with an emphatic forefinger, "bacon—scowbells—beans, apples, sorghum—one man sent a dog, another a pet 'coon'—his eyes grew luminous and he went on for some time. 'Judge for yourself,' he concluded. 'Can these men bribe me? Would I look there for spoils?'

"They can vote, of course." The gray eyes grew sharp again and the snapping tongue was closed as he leaned back in the chair. "They can vote, I know that. And I know that they will vote for me. I pardoned their fathers and their sons and their brothers—but that was not the reason I pardoned them. They will ride in the rain for me—a favorite expression of the governor's when he refers to the hill people. I don't care anything about whether the storms blow or the sun shines on election day. My word haulers will be there and they will vote for me."

LONG VOYAGE FOR DRYDOCK

Navy Department Has Equipment For Philippines Built Here.

Washington, Sept. 22.—Arrangements are about completed for taking the biggest floating drydock in the world, weighing 11,000 tons, on its 15,000-mile journey from Solomons Island, in the Chesapeake bay to the Philippines. The work will be done by a large collier and a seagoing tug, the start to be made about the middle of October, when the weather is expected to be propitious.

As not more than 100 miles can be covered in a day, the journey will consume about five months. The collier will be connected with the dock by a line between 2,000 and 3,000 feet long, so that in a rough sea there will be no danger of the vessels smashing together. The line for half its length will be of wire cable and for the other half of manila hawser. In addition, there will be a towing machine on the collier.

Ordinarily the dock will be taken along with its body six to ten feet in the water. This will allow of greater speed, but should bad weather come on it can be submerged to draw twenty-eight feet or more of water, when, because of its great weight, it will be practically motionless and act as a huge anchor to the collier and tug. The one danger to be guarded against is that of the dock being blown on a lee shore. If that should happen it would probably be all up with this expensive piece of work.

FARMER KILLS HIMSELF.

Man Prefers Hanging to Trial For Adulterating Milk.

Reading, Pa., Sept. 22.—Cyrus Becker, aged 45, a wealthy farmer and drover of Bern township, committed suicide, by hanging himself in his barn. It is believed that fear of prosecution for the alleged adulterating of his milk was the cause. Joseph Hassler, a milkman, who was recently arrested on the state pure food department, led to the deed.

He had been subpoenaed to appear at a hearing in the office of Alderman Sandt. Becker's son was directed, when he delivered milk to Hassler in Reading, to tell his father to come to the hearing.

The son went home and told him at 8:30. At 9 he found his father's body hanging in the barn.

A hired man of Becker, it is said, will testify he saw the latter witness the milk.

This is the second suicide from pure food prosecutions. Two years ago a farmer in Rush valley took his life by hanging himself when accused of selling milk adulterated with formaldehyde.

ONLY ONE SURVIVED.

African Jungles Fatal to American Railroad Bridge Engineers.

Mobile, Ala., Sept. 22.—William Hillburn, a former resident of this city, has arrived here after three adventurous years spent in the wilds of Africa, with sixteen others, in response to glowing offers by agents of a construction company, building the Cape to Cairo railroad. Hillburn was the only one of the sixteen to return alive.

Hillburn and his fifteen companions accepted terms under which the railroad engineers and forest builders. They left Pennsylvania, Pa., February 22, under a promise of big wages and other flattering inducements.

For the Zambesi river district, north of the Transvaal, where the Cape to Cairo railroad was under construction.

In due time they arrived. At this time Hillburn states that their hardships began. What was expected to be a scene of activity and wealth turned out to be a desolate railroad camp in the jungle.

KEEPS SENSES, BRAIN CUT AWAY

Child Recovers Health After Loss of Gray Matter.

New York, Sept. 22.—When Mary Gaffney, years of age, was taken to Flower hospital, neither she nor her parents knew that she was minus more than an ounce of brain tissue, lost during an operation performed by the skilled surgeons of that institution. She has recovered without the loss of a single faculty.

When taken to the hospital Aug. 20, Mary was believed to be beyond the aid of surgery. Her injury was diagnosed as compound fracture of the skull. Dr. Dominick, the house surgeon, and Dr. Gericke, the skull surgeon, had removed the wound and a portion weighing nearly two ounces was mutilated.

For the Little Ones

To Keep Their Digestion Perfect Nothing is so Safe and Pleasant as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets

Thousands of men and women have found Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets the safest and most reliable preparation for any form of indigestion or stomach trouble.

Thousands of people who are not sick, but are well and wish to keep well, take Stuart's Tablets after every meal to insure perfect digestion and avoid trouble.

But it is not generally known that the Tablets are just as good and wholesome for little folks as for their elders.

Little children who are pale, thin and have no appetite or not gain or thrive should use the Tablets after eating and will derive great benefit from them.

Mrs. G. A. Croisier, 228 Washington St., Hoboken, New Jersey, writes: "Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets just fill the bill for children as well as for older folks. I've had the best of luck with them. My three-year-old girl takes them as readily as candy. I have only to say 'Tablets' and she drops everything else and runs for them."

A Buffalo mother, a short time ago, who despaired of the life of her babe, was so delighted with the results from giving the child these Tablets that she went before a notary public of Erie Co., N. Y., and made the following affidavit:

Gentlemen: Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets were recommended to me for my two-month-old baby, which was sick and puny and the doctor said was suffering from indigestion. I took the child to the hospital, but there found no relief. A friend mentioned the Stuart Tablets and I procured a box from my druggist and used only the large sweet lozenges in the box and was delighted to find they were just the thing for my baby. I feel justified in saying that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets saved my child's life.

Mrs. W. T. DETLOPE.

Notary Public in and for Erie Co., N. Y.

For babies, no matter how young or delicate, the tablets will accomplish wonders in increasing flesh, appetite and growth. Use only the large sweet tablets in every box. Full-sized boxes are sold by all druggists for 50 cents, and no parent should neglect the use of this safe remedy for all stomach and bowel troubles if the child is suffering in any way regarding its food or assimilation.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been known for years as the best preparation for all stomach troubles whether in adults or infants.

North Dakota Sentiment Not Against Minnesota Grain Inspection.

Gov. Sarles Says Competition Is Wanted In Inspection Matters.

In view of the fact that certain Superior interests are free in their claims that North Dakota farmers and residents of the state generally are in favor of Wisconsin grain inspection, and opposed to Minnesota inspection, views relative to the matter, as expressed by Governor E. T. Sarles of North Dakota, who is in the city today, are of interest. The governor says North Dakota favors neither inspection, but wants them both. "I am hardly in a position to make a positive assertion as to the general sentiment of the people of my state regarding this subject," said Governor Sarles, "but, from what I have seen and heard, I do not believe the parties interested favor one inspection more than the other. They want both Wisconsin and Minnesota inspection. They are of the opinion that competition in the matter will yield them better results. "This inspection is just like any other business matter. If there were only one inspecting institution in the state, in a state, the business men here would be in favor of the establishment of another

WHERE ARE LAND MEN?

Seekers Scarce During This Fine Indian Summer Weather.

Many Came When the Rain Was Most Plentiful.

"This is great weather for showing our Northern lands to prospective buyers, but unfortunately they are not coming up just now," said W. O. Kinsman of the land department of the Duluth & Iron Range road this morning. "It does seem sometimes as if fate plotted against the progress of the country, but those of us who are here can certainly enjoy this Indian summer. Very often it happens that the days are great until a land seeker arrives to be shown over some range property, and then it begins to rain and it is necessary to drive through roads that are actual rivers of mud to get to the land.

"Of course when your land seeker arrives on the ground he is wet and the gloomy weather does not leave a favorable impression on him. The land is shown at a disadvantage and maybe he returns to his home in Iowa or Illinois declaring that there is just as much disagreeable weather in this part of Minnesota as in his own neighborhood.

"The chances are that as soon as he is gone, the sun comes out and dries everything up nicely. It does not always happen that it rains when the prospective buyer arrives, however, and some of them are well impressed even if some rain does fall. Wet weather has been a very depressing effect on any business, however.

"This is really the best time of the year to show lands. The weather will probably be like this for a month more and many men will be interested in the richness of the range country before the cold days come in earnest. Although there is a rainy season, it is just at present, business will live up a bit in the course of a week or two. It has been pretty brisk up to this week."

MEETS VIOLENT DEATH.

August Rue, State Charge, Strangles to Death at Fairbault.

Fairbault, Minn., Sept. 22.—August Rue, an epileptic patient from the state school for the feeble-minded, was found dead by his attendants and became lost. At 3 a. m., as the watchman for the school for the deaf was making his rounds, he found a man huddled in a corner of a stairway. The stranger said he was on his way to the cottage, and it being cold and rainy, the watchman let him remain.

About 7 o'clock the man was found dead back of the industrial building. He had attempted to climb some stairs, fallen and broken the banisters. His head became lodged between the lower step and the door, in which position he strangled to death. Coroner Ray was notified, but no inquest was thought necessary. The man was 48.

GIRL KILLS HERSELF

Because She Was Falsely Accused of Theft at Minneapolis.

Minneapolis, Sept. 22.—An unjust accusation of theft is responsible for Ella Kent's death. The girl was arrested and taken into the police court Wednesday morning charged with stealing a red waist and mirror and a hairbrush from a department store.

The evidence was meager and the case was continued until yesterday. But the disgrace of the accusation preyed upon the girl's mind. When she finished her work as a waitress at the Minnesota restaurant, she did not go to her room. Shortly afterward people on the Central avenue bridge were astonished to see a girl walking from the east into the Mississippi river. She walked until the water was about four feet deep, then leaped over until her head was under water. Then the current carried her away.

While the search for her body was being carried on the police court was deeming that she was innocent of the crime charged against her, the police having become satisfied that the girl was not guilty of stealing.

Miss Kent's parents reside at Okato, Minn. The girl came to Minneapolis two years ago and bore an excellent reputation.

CARBOLIC ACID ROUTE

Taken By Ben Comstock After Prolonged Spree and Violence.

Threatens to Kill Wife But Prevented From Doing So.

Then he showed the patrolman his tongue, and said: "Well, I've done it. Send for the children."

He went into the bedroom and lay down. After bidding his wife good-bye, without a word of regret for his act he layed into unconsciousness, and in a very short time breathed his last. As soon as he had announced that he had taken poison, Drs. Fayette and Keyes were summoned, but they could do nothing for the man. At the Reliance pharmacy it was said that Comstock bought two ounces of carbolic acid. The doctors suppose he took it all. The bottle has not yet been found.

Last night he bought the knife with which he chased his wife out of the house at F. H. Walcott's hardware store. Comstock and his family came from Fergus Falls last June. His parents and most of his relatives live there, and it is said that one of his brothers is engaged in newspaper work at that place. He comes of very respectable people, and a brother, David, who lives in West Duluth, and is employed by the gas company laying pipes, is a highly respected man.

FRANK BRADLEY DEAD

Former West Duluthian Passes Away In St. Paul Hospital.

News has been received in West Duluth that Frank Bradley, formerly in the grocery and feed business here, died yesterday noon. In St. Luke's hospital in St. Paul where he was operated on for gall stone. Mr. Bradley moved from here a year ago last November and for a time lived in Minneapolis, then removing to Hudson, Wis., where he engaged in business. He was taken sick a short time ago and removed to St. Paul to be operated on, which was done last Sunday and he seemed to be getting well. His death comes as a great shock to his family and friends. He was well known and very popular in West Duluth having lived here for about twelve years. He was about 45 years of age and leaves a wife and three sons.

MUST HAVE LICENSES

Sale of Liquor in Patent Medicines Is Given Body Blow.

Country Storekeepers May Be Classed as Blind Pig Keepers.

A recent ruling of the commissioner of internal revenue relative to the sale of patent medicines composed largely of distilled liquors, is likely to have an important effect on the northern district of Minnesota in a general way and the district about Duluth and in St. Louis county more specifically.

Reversing a ruling of his department rendered a few years ago, the commissioner now declares that the makers of patent medicines containing a large amount of distilled liquors in their composition must take out licenses for the reason that the most of them are engaged in the business are already provided with a license.

If the drugists or the persons dealing in the sale of the patent medicines at retail are compelled to take out a regular liquor dealer's license, it is alleged that a great hardship will be worked through the ruling, that is, if the dealer intends to sell the patent medicines which come under the commissioner's ruling. It is claimed that it will either mean the giving up of the license fee in the city and villages, by the drugists, or else they must refuse to sell the goods on which the internal revenue commissioner practically places a ban.

In the country places, particularly in the outlying places where the storekeepers carry a general stock of goods for the settlers and the camps, including articles from a medicine to a bottle of patent cough syrup, the restriction made by the internal revenue department will be felt the most. The ruling means that the sale of patent medicines containing distilled liquors by such storekeepers is prohibitive, unless he has a liquor license, under penalty of being arrested and convicted of running a blind pig.

There have been several instances in the past several years where proprietors of small stores in the outlying settlements or in proximity to the camps have been arrested and brought into court on the charge of selling liquor under the name of a patent medicine. It has, under the laws, been a difficult matter, in most instances, for the state to get a conviction, but under the recent ruling of the commissioner of internal revenue the authorities can proceed to prosecute with a degree of certainty that they will get a conviction.

It has been a matter of general knowledge in this section of the country that a large item in the camp supplies furnished during the winter seasons have been patent medicines containing a large percentage of alcohol or other liquors. It is not that the patent medicines are sold in camp, but they either would not or did not care to take out a license. The medicines said to contain a great deal of liquor. Wooden boxes containing these medicines in large quantities and consume them to such an extent that they have acquired a flag, the effects of which have usually been more disastrous than if they had consumed clear liquor, by reason of the other ingredients in the medicine.

It is understood that the ruling of the commissioner of internal revenue will also bring the logging contractors to a halt regarding supplying their men with the patent medicines that are alleged to contain distilled liquors in any appreciable degree. Steps are being taken by the state authorities to watch the matter very carefully the coming winter, and it is probable that in case there are any infractions of the commissioner's ruling, prosecutions will result under the charge of selling liquor without a license.

RED RIVER FLAX STRAW

May Be Converted Into Tow For Eastern Linen Mills.

Crookston, Minn., Sept. 22.—(Special to The Herald).—Mills for the conversion of flax straw into tow for use in the large linen factories of the Eastern states, to the number of an even dozen, may be erected throughout the Red River valley this year. If the plans of H. H. Hubert, a prominent St. Paul capitalist and real estate man, carry successfully.

Mr. Hubert, who spent yesterday in the city, believes that the salvage of the waste flax straw throughout the flax growing belt of Northern Minnesota will bring returns upon an investment such as will be second only to a bonanza gold mine. The flax straw, when properly treated and converted into tow, commands a price of nearly $100 per ton, according to Mr. Hubert, and the erection of several large tow mills in the flax growing centers of this section would convert an enormous amount of waste product into cold hard cash.

Plans are under way for the formation of a company capitalized at several hundred thousand dollars and backed by influential men of this section, as well as capitalists from Southern Minnesota and Iowa, who have become interested in the project.

PAT CROWE'S OWN STORY

Of His Wanderings Related to an Editor in Nebraska.

"I've Lived Fifty Years in Last Five," He Declared.

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 22.—Here is the true story of Pat Crowe's interview with Richard L. Metcalfe, associate editor of Bryan's paper, on night last week.

First brandishing a revolver, then demanding money and silence, Crowe marched into the private office of Metcalfe and snapped the lock of the door behind him.

"Hello, Metcalfe!"

"This was Crowe's gruff mode of introduction."

"Do you know me?"

Metcalfe wheeled in his chair, viewed the rugged figure which confronted him and glanced momentarily at the weapon the intruder carried. But, although the story books would have had it the other way, he did not lose his nerve.

"Yes," said Metcalfe, "You're Pat Crowe."

Fifteen years ago, when Metcalfe was police reporter on an Omaha newspaper, he had seen Crowe arrested as an offender in police court, and the recognition was almost instantaneous, despite the furrows of the brow of the fugitive kidnaper and the haggardness of his countenance.

"You're right, I'm Crowe. Say, Met, I'm mighty hungry. We used to be acquainted and I mean you no harm, but I must have money or I'll starve. Let me have it and I'll put away the gun."

Metcalfe pleaded that he had only some small change in his pockets, but this he gave up willingly, and Crowe appeared satisfied. Metcalfe then expected that his visitor would go, but Crowe, without invitation, seated himself, glanced at the door to assure himself that it was locked, and told the editor of his wanderings.

"I wish you wouldn't think, Metcalfe, that I'm back as bad as they have made me out. I helped get away with the Cuddey boy, but there were others in all the swag I got only $250. They've hunted me high and low, but they've never got me unless I make up my mind to give myself up. But I'll never squeal on the other fellows who were in on the job, although I was ejected out of the money as deliberately as was Cuddey."

"It has been only five years since I helped turn the Cuddey trick, but I've lived since then. I've been in Europe, Africa and South America. Worked as a trapper, a prospector, a hunter, a detective, scores of times close on my trail, but fooled 'em every time. Once at Johannesburg, the longest for home was so strong that I worked for months under my right name. Actually, I wanted to be caught, but the blundering detectives didn't land me. Finally I found out that Cuddey had withdrawn his reward and I came back with the first steamer from the Cape, working my way on the boat."

"I'm not sorry a little bit because of the kidnapping, for Cuddey is so rich he didn't even feel the loss of the money. I sometimes think I did wrong, for Cuddey had been my friend and more than once helped me in trouble."

"I've been in Omaha dozens of times since I came back from Africa, but the police didn't know it. It's easy to fool the police for now. I sometimes think I did wrong, for Cuddey had been my friend and more than once helped me in trouble."

"I'm mighty thankful for this money, with you, but if you please on me, I couldn't very well forget it, and I wouldn't want to make you any trouble for the money."

Crowe shuffled out as noiselessly as he came. The first impulse of the bewildered Metcalfe was to summon the police, but Crowe's bluff appeal did not meet an unsympathetic response, and the editor decided to wait until the next day before he informed the authorities of Crowe's visit.

A search of every resort in Lincoln where Crowe might have taken refuge was speedily inaugurated, but the kidnaper could not be located. A day later a rural mail carrier brought to the police the information that he had encountered a tramp in the country near his way out of town. His description tallied minutely with that of the kidnaper, but the mail carrier, who had read in the newspapers the evening paper of the kidnapping, did not confront Metcalfe, made no effort to stay Crowe's steps. The clerk came too late to be of any avail to the authorities and they gave up the chase.

UNITED STATES STEEL COMPANY

Net Earnings For the Quarter Estimated at About $31,000,000.

New York, Sept. 22.—Conservative estimates of the net earnings of the United States Steel corporation for the quarter ending Sept. 30 are from $31,000,000 to $33,000,000, and for the year of 1905, $114,000,000 to $115,000,000. That the earnings for the quarter soon to end will not be greater is what the majority of the plants to fill the orders on the books. The earnings for the second quarter of the year were $30,200,896, and those for the last quarter are estimated at not more than that, for the reason that December is usually a comparatively poor month, because of the evening-up process at the year's end. It is said that some large orders may be unfilled by Dec. 31, on which date the contracts will expire. Estimating this quarter's earnings at $31,000,000, the total for the three-quarters of the year is $84,831,012. During the present quarter the movement of iron and steel products has been heavy, and shipments during October and November also will be large. It is the opinion of those best qualified to judge that the unfilled orders Sept. 30 will be larger than the record total of 5,597,550 tons, March 31 of this year. The total June 30 was 4,829,655 tons, which was a decrease of 767,995 from that at the end of the first quarter.

JOHN BROWN'S SPRING.

Doubt as to Its Existence Is Cleared By Pioneer.

Cedarville, Kas., Sept. 22.—That John Brown owned a spring in Kansas there is no doubt in the mind of J. H. Moody of this place on the last day of last month.

Mr. Moody had lived in Kansas fifty years. He came to Kansas Aug. 31, 1855, and settled on a claim fifteen miles south and two miles east of Lawrence. Joining his claim on the west, John Brown had taken up a piece of land. On Brown's land, Mr. Moody says, was one of the best springs of water ever drunk from. Brown had settled on this land in the summer of '55 and '57, after which he went to Harper's Ferry.

John Brown was the first man Moody quarreled and Moody shot at Brown, which he did not tell anybody. He said Moody's land and cut a lot of rails, at which Moody protested and Moody shot at Brown, which he did not tell anybody. He said Moody's land and cut a lot of rails, at which Moody protested and Moody shot at Brown, which he did not tell anybody.

Moody prevented him from shooting at Brown the second time. Moody was with Brown when he took a band of border ruffian prisoners at Cowater.

THE STRANGE DEPARTURE

Of Rev. Wallace Stucky Stirs His Indiana Congregation.

When Far Away, Sends Word He Will Never Return.

New Albany, Ind., Sept. 22.—The little town of Silver Grove, a prosperous suburb of New Albany, is excited over the strange disappearance of Rev. Wallace N. Stucky, pastor of the Advent Christian church, in that suburb, who departed without leaving any explanation for his wife, their four little children and his congregation.

A meeting of the choir of his church had been held early in the evening at the parsonage and, after the young women and men went away, Mrs. Stucky says her husband began the work of preparing his sermons for the following Sunday. She awoke at 10 o'clock, but awoke at midnight. She glanced through the open door and observed the light shining from the lamp in her husband's study. Supposing him to be still engaged at his work, she again went to sleep and awakened at 2 o'clock, when she arose for the purpose of persuading him to cease work for the night.

Upon entering the study she found it vacant, with two sermons lying on the table beside the minister's Bible and the cuffs he had removed when he began work. Beside the typewritten sermons were the announcements for the following Sunday, also typewritten. Upon searching the house, Mrs. Stucky found that her husband had taken with him his flock coat, which he usually wore in the pulpit. No other clothing had been taken not even a change of linen.

Mrs. Stucky said nothing about her husband's disappearance during the day following until late in the evening, when she received a note from him mailed at Aurora, Ind., reciting, in substance, that he would take care of the children, and telling her to send his clothing to his brother, Walter, in Kansas City, Kan. If she wished, and advising her to tell his typewriter and books, as he would have no further use for them, and convert the money arising from the sale to her own use.

She notified the members of the congregation of her husband's disappearance, and it was believed by his wife and members of the church that he had wandered away while suffering from worry caused by overwork. He had but recently returned from Mendota, Ill., where he conducted the music at the big Adventist camp meeting in addition to his services daily.

Returning home, he was equally as active in the service of his own congregation, besides assisting in meetings in the neighboring cities of Jeffersonville and in the outlying churches of Clarksville and Ellettsburg.

He was called to the pastorate of the Advent Christian church in Silver Grove a year ago, and such were his powers as a minister and his wife and daughter predicted a great future for him. During his residence in Silver Grove his conduct and deportment were exemplary. The whole town is astounded at his action.

Nothing was heard from him, however, until the Wednesday night of the following week, six days after he departed, when a special delivery letter was received by Mrs. Stucky from her mother-in-law, Mrs. Mary Stucky, 137 North Sixteenth street, Kansas City, Kan. The communication brought the first message of hope to the distressed wife. It recited "Wallace is here. Dry your tears, hope everything will come out all right. Tell Ethel that is here."

The Ethel referred to was the oldest child of the minister, his constant companion to whom he was tenderly attached.

Friday night of last week Mrs. Stucky sent in a letter from her husband enclosing $10, all the money he had, he said, and extending to her words of encouragement and hopes of future happiness. A promise was also made to send for the family as soon as he could raise the money. He stated in the letter that he would never return to Silver Grove, and asked her to secure another pastor.

As soon as they learned of the letter the members of the church, with a few minutes' delay, the money with which to defray the transportation expenses of the family from New Albany to Kansas City, was sent to the wife and four children—the oldest 14 years old, and the youngest 6 months—were placed on the west-bound passenger train of the Southern railway and sent on their way to join the husband and other.

Mr. Stucky had a varied career, although but 35 years old. Fifteen years ago he was married to Miss Violet Tool in Lamar county, Tex. At that time he was publishing a weekly newspaper and had held various positions in the daily newspapers of Kansas, being an expert compositor. He had worked as reporter on Kansas City papers and had made quite a local reputation as a pleasing writer.

After his marriage he entered the ministry and while engaged in that work taught himself stenography and typewriting, becoming expert at both. He was called to the pastorate of the Advent Christian church in Silver Grove a year ago, and such were his powers as a minister and his wife and daughter predicted a great future for him. During his residence in Silver Grove his conduct and deportment were exemplary. The whole town is astounded at his action.

Five Years in Prison.

Four Women Coiners Are Severely Punished In France.

Paris, Sept. 22.—The Spanish coiners, one man and four women, have been tried in the Paris assize court for uttering spurious money. They are Manuel Caudet, aged 30; his mother, who is over 60; the widow Fernandez, the widow Marco, a blind woman, and his daughter, Eva. These people were engaged in coining French and Spanish silver coins in Barcelona. In Paris they succeeded in passing off a good many spurious 1 and 2 franc pieces on shopkeepers. Manuel Caudet and his mother were first arrested, and they agreed to inform on their accomplices. The woman Caudet had come to France with 1,500 1-franc pieces, which she had to show at Marseilles, but the customs men there made no trouble, and let her start for Paris, thinking that she was an eccentric old person who carried her money about with her in small coins. At the trial, Manuel Caudet and his mother were condemned to imprisonment for two years. The blind widow Marco was discharged, but her daughter, Eva, goes to prison for five years, the woman Fernandez receiving the same sentence.

In 1895 Boston society was astonished by the announcement that the millionaire and his wife, who was 22 years old, had married his cook.

Five years later Mr. Bates died, leaving his fortune of $8,000,000 to his widow. Her first act on obtaining control of this vast wealth was to return to Ireland and seek out an old sweetheart, to whom she had pledged her troth before emigrating to America. She found, however, that he, too, had married, and then, taking her sister, Kathleen, as a companion, she started on a trip around the world.

She met Capt. Fitzroy at Bermuda, and the marriage, which took place on Aug. 17, followed.

It is said that after her first husband's death, Mrs. Bates was dated with offers of marriage. Men of wealth and position begged her to marry them, and not for her wealth alone, for it is said that the young widow retained much of the beauty which attracted her millionaire husband.

BAD BLOOD INVITES DISEASE

The blood supplies nourishment and strength to every part of the body when it is rich, pure and healthy. When from any cause it becomes diseased or weak it cannot supply the nutrient the system needs, and the body is unable to resist the diseases and troubles that are constantly assailing it to break down the health.

I have used S. S. S. and found it to be an excellent blood purifier and tonic. My blood was weak and impure, and as a result my system became very much run down and debilitated. I lost twenty or more pounds in weight, had no appetite and was in bad shape. Seeing S. S. S. advertised I began its use, and am well pleased with the results after using it for some little while. My system and general health have been wonderfully built up, and I do not hesitate to give S. S. S. the credit for it. H. MARTIN, Warren, O., 60 Second St.

Rheumatism, Skin Diseases, Scrofula, Catarrh, Old Sores, Malaria, Contagious Blood Poison, etc., are the results of bad or diseased blood, and until this vital fluid is cleansed and made pure, strong and healthy, these diseases will continue. The greatest of all blood purifiers and tonics is S. S. S. It has been curing all diseases of the blood for more than forty years by going down to the very root of the trouble, forcing out all poisons and impurities and building up every part of the system by its fine tonic effect. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism, Skin Diseases, Scrofula, Catarrh, Old Sores, Malaria, Contagious Blood Poison, etc., and all other blood troubles, and cures them permanently. S. S. S. is the acknowledged king of blood purifiers and the greatest of all tonics. Books on the different diseases, and any medical advice you may wish will be given without charge. THE FAMILY BIBLE

Will Help a Kentucky Veteran to Secure a Pension.

Jeffersonville, Ind., Sept. 22.—Isaac M. Koons, a wealthy farmer of Utica township, Clark county, Ind., has filed the family Bible, which is more than 100 years old, to establish the fact that he was more than 70 years old and entitled to an increase of pension under the act of June 7, 1890, which provides for an increase for all veterans who have attained that age. The book was filed in Magistrate J. J. Ferguson's court in Jeffersonville.

Koons was a member of Company 12, Fourth Indiana cavalry, and enlisted in 1862, serving until the end of the war. In time, he applied for a pension, and it was granted, and he has been drawing an allowance ever since. When he learned he was entitled to an increase he filed a new application and was notified that the pension record showed he was 25 years old when he enlisted in 1862, which would make him but 64 at this time.

A blank was sent back to Koons notifying him of the fact and telling him that if he could show by a family Bible that he was 27 instead of 25 in 1862, he could go before some one with the book and have a certified copy of the record made. This he did yesterday, and the old Bible shows that Koons was born in 1835. The affidavit was made by Magistrate Ferguson and forwarded to Washington last night.

ROMANTIC STORY

Of Rich Yankee Widow's Marriage to An Englishman.

London, Sept. 22.—A romantic story of real life has just come to light as a consequence of the marriage of Mrs. J. B. Bates, widow of an American millionaire, to Capt. Henry F. Fitzroy, described as late of the British cruiser Charybdis.

Mrs. Bates was born in Cloyne, County Monaghan, in humble circumstances. She emigrated to America thirteen years ago and obtained a situation as cook in the house of John D. Bates in Commonwealth avenue, the most aristocratic part of Boston. In 1895 Boston society was astonished by the announcement that the millionaire and his wife, who was 22 years old, had married his cook.

Five years later Mr. Bates died, leaving his fortune of $8,000,000 to his widow. ## SALMON CATCH WAS NOT LARGE

But Canadian Fishermen Excelled Those of the United States.

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 22.—Reports of the catch of salmon on the Pacific coast say that for the first time since 1896 were placed in United States waters the Canadian canners have beaten the Sound canners.

One million cases, in round figures, is the reported catch by Canadians, and the United States canners can only report 700,000 cases.

A Canadian government expert, J. P. Babcock, who has been to Canada from California, has given as a reason for this the low water in the Fraser river, which caused the fish to fight shy of the region where the United States traps are situated.

A new system is to be tried to make the British Columbia fisheries more effective. The trouble has been in the past that not enough breeding sockeyes have come up the river.

This has been the quadrennial year, but, although the run has been large it has not compared with those of 1897 and 1901, a proof that overfishing is causing a diminution of the salmon supply.

RETURN PART OF THE SPOILS

Only One-Half of Victim's Money Taken By Robbers.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 22.—Four highwaymen who do not seem to be of the kind that infest Louisville, met Joseph Lincoln Crum of Seaboard, Ind., on the streets of Jeffersonville one night and relieved him of exactly one-half of his money.

To show that they were "on the level," as they expressed it, the robbers first cleaned Mr. Crum's pockets down to their small change, and then, counting out half of their booty, returned it to their victim with the hope that it might be sufficient to tide him over until he could reach home.

Crum came to Jeffersonville with $60 in three $20 bills, and some change. He went to a dentist and had some work done on his teeth, and later spent some time in various sections of Jeffersonville.

Crum did not return home, as the shades of evening fell, and consequently he was discovered by the thugs at just the proper spot and in the proper density of shadow for their operations. They accosted him in a friendly fashion, and firmly, but with some traces of politeness told him that they wanted his money. Mr. Crum counted them hurriedly and realized that resistance would be of no avail.

Then they dug deep into his pockets and turned out $44.20. He passed it all over to the ruffians, and then asked if he might go home. One of the men who was counting the money, replied: "Not yet; there's something coming to you. We are not plain highwaymen. We believe in share-and-share-alike. We'd give you back half of your money if we had change for this $20 bill."

Mr. Crum said he would go and get it changed, but the robbers would not agree to this. Finally the spokesman left with the money, but returned in fifteen minutes, and gave Mr. Crum $22.10, exactly one-half of the money they had taken from him.

"You can't talk about us when we're gone," was the parting word of the leader of the band.

However, Mr. Crum did talk about them, and gave a description of them to Officer Tom Staples, whom he met a short time later on the street. The officer said that he had heard of many unique hold-ups, but that this case was the first on record where the highwaymen made change for the victim in order to make an even break.

DOGS IN BRONZE.

Sculptors Hired to Make Models of Pet Canines.

New York, Sept. 22.—To perpetuate the memories of their pets, long after they have passed to that vague realm known as dog heaven, members of the fashionable set are having their dogs molded in bronze statues. The vogue has spread so rapidly that there is a still hunt for sculptors who will sell their talent for dog gold.

Always alert to the new fads, Mrs. Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt has gone in to the dog-statue business. In dead earnest, "Gypo," her favorite prize-winning bulldog, is giving daily sittings to a clever sculptor, who has been commissioned to reproduce him in bronze.

Those who saw the first sitting relate how "Gypo," upon spying the image of himself being cast into rough clay, leaped at it and tore it in a hundred pieces. The dog was chained, and an attendant was called in to attract its attention with some meat while the artist hurriedly modeled the dog. At the second sitting "Gypo" behaved more in keeping with his station, and the sculptor was able to make headway.

The dictum now is: "If you want to read well, have your dog in bronze." Impossible to foresee an accident. Not impossible to be prepared for it. Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Monarch over pain.

RED CEDAR BRAKE

From Pledger, Texas, Is Sent All Over the World.

Pledger, Tex., Sept. 22.—It is not generally known, even by many people living in our coast country, that a considerable quantity of red cedar is shipped from this section to Germany to be used in the manufacture of lead pencils.

Through the southeastern part of Wharton county, the eastern portion of Matagorda and the western portion of Brazoria counties, extends an immense red cedar brake, that covers 60,000 acres, though the largest of the timber has been pretty well cut.

According to Judge J. C. Barbee of Wharton, there are cedar logs to be found in this forest which are still perfectly sound, and which have lain upon the ground since the storms of 1854 and 1875. At one time, previous to the building of the Caney Valley railroad, he said, much of this valuable timber used to be rafted down Old Caney and other streams into Matagorda bay, where vessels received and transported it to its destination.

At this time piles of this cedar for piling, telephone and telegraph poles can be seen on the yard at this way station. At one time there was $75,000 worth of cedar lying on this yard awaiting shipment.

The pencil timber is made from the ends sawed off in squaring and reduced to the logs to the proper length. Before its exportation to Germany it is cut into pencil strips and shipped in small packages.

It requires a growth of from ten to twenty years to produce a marketable cedar, according to the purposes for which it is to be used.

This brake furnished fine cover for game, and a pack of well trained dogs heard through the lovers of the chase can find their "ideal hunting grounds." Many an old hunter has traced the steps of his death in this extensive cedar brake.

ARE YOU ENGAGED? Engaged people should remember, that a marriage ceremony can be annulled by keeping the bride in good condition with Electric Bitters. R. C. Brown, of Bonnetville, R. C. says: "For years, my wife suffered intensely from nervous prostration, and I was a tired, worn-out man. I tried Electric Bitters, which helped her at once, and finally made her entirely well. She is now strong and healthy." All druggists sell and guarantee them, at 50c a bottle.

That Restores His Sight, After Twelve Years of Persuasion.

Man Sees Again After Being In Darkness Fifteen Years.

Michigan City, Ind., Sept. 22.—It is seldom indeed that one experiences the sensation of having been born over again, and extremely rare is it that the experience comes to a man or woman who has passed the three-score milestone on life's roadway. But such is the experience of venerable Addison Phillips of Michigan City, Ind., who credits his rejuvenation to the thrust of a surgeon's knife—a thrust that raised the veil from his eyes and restored the sight that for more than fifteen years had been believed to have been buried in a suicide's grave.

The best answer that I can give to your question as to how I feel, he says, "is that I have been born over again. Phillips became blind when he was 50 years of age, and he has now, 15 years later, been restored to sight by a cataract growth over both eyes.

"When I first lost my sight," he says, "I became very despondent. I had in my despondency my thoughts naturally turned to suicide. But my wife would talk so cheerfully and so encouragingly to me, and would so tenderly and carefully attend to my wants, I decided never to leave it would be best to try to live after all.

When her husband's becoming blind, good Mrs. Phillips turned all her attention to her husband, and she made him just as happy as possible. With her arm linked in his, the good woman would lead him about the business portion of the city, describing the scenes that once were so familiar to him and announcing his friends as they approached.

Another man that displayed a Damon and Pythias-like friendship for the unfortunate blind man was "Squire C. T. Dibble, who, Phillips terms him in a 'pal of the past.'"

"Squire Dibble went to the rescue of his friend and was never too busy to give him time and attention to his welfare. It soon became a habit for the operation of the residents of the city to see the two old men wending their way about the city's streets.

In the course of time Phillips became so familiar with the lay of the streets that he was able to feel his way alone with the aid of a cane. He had, however, his grandchildren, little tots born after he became sightless, have been his guide.

He says that at that time his grandchildren interested him more than any else, for the reason that, although they were of his own flesh and blood, and constantly with him, he had never seen their faces.

At times he would sit for hours endeavoring to picture in his mind how they looked. In fact he studied them so closely with his sightless eyes that when one of them would approach him speak, he had a vision of his face, and which he has now learned was by no means correct and which when his sight was restored, made them seem almost strangers to him.

One Sunday night, three years after Phillips became blind, he bade his wife good-night and retired. As he did so he heard her say: "Tomorrow is Sunday and we will sleep a long time."

It was the last sleep for that night the Angel of Death visited her and took her away from her blind husband. After that his sorrow was doubled. It was unfortunate enough to be totally blind, but to be blind and have his wife taken away from him forever was almost unbearable.

It was then that Phillips first contemplated suicide, while in one of his despondent moods he confided his plan to his physician, Dr. Brown, who advised him to hold on before he decided to attempt suicide.

When he first became blind Phillips consulted many physicians, but they could give him little encouragement. Finally, however, one physician, Dr. Brown, interested himself in Phillips' case and advised an operation which he felt sure would restore his sight.

RURAL CARRIERS MAY SECEDE

Faction Bitterly Opposed to President Serving Another Year.

Indianapolis, Sept. 22.—At yesterday's session of the National Rural Letter Carriers' association, a motion to have President Cunningham retain his office for one year longer was carried by a large majority. As a result it is possible that about ten states will secede from the project will drop out and start a rival organization. It is stated that a committee has already been appointed by those who are opposed to Cunningham, to draw up a constitution for the proposed new body. The anti-Cunningham faction speaks guardedly of this matter at present, but the seceding young men in a peck-a-bow shirtwaist, who sadly misses the display of attention that her sweeping promenade down the business streets was wont to attract.

The young men have been prompt to recognize the ordinance, and in an effort to demonstrate their anxiety to comply with the letter and spirit of the ordinance, they have proceeded with the organization of the Goo Goo club. G. R. Schmidt is president.

When asked what had prompted the banding together of the young men, Mr. Schmidt of the G. G. club said: "Protection, protection to ourselves was what prompted the formation of what promises to be the most popular men's societies in the city."

"Under the goo-goo ordinance—and no man desires to break so wise and sagacious a measure, the young man is compelled to walk down Main street with his eyes glued to the sidewalk or turned up to the skies. It was to avoid this eye-strain and physical discomfort that we have organized."

"You may suggest that it would vary the monotony by taking a look into the shop windows. That would only invite trouble. All the big stores keep a lot of foxy wags in their windows, and a fellow might throw a goo-goo lamp at one of them and be in danger of arrest, or else the practice obtained by doing the goo-goo at the dummies might make a man involuntarily glance at a girl as she passed and it might cause trouble."

"No, the show window won't do as a means of resting the eyes, because the narrow entrance to the store is approached before one is aware, and you know how often you see some dashing dandy emerge from her shopping rounds; so it is the sidewalk or the blue sky for the eyes of the man who don't want to take chances on the goo-goo ordinance."

The badge of the Goo-Goo club man in good standing will be his blue goggles. The club has decreed that each of its members, when he appears upon streets that are frequented by women, shall at once don a pair of colored glasses.

FINES PROMPTLY PAID.

Schwarschild & Sulzberger Put Up $25,000 For Their Officials.

Chicago, Sept. 22.—The fines of four beef packers were promptly paid. A certified check in payment of the fines was quickly made out for $25,000 and signed by Max Sulzberger, and the four Schwarschild & Sulzberger officials stepped out of the court room free. District Attorney Morrison said later that he was perfectly satisfied with the matter as it stood. He said: "The results go to show that the government has an opening wedge in the rebate evil, and it is in a fair way to break it up."

From the sluggish drowsiness of summer we awake at autumn's call. Now the air is filled with signals and we recognize them all. And we snuff with vim and vigor at the woodland's whistling haze. For it's nippy in the mornings and a fellow lives these days.

It is also pertinent to ask what is the use of draining your muskeg swamp without good roads to reach them by? Good roads are useful and necessary everywhere—drainage only in spots, and even there it is useless unless it is upon good roads. Drainage is all right, but good roads will do far more towards building Northern Minnesota. It will not do to try to push one proposition at the cost of the other. If that is to be, drainage should be given the back seat.

SEASON IS ABOUT OVER

Peaches Will Not Be In the Market Much Longer.

Apple Crop a Failure—Grapes Are Quite Plentiful.

The peach season is rapidly nearing its close, and within the next week or ten days it will be brought to an end. The Michigan season was a short one, and the last consignments have been received on the market. The stock on hand is being rapidly disposed of, and after this week there will not be any more of the Michigan fruit to be secured.

Colorado and Utah have finished shipping the Elberta peaches, and saddle from the stock now in transit, no more will be received this year.

California Salway peaches are now the cheapest on the market. They are far from being up to the Elberta in quality, but the lower prices are due to the fact that the California fruit is dryer and lack the flavor of the Elberta, but keep well, and sell for a much lower price. They are not likely to last over next week, and by a week from Monday the peach season will probably be considered a thing of the past.

Bartlett pears are no longer in the market, but some late fall varieties are taking their place. Several consignments of Winter Nones pears from California have been received. The crop of this variety is very light this year. Some Kaiser variety pears have also been received, and there are some odd varieties on the market. The barrel pears are coming mainly from New York, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Ontario all report a crop of good apples, and the price of the standard varieties will doubtless rise very high this year.

Reports from the apple crop from all parts of the country, are to the effect that it is a very light crop. Some parts of the country will not have more than twenty-five per cent of last season's crop, and in some of the apple producing sections will there be more than half of last year's crop. New York, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Ontario all report a crop of good apples, and the price of the standard varieties will doubtless rise very high this year.

Practically all of the regular fall varieties are now on the market and the dealers have a wide choice to offer. Probably the choicest eating apples are the Illinois Jonathan, which are in the market in large quantities, and are growing. They are selling for 35 per barrel.

Some Northern Spies and Shaws from Missouri have been received and the old Arkansas Ben Davis is also on the market.

Several varieties of Wisconsin apples are also offered, including Hibernals, Longhairs and Redlands, which are ranging from 33 to 47 1/2 per barrel, according to the variety.

The crabapple crop throughout the Northwest is said to be practically a failure, and the supply will run very light.

Grapes are practically the only fruit that will be plentiful this year. California had only about half a crop. The apples are a partial failure. Oranges are scarce, and there is a famine in lemons. Cherries were also very scarce.

Michigan cherries are about the only fruit that is plentiful and cheap. Michigan cherries are about the only fruit that is plentiful and cheap.

The price was higher during the latter part of last week, and it is expected that the price will be higher during the latter part of this week.

The California grapes, such as Muscats, Malagas and Black Prince are scarce, and Malagas and Black Prince are scarce, and Malagas and Black Prince are scarce.

The severe storms on Cape Cod delayed the first shipments of cranberries, but they are now on the market and quoted at 75c, which was about the same figure quoted last year.

Oranges and lemons are both very scarce, and the price is ruling high. The lemons in the country, and that nothing but a falling off in the demand could keep the price from soaring beyond reason.

The market is steady on potatoes. There seems to be a plentiful supply of them in spite of the stories of failures in the crop, and the price still runs at 40 cents a bushel, below which it is scarcely profitable for the farmers to market their crop.

Conditions are practically unchanged in the butter, egg and cheese markets. Prices are practically the same as last week, and the market is firm on all three products.

The week has been a busy one on Michigan street. The dealers are all so busy filling orders for fruit and produce that it is hard to find one of them who has time to quote prices or review the market situation. The past summer has been a good one for the commission men, and if the fall trade, owing to the heavy decrease in the price of fruit, is fully keeping pace with the summer activity.

DIES SUDDENLY.
John Butler Well Known "Plunger," Passes Away at Mankato.

Mankato, Minn., Sept. 22.—John Butler of Minneapolis, a man well known as a "plunger" on the Chicago and Minneapolis boards of trade, the mucker and loser of several fortunes, died suddenly in this city last night. Something of a mystery surrounded his death. He arrived in Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul 7 o'clock train from Wells, and owing to condition was taken to the city hall and a physician summoned. He was quieted and soon fell asleep and did not awaken, death occurring about half past 8. Mr. Butler was a native of Wells, Minn., and was associated with the Cudahy, the pork packer, and President Ives of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad in the ownership of a line of elevators. He resided at Elberta, Minn., for a number of years and owned most of that town.

WEST END ADVANTAGE OF WEATHER

Taken By Men Laying Superior Street Rails and Paving.

Start With Rush After Rainy Spell—Salvation Army Building.

If the present streak of weather continues the paving work on West Superior street will progress favorably; if not, nobody knows just what will happen about the paving. Weather Forecaster Richardson absolutely refuses to be drawn into making a prediction about the condition of the weather for the future, although he believes that because of the extremely wet weather that has been prevailing at the Head of the Lakes for such a long time, a season of dryness should follow.

The work is in full blast on West Superior street, but yesterday the work consisted chiefly of draining the street of the water which had collected. The excavations made for the new tracks for the street railway have become ditches, and had to be drained off. However, it is expected that the work will now go on with a rush. A rock crusher is working at Tenth avenue west, and the mixing plant is in shape to handle the work for the paving.

The principal kick which the merchants at the West end have just now is the condition of the temporary crossings furnished. Planks are laid across the street, but they are put down loosely, and teams passing over them move them every which way, leaving the crossings in such condition that it is practically impossible for a woman to cross the street, much to the detriment of the merchant whom she wishes to patronize.

WORK ON NEW HOME.
Salvation Army Building Being Reconstructed at Seventeenth Avenue.

Work has been started on the new, or, rather, reconstructed building of the Salvation Army, at Seventeenth avenue west and Superior street. Contractor E. Week has jackknives under the building, and is raising it preparatory to putting a concrete foundation under it. This foundation will be solid and waterproof throughout.

When it is finished the work on the building will begin. Another story will be added, and the present building reconstructed. The new structure, when finished, will be used by the Salvation Army as a place of meeting, as well as a lodging house, and it is expected that the place will pay for itself.

DR. ELMQUIST HERE.
Comes Up From Minneapolis to Perform Marriage Ceremony.

Rev. A. Elmquist, formerly pastor of Bethany Lutheran church of Twenty-third avenue and Third street, and now pastor of St. John's English Lutheran church of Minneapolis, came up tonight before last to perform a marriage ceremony at the West end. He visited while here at the home of M. S. Johnson of 120 West Michigan street, and some of his old parishioners, gathered last evening at Mr. Johnson's home and tendered him a former church an informal reception. A churchman an informal reception.

delightful time was spent during the evening, and refreshments were served.

Dr. Elmquist, to whom Bethany congregation issued a call a short time ago to come back, was last night urged by those calling upon him to return, but he left without making any definite statement in regard to his intentions. However, he will make his decision known in a very short time.

Those who called at the house went to the train with the visiting clergyman last evening at which time he returned to his home in Minneapolis.

Mortrud-Hanson.
The marriage of Miss Mayme J. Mortrud to Hadley A. Hanson, took place last evening at the parsonage of the First Norwegian-Danish Lutheran church, Rev. John H. Stenberg performing the ceremony. Miss Mortrud is a daughter of Dr. E. Mortrud, and Mr. Hanson is the son of Mrs. Sidney Mortrud of 423 Twenty-sixth avenue west, and Mr. Hanson, who is employed as a telegraph operator in Superior, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hanson of Twenty-seventh avenue west. Only immediate friends were present. Mr. and Mrs. Hanson will reside in Superior.

West End Shortfalls.
The First Swedish M. E. church, Twentieth avenue west and Third street, will hold its annual bazaar this year on Oct. 7. It will run through four days.

Miss Hannah Johnson of 1225 West Michigan street has gone to St. Cloud, Minn., to attend the normal school there. This will be her third term in that institution.

John McGowan of 321 North Twenty-eighth avenue west, who is suffering from typhoid pneumonia, was taken to St. Mary's hospital Wednesday.

The Norwegian-Danish M. E. church congregation is planning to build a new church, which will be much larger and more commodious than the one now used.

The social to be held tomorrow evening at the First Swedish Baptist church promises to be quite an interesting affair. It will be under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid society, and that organization has worked extensively on the plans for the entertainment for some time. A fine musical program is being arranged.

H. T. Lofgren of Superior, deputy organizer of the North Star Benefit association, was at the West end yesterday visiting members of the order.

Miss Bertha, who has been stopping at the Esmond hotel for some time, will return to her home in Chicago on Sunday.

Joseph Twaddle and Jack Reynolds, first avenues, tonight is the last night and supper will be served there. Large crowds are attending and the affair is proving a success in every way. The room is prettily decorated and many useful things are for sale.

A store full of swell New Fall Suits and Furnishings for men.

Chicago, Sept. 22.—Notwithstanding clear weather in the Northwest, a slight tone prevailed in the wheat pit here today. The cause of the slightly bullish sentiment was decreased by shipments from Argentina. Shorts were the principal buyers. December opened a shade lower to 1/8c higher at 84 1/2c to 84 3/4c. After touching 84 1/4c, the price rallied again to 85c. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago

Chesley, who was a large Newfoundland dog along the banks of Ridley Creek, 10-year-old Harry Hanrahan fell into the stream. The animal immediately plunged after him, and the boy, who was swimming, was pulled ashore when two passing men answered the boy's screams and effected a rescue.

The boy and dog were both exhausted when pulled from the water.

looked as if the slight reaction might be due, but an advance in the price copper created new bullish feeling as the market closed strong. It is hard to say whether the market will be active day, but the buying of Atlantic Copper, Rinco, North American and Ticonderoga is especially good.

HAPPENINGS IN THE DAKOTAS

Promoter of Ingenious Wire Tapping Scheme Placed Under Arrest.

SOUTH DAKOTA.
 Sioux Falls—Charged with being the principal in an ingenious wire tapping scheme by which $2,800 was secured from a bank at Gettysburg, S. D., B. H. Dunham was arrested here Thursday. A telegraph operator who had acted as Dunham's accomplice, gave to the police the information that led to Dunham's arrest. Dunham, who is also known as D. O. Miles, is charged with representing himself as a cattle buyer of Miles City, Mont. He is charged with having applied to the Gettysburg bank for $2,800, giving a Chicago bank as reference and asking that the Chicago institution be wired as to his financial standing. His accomplice, it is charged, stationed himself several miles from town, tapped the wire and intercepted the Chicago message. Four hours later the wire tapper sent a reply, ostensibly from the Chicago bank and of such a character that the money was paid to Dunham by the Gettysburg bank. The arrest of Dunham immediately followed.

 Webster—Chas. Albert, the young man three times shot. A. S. Bryant, a farmer near Andover, was arraigned before Justice Rathbun and bound over under $2,500 bail. He admitted the shooting but said Bryant first threw a milk stool at him when he demanded $4.00 due on wages.
 Mrs. Len Davis, a daughter of Bryant, recently from Fenville, Mich., was arraigned as an accomplice of Alberts, and bound over in the sum of $200.
 Spearfish—William Hilton, a miner living at Crow Peak, went suddenly insane a few days ago. He came to town to go to one of the drug stores, and broke a glass and climbed inside. He made such a noise that the proprietor came downstairs with a shotgun. He was finally captured and taken to Deadwood.
 Pierre—At Hayes, fifty miles west of here, Roy, the 6-year-old son of George H. Walker, was drowned in the dipping tank at that place. He fell in while playing.

 In the hearing before the supreme court in the proceedings brought for the disbarment of S. A. Ramsey, of Woonsocket, the court appointed Judge A. W. Campbell of Aberdeen to referee the matter. With the questions of fact to be heard in Sabiner county.
 The August report of the bureau of vital statistics shows that for the month, 730 births; deaths, 243; marriages, 200; divorces, 25, and naturalizations, 48.
 The census bureau has completed crop figures on wheat and corn production of the state for 1904 showing that the wheat yield of the state outside of macaroni was $4,182,986 bushels. Last January Secretary Robinson in his crop estimates placed the yield of the state for that year at $4,100,000.
NORTH DAKOTA.
 Bismarck—At the request of several contractors who desire to bid on the proposed new state capital building, and because of the complaints that have been made that the time for the filing of bids was too short, the state capital commission at its meeting this week deferred the opening of bids for the building until Dec. 12 next, and fixed the minimum outlay for the new building at $200,000, which the legislature fixed as the amount of funds to be anticipated by the issuance of certificates.

 Fargo—Governor Sleser has appointed Dr. H. M. Scholberg of Minot as trustee of the state normal school at Mayville. Vice Alfred Blumfield, resigned, and Dr. A. B. Campbell of Devils Lake as district veterinarian for the second district, vice Dr. W. F. Crowe, resigned.
 The death of United States Marshal Haggar created a vacancy in office which will probably be filled by appointment soon. James E. Shon of Richland county, a well known Republican worker, is expected to succeed the office, as he was to have been a candidate for appointment at the end of Marshal Haggar's second term.
 Alexander McKenzie of Bismarck, an old friend and business associate of Haggar, was much grieved to learn of his death, and spoke feelingly of his long friendship with the late marshal.
 Residents of Hettinger county, west of the Missouri river, want the governor to call an election for the organization of that county. They have filed a petition to that end, claiming the required population.
 The appeal in the case of Frederick N. Nurnberger is being prepared. Nurnberger was convicted on information of perjury in connection with land frauds and sentenced by Judge Amidon to twenty months in the penitentiary and to pay a fine of $2,100. His plan was to induce veterans and widows in Ohio to take up North Dakota homesteads and after making final proof to turn the claims over to him, he paying expenses and a bonus. The officials arrested Frank Quirk at Alice, this county, on a charge of violating the prohibition law. He pleaded guilty and was fined $200 in addition to ninety days in jail.

 Mayville—Gustave Anderson, a farmer, dropped dead on Main street Wednesday evening. A hemorrhage of the lungs caused his death.
 Burglars entered the residence of L. B. Horton, R. 8, Grady and Jacob Reyserson, but were frightened away except at at Mr. Groth's, where they secured a small sum.
 President Carhart of the state normal school is in a hospital in Chicago, where he had a surgical operation performed a few weeks ago.
 "Elkin Bros." new 4-horse power Ford has arrived, making the twelfth automobile in Mayville.
 Grand Jurors—A motion for a new trial in the case of K. W. Kopang against S. Swenson was argued before Judge Fisk of the district court, and an order was made reducing the verdict from $50 to $250, and in the event this reduction is not accepted by the plaintiff, a new trial will be granted.

 The action was brought in Nelson county, Kopang asking for damages for slander and a district court jury awarding him $50.
 President H. A. Libby of the Bar Association of North Dakota has appointed Tracy R. Bangs, W. S. Stambaugh and Scott Rex a committee to arrange a program and fix the time and place for the next annual meeting of the association, which will probably be held in this city some time in February. In the future annual meetings will not be held on the opening days of supreme court sessions, as has been the rule.
 Antler—A carpenter working on top of one of the elevators here fell forty feet to the bottom of a grain bin, breaking his back near the pelvis. He was taken to Minneapolis.
HEAVY DAMAGES
 Demanded By St. Paul Man For Loss of Mustache.
 St. Paul, Sept. 22—Ten thousand dollars for a mustache.
 This is the value William Ritter places on the hirsute adornment that formerly bristled from his upper lip.

 He wants John Fitzgerald, superintendent at the Ramsey county workhouse; John Hyland, a guard, and another workhouse attaché, whose name he does not know, to pay him this sum.
 Ritter was sent to the workhouse for ten days for drunkenness. When he reached the institution he was given the customary bath and prisoners get and then escorted to the workhouse barber shop, to submit to the "shave and haircut," which all male prisoners must undergo.
 Ritter didn't want to lose his mustache. He thought because he would be Supt. Fitzgerald's guest so short a time that the mustache might be allowed to remain. But it wasn't. Strong hands were laid on Ritter, and he was "next" in the workhouse barber chair, despite his protests.
 He says the humiliation of losing his mustache, and the treatment to which he was subjected, injured him so grievously that nothing short of $10,000 will "square it."
 He brought suit in the district court yesterday for this amount.

HUNGARIAN LEADERS ARE IRRITATED BY THE EMPEROR'S RECEPTION

of Cabinet Unsatisfactory.

Decline to Negotiate With Austrian and King Appoints Hungarian.

Vienna, Sept. 23.—The king-emperor Francis Joseph received in audience at the palace today the five leaders of the Hungarian coalition parties, namely Count Julius Andrássy, Francis Kossuth, Baron Banffy, Count Zichy and Count Albert Apponyi, and suggested that they enter into negotiations with Count Goluchowski, the minister of the imperial and royal house, relative to the formation of a Hungarian cabinet. The king-emperor showed himself ready to make what he regarded as appreciable concessions in the direction desired by the Hungarian nation.

The king-emperor remained unyielding on the question of the language of command in the Hungarian army. He invited the coalition ministry to submit proposals for the formation of a cabinet on the following conditions:

Military questions relating to the language of command and the service on which concessions are entirely inadmissible are excluded from any program which may be submitted in regard to the army.

The foreign missions must also remain intact. As to the questions affecting the economical and other relations of Austria-Hungary as provided by the law of 1867, these shall be revised by negotiations between the governments of the state and parliamentary committees.

The budget, ordinary contingents to the army, commercial treaties, and the two years' military service must be voted as well as the sums required for military purposes and for the Hungarian expenditure of the dual monarchy for 1906.

The king-emperor in the course of the audience, seriously represented to the Hungarian leaders the responsibility they would incur in refusing to accept the concessions offered and in maintaining their old demands. The audience only lasted a few minutes and the Hungarian leaders were not given a chance to explain their views or discuss the matters at issue. They expressed great disappointment at their treatment and apparently were highly irritated at the result of the audience. They declined to negotiate with Count Goluchowski, declaring that if the king-emperor did not want to negotiate directly with the leaders he ought to appoint a Hungarian go-between and not an Austrian.

The Hungarian representatives visited Count Goluchowski this afternoon and informed him of this decision, declaring that none but a Hungarian was competent to conduct the negotiations. The minister subsequently saw the emperor and the latter appointed Count Czizsky to carry on the negotiations in place of the Austrian minister. A conference between Count Czizsky and the Hungarian leaders was held later in the afternoon.

DEMOCRATS ARRAIGN GOVERNOR HERRICK FOR SUBSERVIENT TO BOSS

Promise an Honest Administration.

Newark, Ohio, Sept. 23.—The Democratic state campaign was opened here today, at an open air mass meeting in which three of the party candidates participated as speakers, assisted by a former candidate for governor. The presiding officer was Judge S. M. Hunter of this city, who was a prominent candidate for the gubernatorial nomination against Patterson. It had been planned to have present also James E. Campbell, the latest Democratic governor of Ohio, but he was unable to be present and sent a letter of regret.

Judge Hunter spoke briefly, calling the meeting to order. Hon. John M. Patterson of Milford, Ohio, former congressman and present candidate for governor, was the first of the speakers. He said:

"We arraign Governor Herrick for his subservience to the great boss of Ohio, as indicated by his own efforts and the efforts of his party friends to induce the loss to consent to and approve his nomination."

It has been asserted by apologists for the present administration of the republic party of Ohio that corruption and graft have always existed; that the morals of the present day are better than ever before and that the many recent exposures of raceability in office are the result of the honesty of the public conscience and of greater publicity, which have brought to light these evidences of graft.

"I deny that stealing and corruption must be expected as necessary incidents to the administration of public affairs. Stealing and corruption are not only necessary incidents to, but are the foundation principles of an administration by bosses and gangsters. There can be no such thing as a good boss or a good gangster in politics. All the bosses and attendant gangsters depend for their existence on spoliation and plunder."

"The plain facts are that the reason there are so many discoveries of bossism and corruption is that under the baleful reign of bossism all over the country, there is more booting, more graft, more bribery, more fraud, more dishonesty, than ever before in its history. Grafting has become so common, so brazen, that its exposures cause to occasion surprise or wonder."

"I promise you on behalf of all the gentlemen on the Democratic state ticket, that, if elected, we shall honestly and fearlessly discharge our duties to the best of our abilities. No insolent boss shall dictate to us by telephone; no grafter shall find the atmosphere of the state house congenial to his health and business. Honesty and economy shall govern all our official actions, and when we supply for our officers to the people, we shall have clean hands and clean consciences, and you will have a commonwealth once more the pride of a great people."

Thomas E. Powell of Columbus, a former Democratic candidate for governor, was next introduced.

Laurel H. H. Vernon, a candidate for lieutenant governor, followed.

FARMER'S LETTERS Figure In Suit For Breach of Promise to Marry.

Council Bluffs, Iowa, Sept. 23.—A letter with a large heart drawn on one of the pages, with the words, "Miss Ferguson, will you be one of the exhibits in the trial of the $25,000 breach of promise case brought by Miss Cynthia Ferguson of Louisville, Ky., against W. H. Kennedy, a Montgomery county farmer, worth $50,000, who is engaged to marry her."

BISHOP STANG TO RISE. Looked on as Possible Successor to Archbishop Chappelle.

New York, Sept. 23.—Bishop Stang of Fall River, Mass., will probably be the successor of the late Archbishop Chappelle at New Orleans, La. Dr. Stang is regarded as the most available candidate for the office, and is expected to be elected to the position of archbishop of New Orleans, La. Dr. Stang is a native of New England, and for this reason would be well qualified to fill the vacancy because of the cosmopolitan population of the archdiocese of New Orleans. He has been most favorably recommended by influential Catholic ecclesiastics.

APPEAL CERTAIN In the "Silver" Case, Says Assistant Attorney General.

St. Paul, Sept. 23.—An appeal will be taken by the state of Minnesota from the adverse decision filed in Duluth in the so-called "Virginia silver" case. So says Assistant Attorney General Royal A. Stone. Attorney General Edward T. Young is today at his home in Appleton and could not be seen. The time for preparing an appeal to the state supreme court for the October term is so short that the case will probably not be taken to the higher court until January.

SCANDINAVIAN TROOPS NOT TO APPROACH FRONTIER

Stockholm, Sept. 23.—The national defense department today announced that the Swedish and Norwegian frontier troops had been simultaneously ordered not to approach the frontier nearer than a kilometer.

NORWAY AND SWEDEN AGREE ON DISSOLUTION

Terms Were Accepted By the Delegates After a Three Hours Joint Session.

Agreement Signed at Karlstad at 6:10 O'Clock to Be Published Later.

Karlstad, Sweden, Sept. 23.—An agreement was reached this morning on the terms for the dissolution of the union of Norway and Sweden. The understanding was arrived at during the session of the delegates, which lasted over three hours, and the meeting adjourned until 1:30 p. m., during which time the secretaries will be engaged in preparing a protocol for the signature of the representatives of the two countries.

On the reassembling of the delegates some point of disagreement developed and they were still in conference at 5 p. m. A rumor spread soon after the delegates reassembled, to the effect that an agreement had been signed, and this was telegraphed to Christiania. Special trains were in readiness to take the delegates to Stockholm and Christiania, but these arrangements were countermanded.

6:20 p. m.—The conference is terminated. It is officially announced that a full agreement was reached and signed at 6:10 p. m. The protocols will be published next week at Christiania and Stockholm, simultaneously.

CENTENNIAL OF TREATY WITH INDIANS FOR SNELLING RESERVATION OBSERVED

St. Paul, Sept. 23.—(Special to The Herald)—One hundred years ago today, Lieut. Zebulon Pike met a band of Indians on Pike Island, as it is called in commemoration, in the Mississippi river, near Fort Snelling, and concluded a treaty for the cession to the United States of the reservation, on which Fort Snelling is built. Today Oct. 4 was made at exactly 5 o'clock this morning. Every hotel in the vicinity of the course was crowded last night and thousands of spectators saw the races start on their journey.

Two of the expected competitors did not start. C. W. Mathers, a thirty-four-year-old power machine, driven by Tom Cooper, and T. A. Wild, a thirty-four-year-old power machine, driven by Robert Jardine, were through the race. The other two competitors, a thirty-four-year-old power machine, driven by Frank N. Smith, and a thirty-four-year-old power machine, driven by H. H. Little, passed the grandstand, after completing the first circuit together.

AUTOMOBILES MAKE FAST TIME IN ELIMINATION TRIALS FOR CUP RACE

Mineola, N. Y., Sept. 23.—The start of the elimination trial race to select a team of five automobiles of American build to compete for the Vanderbilt cup on Oct. 14 was made at exactly 5 o'clock this morning. Every hotel in the vicinity of the course was crowded last night and thousands of spectators saw the races start on their journey.

Two of the expected competitors did not start. C. W. Mathers, a thirty-four-year-old power machine, driven by Tom Cooper, and T. A. Wild, a thirty-four-year-old power machine, driven by Robert Jardine, were through the race. The other two competitors, a thirty-four-year-old power machine, driven by Frank N. ## THE FOOTBALL SEASON OPENS

For Intercollegiate Teams With Match Between Appleton and Chicago.

Chicago, Sept. 23.—The football season in the West was opened here today when the Lawrence university of Appleton, Wis., met the University of Chicago eleven. Although this was the second game of the year for Stagg's men, it was the first game of the big nine.

Coach Knicker of the Lawrence team, arrived here last night with his team and his baggage, and was not heavy, but otherwise in good shape to give Stagg's party a hard game.

Stagg on the other hand expected no stiffer resistance from the Lawrence collegians in today's game, that was experienced last week when the North Division high school boys tried conclusions with the University of Chicago team.

It was expected that the game would be fast and full of snappy playing, though the weather was not of ideal quality.

The line-up: Position, Lawrence, Appleton, N. Y., Sept. 23.—A certificate showing an increase of capital stock from $500,000 to $500,000,000 by the New York Independent Telephone company was filed today, in the office of the secretary of state.

GOVERNOR SARLES Of North Dakota Predicts Re-Election of Governor Johnson.

St. Paul, Sept. 23.—"I predict that Governor Johnson will succeed himself," said Governor Sarles of North Dakota at the Merchants hotel, St. Paul, last evening. "It will take an exceptionally strong man to stem the tide of popularity which seems to be coming his way at present."

As far as I can judge, two factors make for his success in a future campaign; his disposal of patronage and the gentleness of his character. His personal magnetism will be a vote-getter in the next campaign.

There has been nothing but favorable comment upon the administration of Governor Johnson by the leading politicians of North Dakota. He is, by reason of his personality, eminently fitted to succeed in politics."

DECREASE IN SURPLUS OF RAPID TRANSIT COMPANY.

New York, Sept. 23.—The annual report of the Interborough Rapid Transit company which operates the subway and the Manhattan electric lines in this city, was issued today. The report for the year ended June 30, at which time the subway had been in operation for eight months and five days. The net earnings for the year $2,439,985, an increase of $1,985,395 as compared with last year, when only the elevated lines were operated. After payment of $2,362,500 in dividends on Interborough stock and the guarantee dividend on Manhattan elevated stock amounting to $2,864,000 there remained a surplus for the year of $7,481, a decrease of $1,165,305 as compared with 1904.

CHOLERA APPEARS IN BERLIN PROPER

First Case Is That of a Boatman on the Canal.

Berlin, Sept. 23.—The official bulletin announced today that eight cases of cholera and three deaths had been reported from noon yesterday to noon today, making the total 243 cases and 81 deaths.

Of these new cases one is in Berlin, the first which has occurred here. It is that of a canal boatman who died yesterday. He came from Landsberg on the river boat Warthe, where three or four cases of cholera have been discovered. The canal boat was moored in the heart of the city. The sanitary police took the boatman's wife and six children and another boatman and his wife and child, who were living on the canal boat, to the quarantine barracks, disinfected their living quarters and ordered the boat's cargo not to be touched. Every arrangement was made here long ago to deal with cholera, so no concern can be said to exist. The other new cases are in the old cholera districts of Bromberg, Schuby and Wirtshaus.

The case of the Berlin boatman was the only one known to the public through the issue of an official note. This was made public at 5 o'clock and caused the health officials to order extreme vigilance in watching the canals and streams adjacent to Berlin. The medical men here have been surprised that no cholera cases had appeared in Berlin before this, owing to the continuous communication between the capital and the infected district.

FRANCE AWAITS ANSWER OF VENEZUELA BEFORE SENDING BATTLESHIPS

President Castro Has Not Yet Favored Minister With Any Response.

Concurrent Action With the United States Is Desired By French.

Paris, Sept. 23.—The foreign office has not yet received Venezuela's response to the instructions sent to M. Talgny, the French charge d'affaires at Caracas, requiring Venezuela to disavow her offensive action in refusing to carry on relations with France through him, and therefore French action in the matter is in abeyance, pending receipt of the reply. The official view here strongly supports concurrent action on the part of the United States and France. It is said that no direct propositions for joint action have yet been formulated. The sailing of Ambassador Jusserand on the Lorraine for New York today is expected to afford an early opportunity to go over the situation. In the meantime the authorities say that no decision will be taken relative to the dispatch of warships, or other steps, until Venezuela has had an opportunity to reply.

YELLOW FEVER FAST DISAPPEARING FROM COUNTRY PARISHES

The Disease Is Dwindling Fast In Territory Outside of New Orleans.

New Orleans, Sept. 23.—If the present rate of progress is kept up the state board of health believes that the fever in the country parishes will disappear almost as soon as that at New Orleans.

Lake Providence, which was a hotbed of fever a couple of weeks ago, is rapidly driving out the disease, the new cases now having dwindled down to four a day. For the fourth day all the new cases at Tallulah are negroes.

Seventeen cases are under treatment in the Barabara district. Among the new cases reported here, is one in the German Protestant Orphan asylum up town. It is the first case in any of the Protestant institutions.

Details of the reception of President Roosevelt will await a final decision from Oyster Bay and Arkansas. The president, however, is unable to change his route so as to visit Arkansas first and unless the Arkansas authorities yield, it is possible that the date of his coming to New Orleans will be deferred.

GREECE AND ROUMANIA ARE AT ODDS

Bucharest, Roumania, Sept. 23.—The diplomatic rupture between Greece and Roumania has been completed by the departure of the Roumanian minister from Athens. The interests of the Roumanians in Greece have been entrusted to Italy while the Russian legation here will guard the interests of the Greeks in Roumania. The cause of the trouble between

ODD FELLOWS CARRY PATRIARCH MILITANT MATTERS TO NEXT YEAR

Philadelphia, Sept. 23.—The concluding session of the eighty-first annual communication of the sovereign grand lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows was held today. Two important questions were discussed. One was that dealing with the proposed affiliation of the order with the Manchester Unity in England.

The other was the proposed co-operation of the order with the American contractors to the enlargement of the sanitarium at Las Vegas, New Mexico, looking to the enlargement of the sanitarium from 100 to 1,000 acres in the order. The proposition involves the appropriation of $1,000,000.

Action on the independence of the patriarchs militant and on the proposition to increase membership of that branch by recruits from the scarlet degree was referred until the next annual communication at Toronto. All

GAYNOR AND GREENE BEATEN IN LAST STAND AGAINST EXTRADITION

Montreal, Sept. 23.—A decision against Col. J. F. Gaynor and Capt. B. D. Greene, the American contractors wanted in the United States on charges of defrauding the government was handed down by Judge Oulmet, today, in the court of King's Bench. It is Judge La Fontaine, the commissioner, who held them for extradition, had no authority to act in the case.

AUTOIST RUNS INTO WAGON AND IS KILLED.

Chicago, Sept. 23.—Walter Calkins, an automobile demonstrator, was killed shortly before daylight this morning when his machine ran into a heavy wagon and overturned, crushing Calkins beneath it. Although the lights in front of the machine were lighted, it is supposed that Calkins failed to see the wagon until too late.

ELMENEHBI'S FAMILY IN JAIL.
New York, Sept. 23.—The Tangier cor-

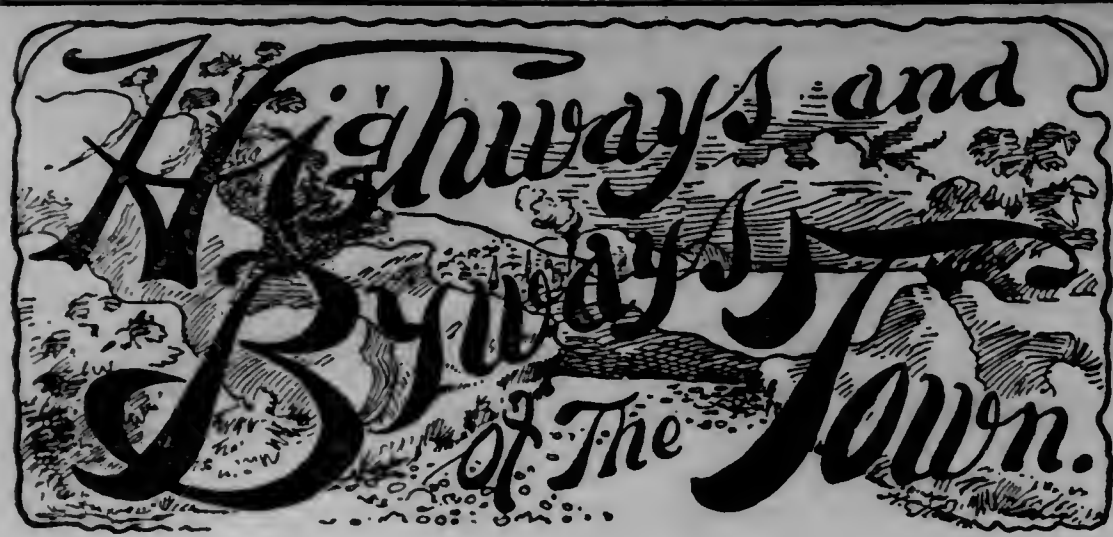

One of the double seats up toward the front of the interstate car was occupied by a man and a woman. Both were young. They didn't look as if they were married. The man had black hair and blue eyes and was rather good looking. His companion was attractively dressed in some light-colored stuff, and her hat well became her pretty features. The man in the seat behind couldn't see much of her face, but an occasional opportunity to observe the profile enabled him to arrive at a satisfactory conclusion as to her personal charms.

The car came to a stop on the big bridge. The passengers leaned forward and craned their necks to see what the matter was. The curtains were down in front, so they had to pull their heads back in place again and then turn and look out of the windows. This didn't allow them a chance to see what was going on ahead. It was late in the evening and arriving at a decision concerning the cause of the delay was all guess work.

"Oh, dear, I wonder if the bridge is open," said the girl.

"Probably," said the man.

"I always do have the worst luck getting across. Nearly always there is a boat going through the draw."

"It's an awful bother."

"Just the other night I was to meet a girl in Superior at 8 o'clock. We were held on the bridge for fifteen minutes, and then when we got over on the other bridge that draw was open, too. I was half an hour late and my friend had gone."

"And then what did you do?"

"The only thing there was to do—looked her up."

"And you found her all right?"

"Yes, but it was too late to do as we had planned, so we moved around the house all the evening."

"How bored you must have been."

"Well, not exactly. I had good company, if she didn't."

"You seem to have a good opinion of yourself."

"Better than anyone else."

"I see I'll have to be more particular in expressing myself while in your presence."

"I never could understand you."

"Thanks, awfully. If I had known you were going to appear on the scene I would have attended college."

"So as to keep out of my way?"

"Why should I want to?"

"That's what I want to know."

"I am afraid you have come to the wrong place for information."

"Is the reason so terrible as all that?"

"Did I say anything about wanting to keep away from you?"

"Not that I remember of."

"Why all these inferences, then?"

"Oh, just a lack of confidence in myself, suppose."

"Lack of confidence to do what?"

"Make myself entertaining in the presence of ladies."

"Miss Smith always told me you had a good deal of confidence along that line."

"Which Miss Smith?"

"Jennie, of course. Do you know so many Miss Smiths, then?"

"I didn't know you were a friend of hers."

"You say that as if you were put out about it."

"Oh!"

The car had crossed the bridge and was speeding along Garfield avenue. In the seat near the front there was silence for a minute.

"I don't like the idea of your associating with her," volunteered the man.

"So? What she has said in the past impressed me with the idea that you had associated with her a good deal yourself."

"That is a different matter, entirely."

"Really? When I decide to make any more friends I want to consult with you. It appears that you have the pedigree of all the women folk you can refer to it at a moment's notice."

"It was by the merest chance that I became acquainted with Miss Smith."

"The rare chance of a summer moon in a cloudless sky, a canoe gently floating on the silver-tinted waters of the bay, the pine trees on the point as background, and an occasional camp fire lending variety to the scene?"

"It was a row boat."

"Dear me, how careless of me. Of course it was a row boat. Canoes are such tippy things aren't they?"

"How do you happen to know that, if I may ask?"

"Miss Smith and I went out paddling in one the other evening. She taught me how to paddle. What are you, a citizens' committee, or were you appointed by the government to carry on the investigation?"

"Did Miss Smith give you any instructions regarding anything besides paddling?"

"How to deport myself in a row boat on a moonlight night, under circumstances such as just mentioned, you mean?"

"Come to think of it, I don't believe you would need any instructions in that connection. Girls appear to know by instinct."

"You don't have to teach them then, when you take them out in a rowboat on a moonlight night? But does instinct prompt them all into the same channels?"

"You should know more about that than I do."

"From your remarks of the past few nights, I presume I am to infer that Miss Smith has an instinct entirely suitable to the occasion. Is it anything like that of birds, prompting them to always seek the most comfortable place?"

"I am sure I don't know what you are talking about."

"If I remember rightly, Miss Smith was the subject of conversation."

"She is a bird all right—one of these yellow parrots."

"I see, you are afraid, she has been talking too much to me."

"Afraid? Why should I be?"

"Moonlight, water, rowboat, flickering fires along the beach, pretty girl in the boat, handsome man, and all those things, you know, prompting said handsome man to certain rash acts."

"You are doubly charming when you blush. I'll repeat my question if you will be so kind as to repeat the operation."

"Thanks. Is there any difference between conceit and self-confidence?"

"Ask me something easy."

"All right. Was it Miss Smith's story of her past life that led you to believe she was not fit associate for me?"

"She is a bird all right—one of these yellow parrots."

"She must have been very indiscreet, then."

"Was—that is, or—she didn't let me know anything of the way, of course, but I inferred a lot."

"From her words or her actions?"

"I didn't jump at conclusions, you know, but I picked up things from the fellows later on."

"Are you accustomed to talking about your girl friends in that fashion to the fellows?"

"There are certain kinds of girls a fellow has a right to talk about."

"And still they say men are not gossipers. I wonder what you said concerning me to Miss Smith."

"Don't be unreasonable."

"It's difficult for me not to be. I am only a woman, you must understand. It is only the men who are reasonable."

"I know I always try to be."

"Your efforts are really painful this evening."

"In other words, I am a bore."

"That's just what Miss Smith said."

"The devil she did!"

"Was she the one who taught you to use such expressive language?"

"I'd like to teach her several things."

"The very idea. That's exactly what she said about you."

I appear to have been quite a popular subject of conversation, or shall I say gossip, between you and Miss Smith."

"In a way, yes."

"Did she express any other opinions relative to my ability as an entertainer?"

"No, but she said in a faint, confidential way, that you were shining overhead."

"The very idea. That's exactly what she said about you."

"How poetically you put it. I should think the very situation itself would have been vastly entertaining, without any effort on the part of the man in the case."

"Maybe Miss Smith is hard to please?"

Testimony.

Don't take our word for it.
Don't depend on a stranger's statement.
Read Duluth endorsement.
Read the statements of Duluth citizens.
And decide for yourself.

Here is one case of it:
Ernest Groike of 228 Fourth avenue east, Duluth, Minn., mason, says: "I speak from experience when I say that Doan's Kidney Pills are reliable and valuable remedies. I first heard of their merits from a friend who had received gratifying results in his own case, and as I was then suffering from severe dull pains in the small of my back and joints, and had become so bad that I was almost compelled to give up work, I procured a supply of Doan's Kidney Pills and began using them. Although other remedies had failed to help me, I soon noticed the benefit, and kept on using Doan's Kidney Pills, until the pain and other troubles gradually disappeared, and I was entirely free from the trouble."

"Do you think so?"
"In some things, at least."
"In men, for instance?"
"As a matter of fact, with your peculiar way of getting at things, I don't believe you would be very pleasing to any girl."

"Don't believe? Don't you know?"
"The couple got off the car a couple of blocks farther on, and the man behind stood on."

"Well, you know I haven't had the advantage of a summer moon, a rowboat and all the rest for carrying on the interesting story, so I am hardly qualified to answer intelligently."

"I'll admit I appear to better advantage in the dark. However, I'd like very much to give you that opportunity."

"Too bad! It's September, and that the nights are so cool, isn't it?"

"Too bad! I didn't become acquainted with you earlier in the season, I'd rather say."

"Before you met Miss Smith, you mean?"

"Hang Miss Smith."

"She said you did try to hang her, or hang onto her, I mean to say, excuse my crude way of putting it."

"And still she said I wasn't entertaining! Any man would be entertaining to Miss Smith who would do that."

"How dreadfully vicious you are tonight. You look doubly charming for you are an expert. I repeat my words if you will be so kind as to repeat the operation."

"I'd do anything to please you."

"Is that a bluish of anger, remorse, or shame?"

"I'd rather have the blush copied. The boy might convince Miss Smith that you can be interesting at times."

"Only at times?"

"How awfully inquisitive you are this evening."

"I thought, perhaps, your taste in men might differ from that of Miss Smith. Bluntly, I hoped it might differ from yours. I repeat my words if you will be so kind as to repeat the operation."

LOST VITAL POWERS!

It is downright folly, almost criminal negligence for men afflicted with lost powers of manhood to go on neglecting their cases, when a speedy and sure cure is so readily and easily obtained. A visit to the Progressive Medical Association will soon convince you of the efficacy of our treatment. Avoid stimulants and stomach-wrecking drugs. There is only one sure cure, and that is the Electro-Medical treatment of the Progressive Medical Association, AND THE WATCHFUL CARE AND ATTENTION OF OUR SKILLED SPECIALIST IN THE DISEASES OF MEN.

Nervous Debility This disorder has for years baffled the efforts of physicians, yet to this very day a majority of doctors are attempting to overcome it by methods that have been in constant use and that have constantly failed for half a century. They dose the system with powerful stimulants and tonics calculated to restore nervous forces or strength that is not and never has been lacking, with a result that the functions are temporarily excited to the point of detriment of the patient. I have permanently cured thousands of cases of premature loss of power, which demonstrates the absolute accuracy of my understanding and treatment of the disorder. In years I have not met with a single failure, and I have entire confidence in my ability to cure all cases that come to me for treatment.

Pelvic Disorders In treating Pelvic diseases, from which nearly all nervous disorders originate, I have particular advantage over other physicians. I do not cut or dilate. No other physician employs my method of cure of the disease. My special course of treatment for Nervous and Male Weakness stops drains and restores complete manhood. My treatment for Stricture removes the necessity for surgical operations, even the most severe. I do not cut or dilate. No other physician employs my method of cure of the disease. ## Rieckhoff.

W. H. Rieckhoff, the box factory man at New Duluth, wants men, and wants them badly. He is offering all kinds of inducements to get men with families to go there and work for him, but it seems almost impossible to get them. Mr. Rieckhoff also offers a solution of the idle-boy problem, which seems to be the main feature of West Duluth life. The town is full of boys from 15 up, who do not attend school, playing "hooky" when they are sent and hanging around pool rooms and saunas, these idle fellows also infest the streets and cause bother for pedestrians, and create havoc with out-door displays of merchants along Central and Grand avenues.

Mr. Rieckhoff wants not only married men with families, but he wants boys from 15 up, whom he can break into work and make do something. For married men Mr. Rieckhoff is offering the wages of the same time last year,
from 15 up, who do not attend school,
playing "hooky" when they are sent

Rich Strikes Are Made At Bisbee

At the Junction, Shattuck-Arizona and Pittsburg & Duluth
—New Furnace at Calumet & Arizona Smelter
To Be Blown In Oct. 1.

Bisbee, Ariz., Sept. 23.—A strike of rich ore in the Junction mine has been reported during the week, and a new body of ore is said to have been uncovered in the Pittsburg & Duluth. A strike of native copper on the Shattuck-Arizona, on the 800-foot level, was made on Thursday, and this is regarded as certain indication of a large body of ore. At the Junction No. 4 cross-cut on the 300-foot level has developed a large body which is said to average 30 per cent copper. The Junction are driving a circular drift at the 1,000-foot level around the shaft and at ample distance from it for safety. This drift is in one much of its distance. From it will radiate the main drifts on that level, and on one of these, which is running off to the Calumet & Pittsburg line, it is supposed by many to be across the line. Most of junction development will be toward the southwest of the shaft and where the porphyry works away to the west. The trend is very favorable for mining, if sufficient depth is reached. It may be necessary to go down to 1,000 to 2,000 feet. It is an astonishing thing that the ore now being found in the Junction at the depth of 1,000 feet from the surface is entirely carbonates and oxides, a secondary ore that shows the most pronounced evidences of water and oxygenation action. This was the same class of ore that the Copper Queen mined for many years on the surface and about a mile to the northwest. At the Copper Queen the bottom of this oxide zone and the beginning of the sulphides is not far from 500 feet, varying with conditions, while at the Junction it is at a depth that is so far entirely unknown.

The flow of water at the Junction continues to increase as lateral work is being extended and the pumps are now throwing 2,000 gallons every twenty-four hours. This is the largest flow of water of any mine in Arizona, even exceeding the famous wet mines at Tombstone.

The fact that the Junction is not only draining the other Bonanza mines but is also helping to keep the water down in the Copper Queen properties. The intense heat at the pump station on the 770-foot level has not been alleviated to any extent, but it is hoped that another few weeks will see the matter remedied, and good cool air through the mine. The raise started for air purposes for the 770-foot level is within 300 feet of the surface now and is being rushed to completion as fast as men and money can do it.

In Pittsburg & Duluth connections between the various ore bodies are being completed and preparations going on to begin shipping in large quantities when the Calumet & Arizona smelter is ready to handle the product, which will be very soon. Mine reports the finding of another ore body in the mine but where located has not been disclosed.

The Calumet & Arizona is now sinking very much faster than for some time, and has reached at last the 1,100-foot level, which has been its limit for more than two years. But it has been decided to sink twenty feet more to make water level on this mine and the adjacent Junction the same, and it will be two or three weeks yet before sinking finally rests on the 1,120-foot level. In the meantime, it has been decided to push vigorously after ore and a winze will be sunk from the 910-foot level to more than 200 feet of ore vertically. This winze will go down to the 1,120-foot level and will be connected at the bottom by a drift from the shaft. It is certain that the entire depth and much of the drift will be in rich ore. This will be the first ore actually found and exposed in the Calumet & Arizona mine.

The Houston shaft of the Calumet & Pittsburg is now down about 400 feet and sinking continues rapidly. A new boiler is being set and preparations are going made to install a large hoist, which is expected to be in operation by the first of October. A large cement tank for holding oil has been completed during the week and a change house has also been partially finished. A building for framing timber has also been added to the surface improvements. The shaft is now passing through a strata of barren limestone but is expected to enter mineralized ground in about another hundred feet.

The two smelters producing at the rate of 330,000 pounds of refined copper per day. The gross production of the Copper Queen is reduced slightly by the installation of two new furnaces, but the mine is making this month 6,500,000 pounds. In addition to the 40-ton furnace that was blown in last week at this smelter two more of the same size are now under construction and should be ready by November. They will increase the capacity of the plant by 800 tons of ore daily, and give it a monthly capacity for 12,000,000 pounds. This will make it the second largest smelter in the world, next only to that of the Washoe Copper company in Anaconda. At the present price of copper the present production of the Copper Queen and the Calumet & Arizona is worth about $1,550,000 per month. When the new furnaces are added the Copper Queen reduction works will employ 400 men more than now, making a force of about 1,500.

title to the John Datsy claim and others on which the Junction company hold a bond has taught the Michigan people a lesson and the promoters of the Warren company do not intend to have a repetition of this kind of business. When the Warren company starts to do business, it will be with a clean bill of sale and an assured title to all of its holdings.

Judge Gid. Graham of Douglas, stated while in the city during the week that so far as the former owners of the Bisbee Queen were concerned they had finished their part in the transfer of the property to H. A. Smith and associates. This transfer was delayed because of some trouble in the matter of straightening titles to the several claims involved. The final work in clearing the titles has now been finished by the old Bisbee Queen owners and the new owners of the property have a clear trail ahead to securing patent on the ground, which they are doing. Whether the Bisbee Queen will be added or is already a part of the Warren Development Co. holdings is not known to the general public and probably will not be known for some little time to come. That the ground has much merit from the mineral standpoint has long been conceded.

At the Cole shaft of the Lake Superior & Pittsburg they are getting ready to set the new gallowes frame and regular shipments of ore are being sent to the smelter. The ore still continues to come from the Pittsburg & Duluth and is being taken out through this shaft on account of development work.

At the Oliver, the steel framework of the boiler and power house is completed and the corrugated iron sheeting is now being put on. The covering in of the boiler and machinery has progressed sufficiently to be finished within a few days. The new steel gallowes frame is nearing completion and should be finished within a week. Upon the completion of the new gallowes frame and the removal of the old building and headgear the mine will be ready to begin shipping. The new oil tanks have been finished and covered. The ore shafts are all ready for delivery of ore into the cars and tracks have been laid underneath so that three cars can be loaded at one time.

On Cuyuna Iron Range

Pickands, Mather & Co.'s Shaft So Far Shows Ore of Varying Character—Townsite to Be Started At Loerch—Progress of Work With the Drills.

Loerch, Minn., Sept. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—I have just visited the shaft that Pickands, Mather & Co. are sinking on the south side of section 8-45-29.

An inspection of the pioneer shaft on the Cuyuna range shows that it is down 84 feet, to date, and that the last fourteen feet are in iron ore of varying character. Thus far the iron formation has been loose, broken and, possibly, somewhat out of place. This has made it very difficult to use drills and explosives, thereby retarding progress. To date the material encountered in the shaft has been broken up and extracted chiefly by use of pick and sledge. The miners believe that depth will reveal solid ore.

A line of drill holes was supposed to show the northerly edge of an ore body. About 125 feet north of a drill hole that showed ore of good quality, the shaft was started. The site was on dry and higher ground and, also, it was assumed that it would encounter the slate rock enclosing the ore body. At a depth of 150 feet or so, it was expected to prove the ore body by a cross-cut. The surprise was great, therefore, when at a depth of 70 feet, iron ore instead of barren "country rock" was encountered.

The surface drift consisted of a hard, tough mixture of clay and gravel with occasional strata of fine sand several inches thick. No quicksand whatever was encountered, but somewhere after the 60-foot mark, a heavy flow of water temporarily drowned out the shaft.

Thus far, the ore encountered is mixed and of varying character. Excellent samples of iron ore of splendid physical character exist, but the fourteen feet penetrated certainly are not clean or merchantable. There is considerable oxide of iron, "paint-rock," and some of it is badly mixed with slate. What an informed that Pickands, Mather & Co. have had no assays made yet and probably will not for the present. With more depth a solid, unbroken body may be encountered or evidence produced to show that the shaft is on the edge of an ore body of great width.

While the drilling of this ore is considered only an unexpected incident in connection with plans and operations that will take months to accomplish, it has attracted much attention and aroused much hope for the future of the Cuyuna range in general and the south belt in particular. The honest farmers are flocking in from far and near to see what this "pesky stuff" looks like and to carry away specimens for exhibition and comparison. For Brainerd people, this shaft will provide a very popular objective for Sunday drives. Already, many of them have come out to see what a baby from mine looks like and how it compares with railroad shops, sawlogs, thoroughbred live stock, pumpkins and potatoes.

Brainerd people feel much more kindly toward the Cuyuna range, I believe, than do Duluth people. They hope and pray that it may prove a success. They encourage anything that will help it along. Some of them have sold lands cheaply to help along pioneers of the range and many have invested their cash in lands and stocks. One Brainerd merchant has invested $25,000 in lands on the south belt. Others stand ready to offer inducements to practical iron men who will take hold seriously and in good faith. So far, I have not heard of a Cuyuna brand of cigars, but Col. McCabe, who owns an irrigation parlor on First street, called the "Last Turn," recently added a restaurant to his place and called it "The Cuyuna."

The Brainerd Telephone company has completed plans for running its wires along the south belt to Deerwood, and thence over to the Rabbit Lake region, where drilling operations are rapidly attaining magnitude and importance. The farmers' line to Bay Lake will be leased or purchased. Right of way is being secured rapidly, and actual construction work will begin in a couple of weeks.

The scene at the shaft of Pickands, Mather & Co. presents a sight business-like and impressive, as well as rather odd and peculiar in that region of farms and farming. Two tall smokestacks from two 50-horse power boilers belch out black clouds of coal smoke, and the 20-horse power hoist hisses viciously and spits out clouds of white steam as it lifts out ore and waste rock. The big ore bucket, head frame and tramway, with ore car, add to the activity and interest.

Three pumps are in commission. They empty a shaft 8, 2 and 10 of the Cameron make. Two of them work constantly, while a third one rests. At one time as high as 700 feet of water a minute were pumped, but now the flow has run down to 300 to 400 gallons per minute.

A blacksmith shop stands near the works, and a big ditch, cut through the low ground adjacent on the south, drains away much surface water. At present the work employs twenty men. Coal is used for fuel, and not less than four tons a day are consumed. Freight, being in from the railroad gives employment to several of the farmers with teams.

To date huge tents are in use for cook camp and bunk house. It is proposed, however, soon to construct winter camps of a substantial nature. Money is being laid out in every direction with a liberality which demonstrates that Pickands, Mather & Co. either have confidence as to the outcome, or will not hold back a single dollar in proving the actual character and merit of the property.

Through the courtesy of the cook, in the absence of Capt. Jarchow, I stretched my feet under the company table, and such a quantity and variety of well cooked food I have seen rarely in any mining camp. I do not look for any "grub strike" on that work.

Loerch, from where I write, is the nearest railroad point to the shaft. As all know, it is on the Northern Pacific line, from Duluth to Staples, and formerly was called Jonesville. A couple of years ago a hustling traveling man named Loerch came along and purchased 160 acres adjoining the depot and sidetracks. Through his efforts the name of both postoffice and station was changed to Loerch.

Mr. Loerch came to this place a sick man. He found farming different from selling goods, but buckled in, and has gained health and strength of the very best variety. Along with that, he has become an expert in chopping cord-wood, ploughing the fields and raising black faced sheep, as well as many other lines of endeavor. Mrs. Loerch, who formerly conducted a store, has made a success of raising children, chickens, berries, vegetables, and setting meals for the traveling public, that bear a lasting fame.

Loerch has a section house and depot with ample sidetracks. From these are unloaded all the supplies, coal and machinery for freight by wagon to the shaft of Pickands, Mather & Company, by miles by wagon road but not half that distance in a direct line. It is seven miles from Brainerd and about ten miles from Deerwood. The country tributary to it lacks the swamps that characterize some of the region both

North Butte Buys the Hancock Claim

And Will Probably Secure the Kentucky Claim—Hancock Adjoins the Jessie on the West.

Butte, Mont., Sept. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—One of the most important mining transfers that has taken place in this city for some time past was recorded this week, when the North Butte Mining company, composed largely of Duluth capitalists, purchased the Hancock lode claim. The Hancock claim is located near the Speculator, also owned by North Butte company, and recognized as one of the most valuable properties in this district.

The Hancock lode claim lies on the rich Jessie vein, and adjoins that property on the west. The same big lead that has been encountered in the Jessie is said to pass through the Hancock and into the Kentucky mine, still further west. It is said that already negotiations have been begun by the North Butte company, with an idea of buying the Kentucky property. The Hancock claim is almost entirely undeveloped. The purchase price of the property was $150,000. The opinion of mining experts in this city that the North Butte company has acquired a valuable property, and that within a few months the group of claims now owned by the Easterners will assume a prominent place in the list of Montana producers.

While excavating a trench on West Broadway, near Main street, in the very heart of the business district of this city, a laborer uncovered a gold nugget the size of a hazelnut. The discovery caused no little excitement, and for several days afterwards the workmen employed in the excavation carefully scrutinized every shovelful of dirt that was taken from the trench, but no other gold strikes were made.

Owing to a shortage of water in the streams used by the Missouri River Power company, Butte mines will be compelled to resort to the use of steam to run their compressors and light their workings. For several weeks the power company will be without water to operate their generators, and the mining companies will be compelled to return to the use of steam to move their machinery. The Amalgamated company has been receiving 1,700-horse power from the Missouri river company, a voltage sufficient to operate all their machinery and light the lower levels of the various mines. Anticipating a shortage of water, the power company officials waited upon the mine managers this week and informed them of the situation. The old steam connections were immediately renewed, and everything is now in readiness to fire up the boilers as soon as occasion demands.

Work has been begun on the shaft at the Pittsburg and Montana property, and a force of men is now engaged in sinking a distance of 320 feet. When completed the shaft will be 1,220 feet deep. The odd twenty feet will be used for pump purposes. The veins on the 1,200-foot level are yielding good ore, and Manager Hageley is confident that the quality of the ore will improve with depth. When the work now under way is completed, the Pittsburg company will be able to mine almost any quantity of ore.

The big steel and concrete smokestack at the Butte reduction works has been completed. It is something over 300 feet high, and is said to be one of the tallest stacks of the kind in the United States.

Diamond drilling is being carried on with much success near Jessel, a mining camp to the north of this city. Many Eastern people are interested in the new properties, among them John A. Drakel of New York City millionaire. Mr. Drakel is said to be enthusiastic over the prospects.

Michigan Iron Ranges

Corrigan, McKinney & Co. to Push Operations at Old Kimball Property—Ore Struck In Bottom of Old Saginaw Mine.

Corrigan, McKinney & Co. are preparing for vigorous operations in the old Kimball property, in the South end of the city of Crystal Falls, Menominee range. A plant of machinery is being installed, and as soon as ready the workings will be unwatered and the shaft dropped another lift. No ore has ever been shipped from the Kimball, though it was one of the first locations at which ore was discovered in the district. The property lay idle for over twenty years in an undeveloped state before taken over by the Corrigan-McKinney interests. The ore found so far is of low grade, but it is the expectation it will improve in quality with depth.

Ore has been struck in the bottom of the old Saginaw mine at Norway, Menominee range, where work was resumed a few months ago, and the management is of the belief that the deposit will prove extensive. The ore is of high grade. Test-pitting and trench work on a tract of land owned by the Keeweenaw association and located a mile and a half west of Randville, Dickinson county, where two clean mines have been disclosed a large body of ore. The mineral is low in iron, at the surface at least, assaying but 40 per cent, but it is low in phosphorus.

Operations have been suspended at the New Davis mine, east of Ironwood, Gogebic range. The pumps have been pulled and the property will be allowed to fill with water. Only about a dozen men were employed at the mine. Cambria mine, which was afire a month ago, is still out of commission on account of damage done at that time, and it will be some weeks before it again hoists much ore.

The operations of the Cleveland Cliffs Iron company are extending materially, and it is taking new mines on old ranges. It has recently added old properties on the western Gogebic, and is looking at more. Jones & Laughlin have also added a mine of the western Gogebic, and the two large concerns have added much to the interest felt in that district.

The Cleveland Cliffs has a very large acreage at Palmer, where the formation is most promising and where discoveries of importance may be looked for some time. In the Menominee vicinity it controls practically the whole region, and it has two mines there as well as much most favorably located lands. It is very strong on the Marquette range, therefore, but not so elsewhere.

The Anoline Ore company, which is now a property of the Republic Iron & Steel company, is making a fine prospect this year. Its mines at Iron Mountain will ship not less than 140,000 tons this year, which is some 60,000 better than last year. The company is making its product at very low cost. It proposes to install new machinery the coming winter, a larger hoist and new crusher, as well as other items. It will carry on some stripping and will open more ground for milling. Its ore is a siliceous variety and is even in quality and texture.

The old Cliff exploration at Crystal Falls once belonging to the American Steel & Wire company, is to be explored again, this time by a company of Norway, Mich. and Toronto men who have organized with $1,000,000 capital.

Much exploration is under way in Sagola township in the Menominee range, 42-30, and there are some promising finds there.

BOOM FOR BOWEN.
Connecticut Republicans Would Elect Deposed Minister to Congress.

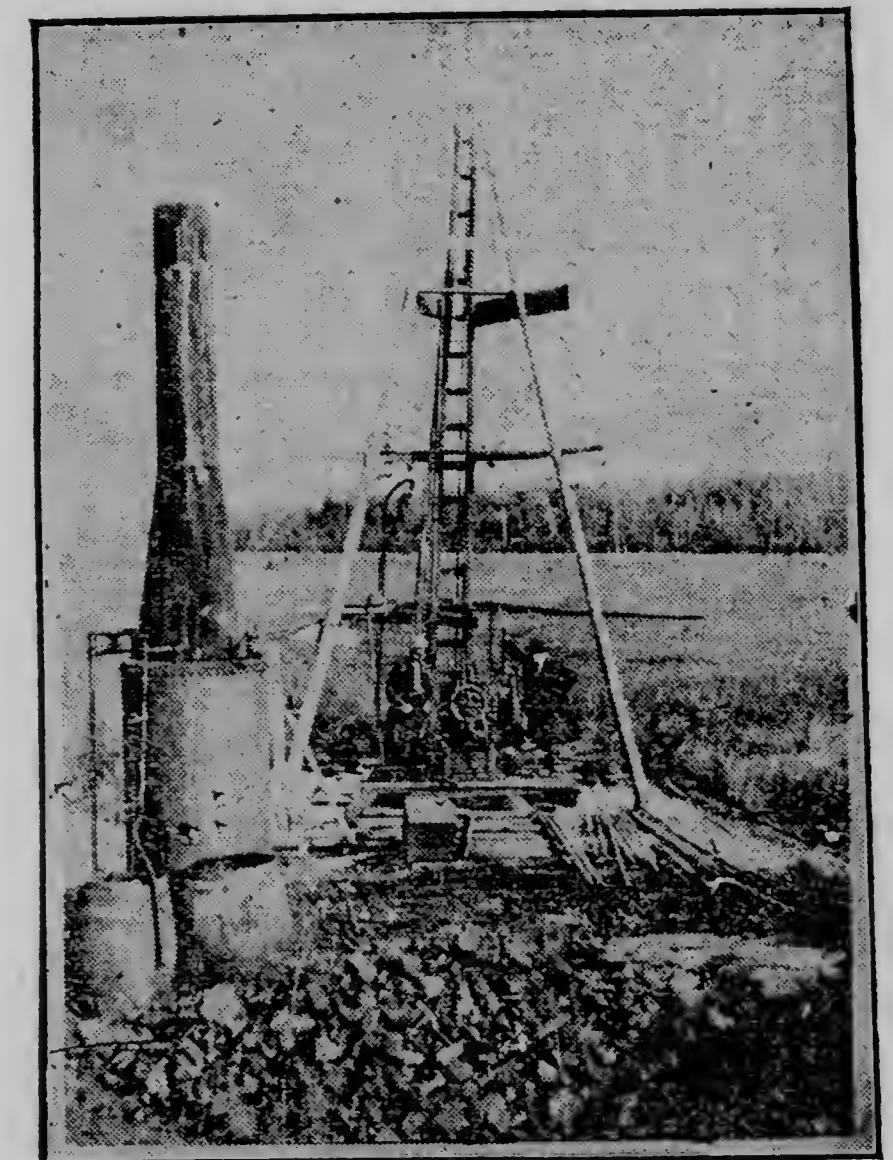

Putnam, Conn., Sept. 22.—The Republicans of Windham county have started a boom for Harriet W. Bowen, ex-United States minister to Venezuela, for congressman from the Third district. The vacancy is caused by the election of Congressman Brandegee of New London as United States senator to succeed the late Senator Platt.

Bowen is very popular throughout the state. Many Republicans in Connecticut believe that he is fearless, able and honest. They are convinced that if he were in the London affair it was in being overconscientious. The only thing in President Roosevelt's career of which they do not approve is his pre-ferment of Leonis over Bowen. They maintain that Mr. Bowen is not politically dead and believe that he can stand upon his record.

When the matter was suggested to Mr. Bowen he said he could not accept a nomination because he is not a resident of the district, but of New York City.

CALF'S HEART THREAT.
"Black Hands" Give Warning in an Uncanny Manner.

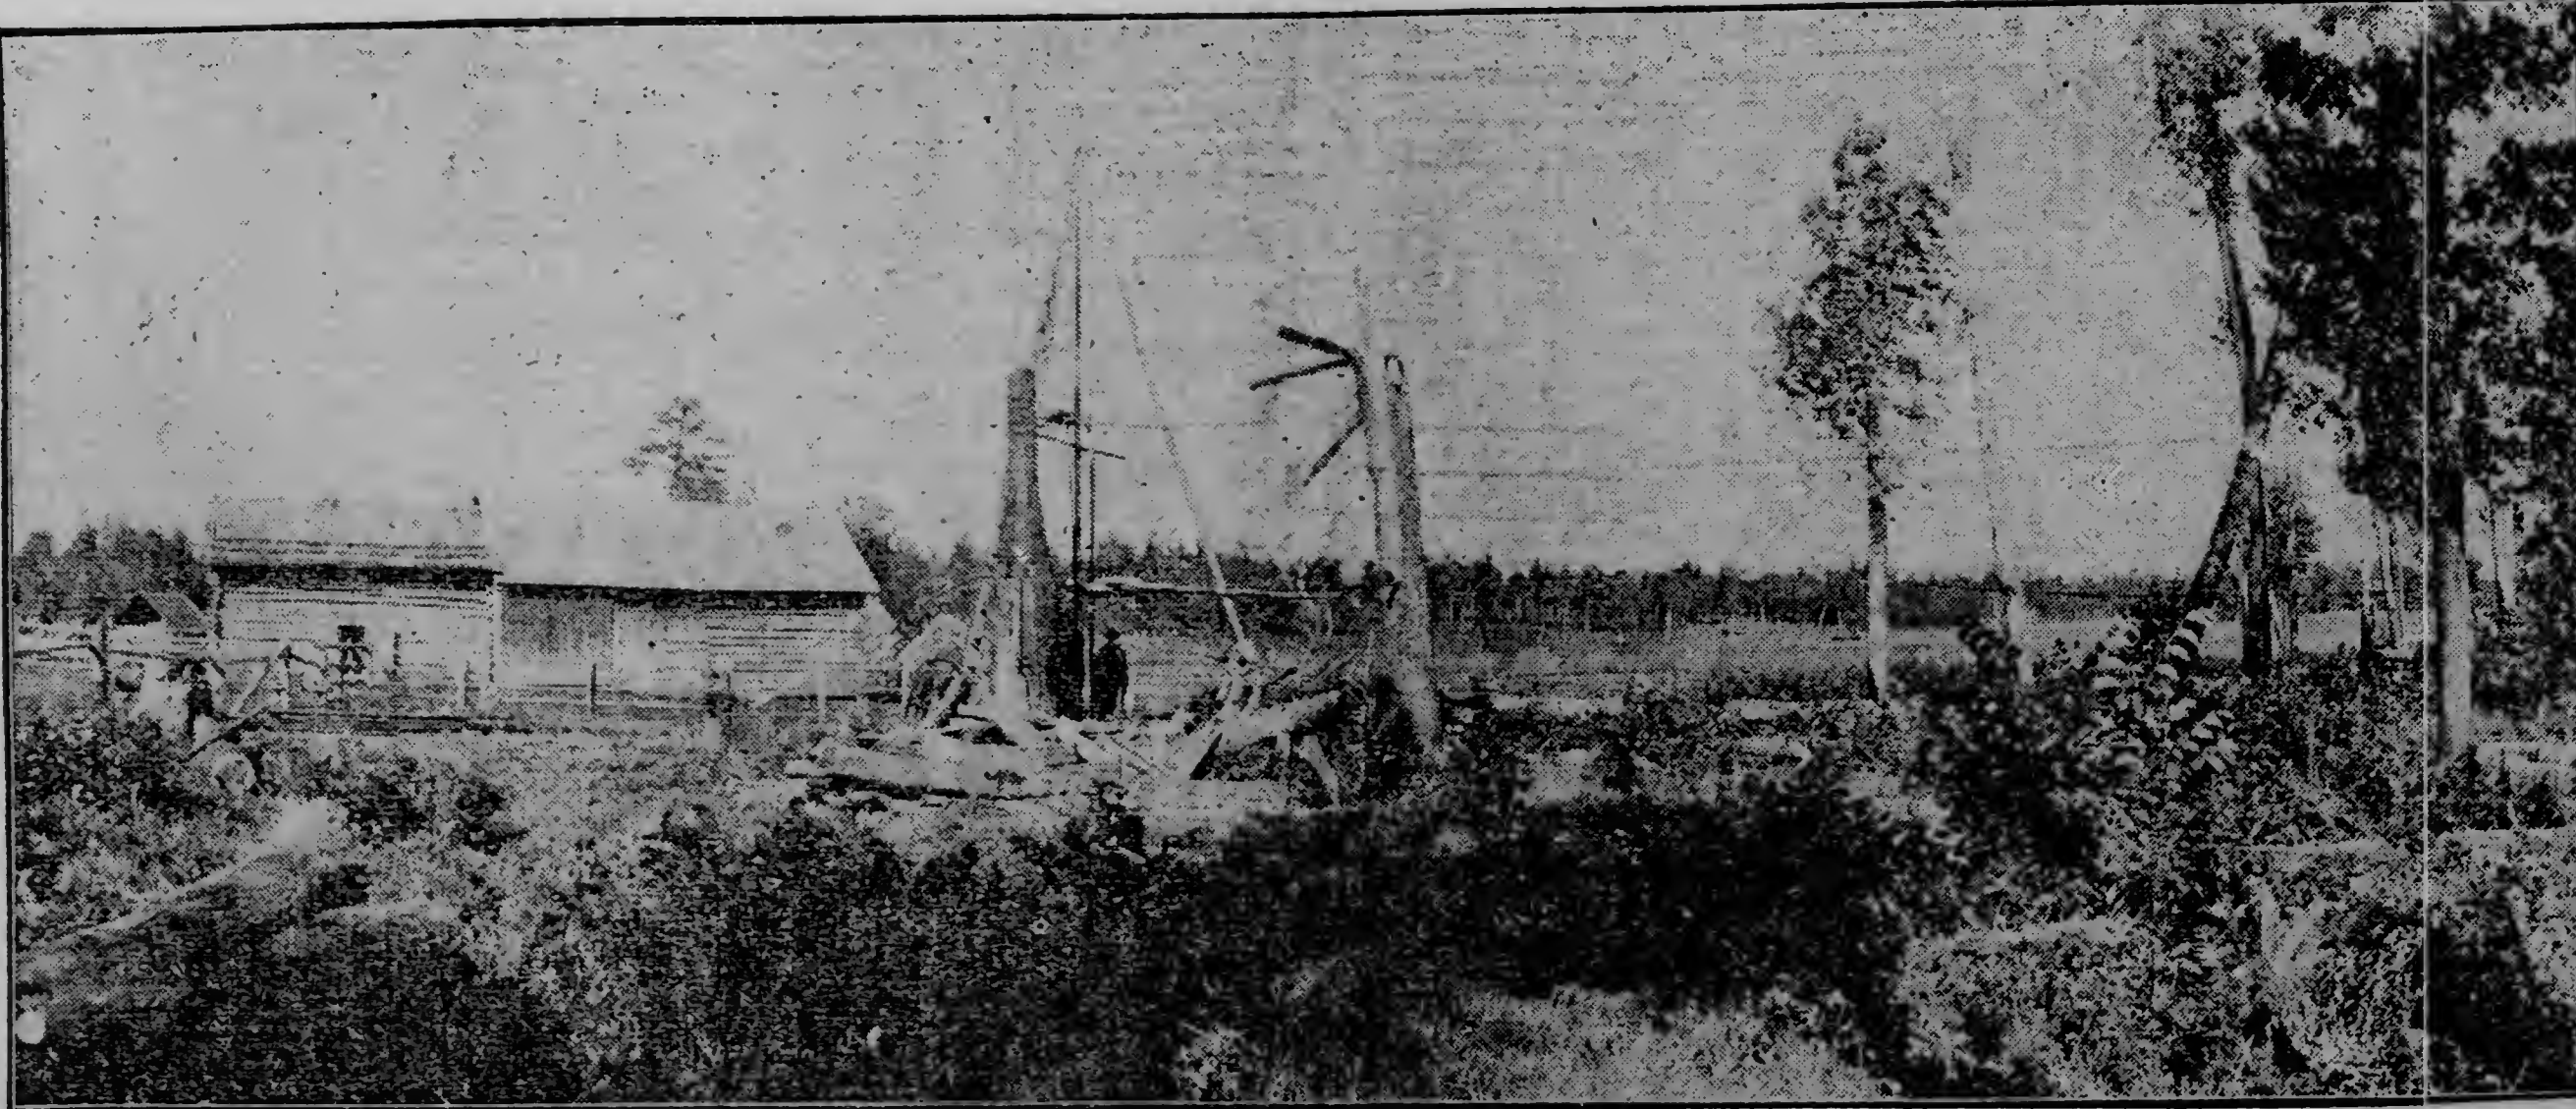

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 22.—Planned to the heart of a calf that had been killed during the night, Abraham Nemmy found a note reading: "Beware or you may be served the same way by the Black Hands." The throat of the calf had been cut, and then its heart had been torn out and the note pinned to it. He is frightened and has asked the police for protection, but is unable to give them any clue to his enemies.

Frank L. Perley will be very much in evidence this season. The opera company bearing his name will open its season at the Belasco theater, Pittsburgh, on the 25th, in that romantic comedy opera, Madame Butterfly. Of course, Viola Gillette heads the cast this season, but in the running are Mabel Hite, Joseph Miron, George J. MacFarlane, T. Henry Coote, Campbell Donald and Sidney Bracey. When "The Girl" comes to the stage, Broadway it will make a whole lot of these alleged musical comedies take to the woods.

Philadelphia, Sept. 23.—As the players of the world's series for the championship of the United States and the way in which the money will be divided, until the great army of major league players are encouraging the prospective winners in the series to play for the money, they give up the game rather than submit to so one-sided and unfair a proposition. Just as soon the club have won the championship, they will be asked to give up the game to show their hands in the matter and the players will be asked to be mapped out by the national commission, which will be mutually changed if the game is not played.

Think of it! The national commission, which is the only one that can be accepted, will be asked to give up the game to show their hands in the matter and the players will be asked to be mapped out by the national commission, which will be mutually changed if the game is not played.

The 38 players will receive 40 per cent of the prize money, and the winner will receive 75 and the loser 25 per cent. The first four games will be played in the first four games, and the winner will be played.

The Cincinnati chairman of the national commission says the players will receive about $90 each, and the loser about $45 each. The board would take $5,000 of the $50,000, leaving the players with $45,000. The board would take $15,000 of the $45,000, leaving the players with $30,000. The board would take $15,000 of the $30,000, leaving the players with $15,000. The board would take $15,000 of the $15,000, leaving the players with $0.

Minnesota Conferences of Methodist Episcopal Church

At Mankato on Sept. 27, and at Eveleth on Oct. 4.

Bishop William F. McDowell Will Be the Presiding Bishop.

Methodists in Minnesota are looking eagerly and anxiously forward to the two fall conferences to be held at Mankato on Sept. 27, and Eveleth on Oct. 4. These conferences are especially noteworthy because of the many important changes anticipated by the several leading churches, and also because the presiding bishop, William F. McDowell, who has the appointive power, is one of the newly elected bishops of the church.

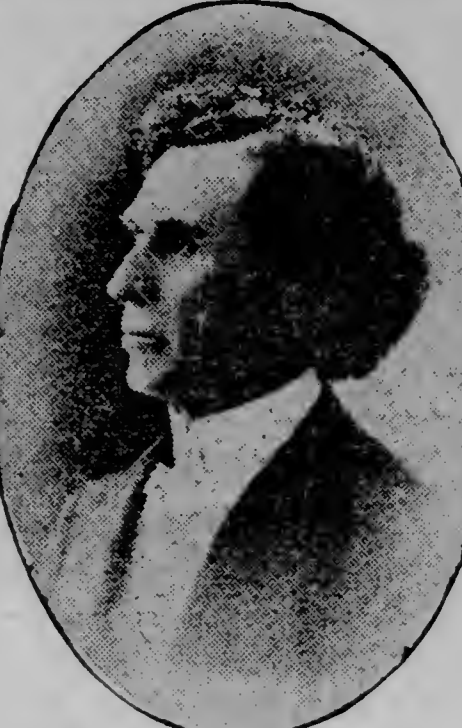

Considerable interest centers around the presiding bishop inasmuch as he makes the appointments of the pastors and presides at the conference and the cabinet meetings, the latter consisting of the bishop and presiding elders. Great importance is attached to the Northern Minnesota conference, in that the bishop will have the added responsibility of appointing two presiding elders, the time limit of Drs. Hingley and Fielder having expired, after faithful service with success.

Bishop William F. McDowell was elected bishop at the general conference on the second ballot. Eight bishops were elected, and on the first ballot Joseph P. Berry, of the Ohio conference, and on the second ballot Henry Speemeyer and William Frazar McDowell were elected. On the first ballot he had 423 votes and on the second ballot 510. This was considered a marvellous honor and shows that McDowell holds in high regard the personality and ability of Bishop McDowell.

He was born in Millersburg, O., in February, 1859, and is consequently one of the youngest bishops. His father, David A. McDowell, was a member of the same general conference that elected Bishop McDowell. After graduating from the public school he entered Ohio Wesleyan university and in 1879 graduated as a bachelor of arts. This is one of the chief Methodist schools from which men famous in Methodism have been sent into public, political and pastoral life.

In 1882 he graduated at the Boston school of theology and in the fall of 1882 he entered the North Ohio conference and served as pastor at Lodi, Ohio, and Tiffin. While pastor at Tiffin he was elected from a large list of candidates for the very responsible position of presiding elder.

lectual in his preaching and thinking.

When the death of Bishop Isaac W. Joyce reached Chicago and when the writer spoke to him of a resolution of sympathy from the summer school, so deep was his emotion that his voice was scarcely audible and in the chapel that morning it was with considerable difficulty he spoke of the death of the dear sainted bishop.

In the hands of Bishop McDowell all the interests of the church will be secure. He is no partisan, nor does he really belong to any certain school, for he is both an evangelist and a critic or better, a seeker after the truth with intellectual as well as spiritual powers. He is an athlete and an expert lawn tennis player. He loves pure wit and humor and sanctified common sense. His coming into Minnesota will be a stimulus to thought and to educational interests, and at the same time he will impart an intensity of moral and spiritual power of lasting and beneficial character to the pastors and church over which he will preside.

The Northern Minnesota conference now boasts of two general conference officers, the Rev. Robert Forbes, D. D., first corresponding secretary of the board of church extension, and the Rev. J. B. Hingley, the general conference secretary. Both these men are members of the Northern Minnesota conference. Dr. Forbes is widely known as a pastor and presiding elder, of wide and rich experience and of the most widely known men in Methodism. This conference considered it a great honor when he was elected to his present position, which he has filled so faithfully that he was elected for a term of four years at the last general conference. He has thrown much new life and initiative into his work, and has become a valuable and efficient servant of the church. He will represent his work at the coming conference.

Dr. Buckley in the Christian Advocate paid a high compliment to the general conference secretary, whose photograph adorned the front page in an editorial on Dr. Hingley he wrote: "It was impossible to carry on the business without his imprimatur. He took pre-eminence as a speaker. It was he who extricated debaters from the webs they had themselves spun, and bishops from the parlous results are satisfactory in every respect.

I understand that the Calumet Iron company, which drilled one hole in June in sixty acres under option in the northeast quarter of section 30, 46-28, has brought about a sale and that the outlook is favorable for wiping out the delinquent labor bills. I have no information as to whom the option goes. There is something of a tangle in this matter, if reports are correct, and while no trouble may follow, there is ample room for a good big legal battle over technicalities and doubtful points before everything is settled to the satisfaction of all concerned.

So far as I am informed this about covers everything of interest from Deerwood to Brainerd, along the south belt of the range.

Out on the north belt, in the Big Rabbit lake and Little Rabbit lake regions, twelve drills are actually in operation and at least two more will be next week.

George H. Crosby is interested in five drills out around Big Rabbit lake. Three of these are in operation. These are on the Ehrlich property, in sections 32 and 29, 47-28. Mr. Crosby and associates are positively convinced that an immense body exists there but are uncertain yet as to the grade. The first hole showed excellent ore, but some of the later holes did not show up so well. They will keep at it vigorously and expect to prove a good body of merchantable ore.

The Crosby-Hale property in the northeast of section 28, on the north belt of Big Rabbit lake, has not yet shown ore. The drills encountered barren rock and will be moved further south on the property.

Mr. Crosby was out here the first of the week and is expected out again Saturday.

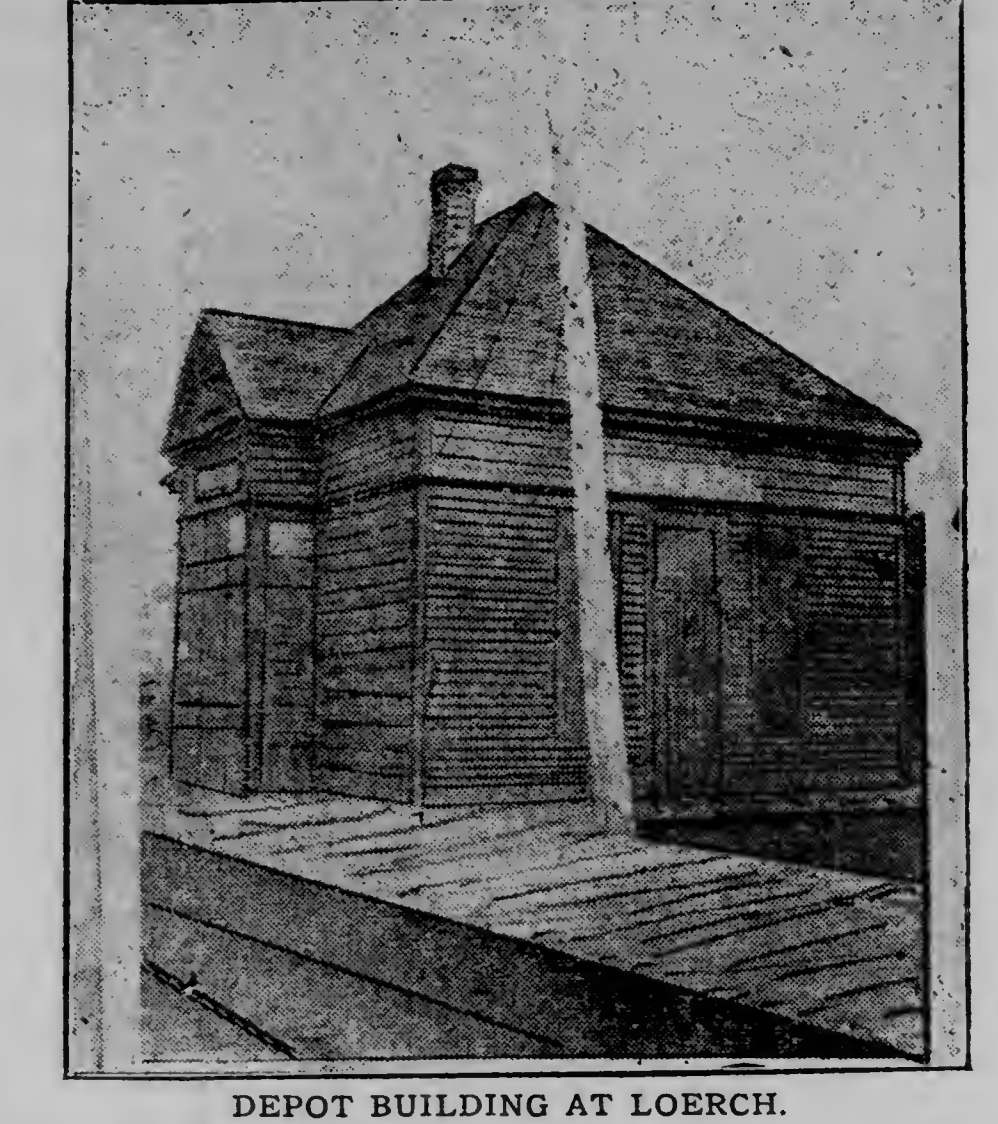

Cuyler Adams still operates his drill on section 30, 47-28, right south of the narrow middle of Big Rabbit lake, where he has several millions of ore proven that he declares is merchantable.

McDonalds, Mather & Co. have been running a drill on the south side of section 22, 47-28, for two or three weeks. A week ago a drill was down in surface 120 feet. What has been struck since I do not know. Rains and bad roads have made it impossible for me to get over to that drill.

The Shenango interests have a drill on the southwest forty acres in section 46-28, known as the Oberg property. I have been unable to visit that drill and no reports have reached me as to results of the work.

two drills near Little Rabbit lake. One is on the June farm, section 4-46-28, and the other in section 3-46-28. The drill on section 3 was down 58 feet and the drill on section 4 was down 65 feet at the time of my visit. Mr. Kalmbach controls about everything around the shores of Little Rabbit lake and is one of the most persistent, industrious prospectors on the range.

Franklin W. Merritt has hustled around until a company of Duluth men will excavate around Big Rabbit lake. H. B. Blackwood lined up three properties and Mr. Merritt lined them up there for six or seven years and a part of the eighty acres proved to be so poor that it would not cause potatoes or anything else. Mr. Merritt was obliged, in fact, to work for wages a part of each year to exist, and $5 an acre would have been a high price for the land for farming purposes.

The iron excitement started and reached even the humble Klinker home. One day H. B. Blackwood came along and asked a price on the land. Col. Klinker summoned all his nerve and asked $12 an acre.

BABY'S VOICE

Is the joy of the household, for without it no happiness can be complete. How sweet the picture of mother and babe, angels smile at and commend the thoughts and aspirations of the mother bending over the cradle. The ordeal through which the expectant mother must pass, however, is so full of danger and suffering that she looks forward to the hour when she shall feel the exquisite thrill of motherhood with indescribable dread and fear. Every woman should know that the danger, pain and horror of child-birth can be entirely avoided by the use of Mother's Friend, a scientific liniment for external use only, which toughens and renders pliable all the parts, and assists nature in its sublime work. By its aid thousands of women have passed this great crisis in perfect safety and without pain. Sold at $5.00 per bottle by druggists. Our book of priceless value to all women sent free. Presiding Bishop of the Minnesota tion of chancellor of the University of Denver. In 1890 he entered into the educational work in Denver with considerable zeal and ability, combined with remarkable resource and far-sightedness. For nine strenuous years, amidst grave and trying conditions, he worked hard and conscientiously at the head of the university and was wonderfully successful.

Ohio Wesleyan university recognized his growing usefulness and conferred upon him the degree of Ph. D. in 1891, and in 1894 the doctorate of divinity. Last year but one, 1903 the great Wesleyan university also conferred the degree of doctor of divinity upon him.

For five years he has been corresponding secretary of the board of education, an immensely important position. He was exceedingly useful to the church and its educational institutions, and as editor of the Christian Student made rapid growth in the ranks of reputable educationalists. He was of considerable assistance to many of the colleges and schools of Methodism and has himself almost indisputably as an expert in educational matters. Under his guidance the educational fund was increased and he was a very active member of and worker for the Twentieth Century fund.

The Chicago Methodists were delighted when they knew that Bishop McDowell's episcopal residence would be in Chicago. He was received with cordiality, and has made a deep impression upon all the educationalists, the Protestant churches and the Methodist Episcopal church and Northwestern university in particular. He is a general favorite among Protestants.

His recent lectures on "The School of Christ" at the summer school of theology at Garrett Biblical institute, which is closely affiliated with Northwestern university, were attended by pastors, professors and members of the various churches and colleges in Chicago and Evanston. The fact that they were the largest attended lectures in the course, and the wide publicity given to them is an evidence of their stupendous worth. They revealed that the bishop is an expert in educational matters, a conscientious and devout critic, not destructive but constructive; deeply religious, yet an advanced fearless in research; a man of broad conception and willing to permit every man the right to think. In Chicago he has no peer as an educationalist and thinker.

Those who have heard him at Evanston, Chicago and Des Plaines camp meetings say he is a marvelous combination of the evangelical and in-east and west and, as a headquarters for considerable of the south belt of the Cuyuna and a convenience for the traveling public, it promises much.

The townsite man usually follows the prospector and the Cuyuna range is no exception. Cuyler Adams and associates have purchased the Loerch farm and the county surveyor is now busily engaged in running lines, driving stakes and securing data for a plat of the townsite of Loerch. The forty acres adjoining the depot and sidetrack are cleared already. In fact they are covered with a beautiful field of clover and bear some trees and a comfortable farm house where excellent bed and board, as well as conveyance by team, can be had. Loerch will, if possible, be pushed into prominence and, already, first class people have looked over the place with a view of erecting a commodious hotel. A stock of general merchandise also is in prospect as soon as a suitable building can be provided.

I started out on this trip with a firm determination to visit every drill on the Cuyuna range but rains and bad roads have compelled me to miss some of the places where exploratory work is in progress.

On the south belt, work started Wednesday on the southeast half of the northwest quarter of section 22, 46-28, formerly owned by August Nelson and now owned by the Shenango Iron and Steel company from Cuyler Adams and associates. The drill was taken in from Brainerd Friday of last week but had weather delayed operations.

The fee holders of this land are especially pleased that good results will follow drill work.

At Brainerd, G. G. Hartley, Lawyer Lum and associates are drilling on the Swartz 120-acre lease, commonly known as the "race track" property. The drill has been taken north of the Northern Pacific railroad track and is on either the fourth or fifth hole. It is the general belief that this far, nothing but green schist and water have resulted from this work and it is reported that if the present hole does not show better results, the work will be abandoned.

The opinion is held by some that the entire 120 acres is too far north to carry the ore body, even if it reaches that far west along the line of magnetic attraction but, of course, that is simply a matter of individual opinion. I have not heard anything further of drilling southwest of Brainerd and assume that the report was erroneous. I do know, however, that it is claimed that a promising outcrop of iron ore has been found eight miles north of Motley, west of Brainerd.

The drill is still in operation on the Northern Pacific lease in section 3, 46-28. As previously stated, this lease has shown the best ore of any hole on the Cuyuna range. The drill penetrated 150 feet of ore which averaged 50 to 60 per cent in iron and as high as 62 per cent. If my information is correct, and it should be.

The Northern Pacific work in section 26, 46-28, now is thought to have been too far south and operations will be undertaken farther north. While the formation has been encouraging, no ore actually has been shown up there.

In section 20, 46-28, the Cole & McDonald drill has been removed from the Brown fee, south of Reno Lake. Mr. Brown assures me that ore was found there and that he expects further work will be done later on.

The Cole & McDonald drills on Northern Pacific work, sections 21 and 10, 46-28, and work being done by Cuyler Adams in the same sections, is progressing as usual and I am assured that I am under obligations to M. P. Kalmbach for attention and time given me. He is one of a few men interested on the north belt that has taken an interest in giving the public reliable information and in aiding me in what is going on. He has not seemed afraid to talk with me or to be seen in my company and that is more than can be said of several "mysterious" Mike's and one or two human leeches who have interests here.

In company with Mr. Kalmbach I visited the Fay drill on the Feigh fee. It is a typical place for iron ore. The low swamp bears out the depression or trough line and the hills inclining it roughly mark the inclosing lines if ore actually exists there.

The drill was not running the day we were there, which made it impossible to note whether red water (indication of iron ore below) was coming out of the start pipe. The number of drill rolls leaning against the derrick gave evidence of a depth anywhere from 120 to 150 feet. If nothing but "slaty taconite" is found there, Mr. Fay must be doing considerable drilling for fun. I understand that a second hole will be started soon. The impression prevails that fairly good ore has been encountered there, but I know nothing about it personally. Mr. Fay says not, and Mr. Feigh and others say, or think, yes. It certainly is an ideal and typical place for iron ore to exist.

If Mr. Feigh does not get an iron mine and accompanying 20 per cent royalties, he has a cranberry swamp that will pay interest on the investment. The day I was there that swamp was full of pink and blue cranberries with a few slouch hats, picking Mr. Feigh's cranberries early in the game.

Messrs. Congdon and Hartley have two drills near Little Rabbit lake. One is on the June farm, section 4-46-28, and the other in section 3-46-28. The drill on section 3 was down 58 feet and the drill on section 4 was down 65 feet at the time of my visit. One had not been reached, but Mr. Kalmbach thought indications were very favorable, and I have heard a rumor since that the drill on section 4 had tapped the real thing, but I have no direct information to that effect.

While there is no fever heat, interest is keeping up and additional capital is steadily coming in. There is reason to believe that Twin City capital is turning this way to increase rather than decrease.

While no one can, consistently and justly, condemn the Cuyuna range, it must be admitted that it has not passed the point where doubt no longer exists. There is ample reason for encouragement and belief that it will prove a permanent thing and a financial success, upon a moderate scale, if not a large one.

"We expect to lay here three months, at least as long as the English do, as there have been several breaches of neutrality at Chee Foo. I went ashore for about six hours yesterday, and a more dirty, filthy place than Chee Foo I never want to see. I took a rickasha ride around town, and the stench was so strong that I could not eat any

She also uses for her captain's gig the same gig that this ship captured from the Christobol Colon at Santiago in '78. She is a good battler for coast defense, but she is too slow to follow a fleet of those new ships, as we only have the old ones. The new ships can knock out as high as eighteen.

OF Farmer Who Was Caught in Own Burglar Trap.
Des Moines, Iowa, Sept. 22.—Caught in his own burglar trap was the thrill of experience of Clark Jamieson, a farmer residing in the city of Des Moines. Owing to the depredations of chicken thieves, Jamieson built a contrivance over the door by which a heavy beam was suspended over the door of his poultry house and would drop and close the door of the coop when the handle was turned. Returning from town at night he stepped on the handle and the trap worked. The beam fell, striking Jamieson to the ground and breaking three ribs.

MISSISSIPPI LID OFF.
Express Companies Have Found Loop-hole in Prohibition Law.
Jackson, Miss., Sept. 22.—A great deal is being written and said just now about the c. o. d. system of selling whisky in Mississippi. The wholesale dealers of other states have found a loophole in the interstate commerce law through which they are enabled to ship their wet goods to an express office in the state, collect on delivery.

The shipper may then send an agent to the town, or he may secure the services of a local agent, to dispose of the goods. The agent is not licensed in this city on a large scale, and the prohibitionists are not taking any steps considering making a test case to see if the decision of the Texas judge will hold.

Until two months ago a c. o. d. jug of whisky was sold in Mississippi in Mississippi. However, the business has grown at such a rapid rate that the whisky drummers are as common as pig tracks around a permutation tree.

YOUNG WOMAN BRUTALLY BEATEN FOR HER FAILURE TO PAY MONEY FOR IMMUNITY FROM AN ATTACK

"Black Hand" Methods Are Successfully Employed In New York.

Attack on Girl a Culmination of Series of Nightly Visits.

Warning Notices Were Written on Pictures In Private Home.

New York, Sept. 25.—Irene Grossman, a girl of 16 years, was found clubbed into insensibility in the hallway of her home, 342 West Fourteenth street, early today. The attack was the culmination of a series of nightly entries in the Grossman private residence, which were intended to enforce, by "black hand" methods, payment of money for immunity from attack. Beginning Friday night, a negro visited the house nightly, appearing only to Miss Grossman, and escaping with frightened screams. Despite the look-out set for him by the family, he succeeded today in reaching Miss Grossman before she had a chance to give a warning.

The girl's brother told the police that his sister had started for an early morning walk when she was attacked. He heard her scream, and ran into the hallway, where he found her unconscious, but saw nothing of the man.

Immediately after the clubbing, the police found two pictures in the Grossman home with the words "Black Hand" written on the backs. On the back of a photograph of Mrs. Grossman was written:

"We expect $500 from you. B. F. C."

On the back of one of her daughters' pictures was written in the same hand:

"We expect $200 from you. B. F. C."

In the two previous visits to the house, the burglar had stolen several valuable pictures and more than $400 worth of silverware.

ACTIVITY AT VLADIVOSTOK Business Increasing Rapidly Since the Proclamation of Peace.

Vladivostok, Sept. 25.—The old-time business activity of this city has been rapidly returning since the proclamation of peace. The inhabitants who left here during the troublous times are returning, commercial and industrial life is resuming, and foreign steamers and sailing vessels with freight are already arriving. Forty-five foreign steamers are expected from Hongkong and Shanghai soon.

The municipal authorities have received inquiries from thirty American firms concerning the acquisition of business quarters at Vladivostok. Japanese firms are also coming in, and are preparing to lease ground on which to erect buildings. Russians are also organizing companies to deal in Far Eastern products.

SIXTY-FIVE HORSES BURNED TO DEATH.

Wilmington, Del., Sept. 25.—Fire today completely destroyed McDaniel Bros' large livery and boarding stables at 112 West Eleventh street. Sixty-five horses were burned to death, and about 150 carriages and wagons, together with tons of hay and feed, were destroyed. The loss will exceed $50,000.

BANK PRESIDENT ON TRIAL FOR THIRD TIME.

Philadelphia, Sept. 25.—Henry Lear, formerly president of the Dolestown Pa. National bank, was placed on trial in the United States district court today, charged with embezzlement in connection with the failure of the institution. Lear has been tried twice for the offense, but in each instance the jury disagreed. The department of justice at Washington insisted that the case again be tried with the hope of reaching a verdict and to that end engaged special counsel to assist the United States district attorney.

CONSUL ARRIVES HOME.

New York, Sept. 25.—Rudolph E. Dolie, United States consul at Caracas, arrived here today on the steamer Philadelphia, from Venezuelan ports.

HUNGARIAN LEADERS SEVERELY CENSURE THE KING FOR HIS ACTION

The Deepest Regret Expressed For the Mistaken Policy of Their Ruler.

The Situation Is Now Considered Much Worse Than Before the Meeting.

Budapest, Sept. 25.—The executive committee of the Coalition parties, summoned to discuss the situation arising from the ultimatum presented to the Hungarian leaders by the king-emperor, has passed what amounts to a severe vote of censure of his majesty and his advisers. The committee in the resolution expresses the deepest regret that the king-emperor did not listen to the statesmen summoned by him to Vienna, who represent the majority in the Hungarian parliament. The committee further indignantly censures those who advised his majesty to take such a course and approves the action of the coalition leaders in refusing to negotiate with Count Goluchowski and in declining the memorandum presented by the king-emperor as a violation of the constitution and unsuitable for the settlement of the present constitutional conflict.

Vienna, Sept. 25.—Count Czizky, who was appointed by the king-emperor, Francis Joseph, to negotiate with the leaders of the coalition parties in the Hungarian diet with a view to the formation of a Hungarian cabinet, had a conference with these leaders yesterday at the Hotel Bristol, lasting for an hour and a half.

It is understood that the count received from them a written declaration to assume the responsibility of government on the conditions imposed by his majesty, as these conditions were directly in opposition to their personal views and also in opposition to the mandate of the people at the last election. Count Czizky then left the meeting to confer with the king-emperor, promising to return with his majesty's reply.

After an audience with the king-emperor, Count Czizky returned to the meeting, and found that Count Julius Andrássy, Count Zichy, Baron Banffy and Francis Kossuth had departed for Budapest, and that Count Albert Apponyi, the other representative of the coalition, had gone to join his family at Wiedinghaus. This apparently brings the negotiations to a close.

It is admitted here that the situation is now worse than ever. Count Czizky's mission is considered hopeless. Considerable excitement prevails in political circles and developments of the next few days are anxiously awaited.

KANSAS CITY STATE BANK GOES INTO VOLUNTARY LIQUIDATION

Kansas City, Sept. 25.—The Kansas City State bank, Wiley O. Cox, president, failed to open its doors today, having gone into voluntary liquidation. The bank has loaned $108,000 to the bank of Salmon & Salmon at Clinton, Mo., which failed last July, catching depositors for several hundred thousand dollars.

The Kansas City State bank was organized in 1888 and had a capital of $200,000. The last statement showed surplus $14,000; deposits of $4,750,000; and assets of $4,764,000.

The following notice was posted on the door at the opening hour:

"This bank has gone into voluntary liquidation through the Fidelity Trust company. Checks drawn against the bank will be paid on presentation to the Fidelity Trust company at Ninth and Walnut streets."

WILEY O. COX, President.

The Fidelity Trust company, which is capitalized at $1,000,000 is considered one of the strongest institutions in the southwest.

The Kansas City State bank holds $567,000 of the city's money.

Wiley O. Cox, president of the Kansas City State bank, is one of the oldest and best known men in the state. He has lived in Missouri since 1858. In 1872 he was a clerk in the First National bank at Springfield, Mo., coming to Kansas City in 1881. From 1884 to 1888 he was engaged in a general financial and loan brokerage business. He organized the Kansas City State bank in 1888 and has always served as its president. In 1896 he bought the Kansas City Times, a venture that did not prove successful and in 1899 he sold the paper.

At the Fidelity Trust company bank checks on the Kansas City State bank were honored as far as presented. There was no show of opposition and Charles Campbell, vice president of the Fidelity Trust company, stated that the bank would be paid on presentation to the Fidelity Trust company, closed bank would be paid on demand.

Mr. Campbell declined to talk of the liquidation, but said that the bank was leading up to the closing of the State bank.

Wiley O. Cox, president of the Kansas City State bank made the following statement to the Associated Press:

"The retirement of the Kansas City State bank from active business is voluntary. Our business has not been growing for sometime and we found it hard to hold our own with the larger institutions."

"The condition of the business was thoroughly gone over by the board of directors, and the conclusion was reached that it was not prospering as it ought to do in order to be profitable. Accordingly negotiations looking to the liquidation of the business through some of the active banking institutions was begun, and arrangements made whereby the Fidelity Trust company, a strong house, has taken over the business of the bank and is paying our depositors in the ordinary way, on demand, the same as we would be doing if still running."

The Fidelity Trust company voluntarily took over the business of the Kansas City State bank, but the money was not withdrawn.

PEOPLE FLOCK BACK TO NEW ORLEANS

New Orleans, Sept. 25.—With September practically gone and the fever under control, New Orleans is looking to a rapid clean-up of the prevalent fever here. A spell of excellent weather has set in, and as the days grow cooler there will be a steady disappearance of mosquitoes, it is hoped, even before frost comes. There is a steady influx of people from all sections of the country.

The most favorable feature of the report for the past twenty-four hours for New Orleans is the small number of persons shown to be now under treatment, 288. This is the smallest number since Aug. 5.

YOUNG MAN KILLED AT COUNTRY DANCE

Maysville, Ky., Sept. 25.—Henry Edwards, aged 23, was shot and killed last night at Lewisburg, this county, by Clarence Turner, aged 20. There was a dance in progress, and Edwards went to the place and wanted to dance with a girl there who had been dancing with Turner. Turner objected.

Both began firing at each other at close range, which created a panic, and Edwards was struck by a bullet, and when the shooting was over he staggered to the door, where he fell dead. Turner is in jail here, claiming self-defense.

FORTUNE TELLERS ARE ATTACKED BY TWO RATE WISCONSIN FARMERS

Band of Scotchmen Has Been In Repeated Quarrels With Inhabitants.

One Woman Seriously Injured and Others Are Badly Hurt In Encounter.

Milwaukee, Sept. 25.—A camp of itinerant Scotch fortune tellers in Greenfield, near this city was attacked late Sunday, and the occupants so roughly handled that one woman sustained serious injuries and another woman and a man will be confined to their beds for some time.

The injured are: Marguerite Drummond, aged 40, severe concussion of the brain and scalp wound with bruises on body, serious. Alexander Drummond, aged 28, hole in forehead, head and body bruised. Anna Drummond, age unknown, scalp wounds and body bruised.

The Scotch people have been carrying on their work in this vicinity for some time and the last camping place below runs to Berlin from Baden in the fortune tellers had pitched their tents. Ramlow's son and Frank Geisguth accompanied the Scotchmen to the wrongs alleged to have been practiced on the father and in their planned bank movement a sudden attack was made and the occupants taken completely by surprise, were worsted. The two men who planned and executed the attack are now in jail, where no charge will be preferred until the outcome of Marguerite Drummond's injuries are known.

GREAT CROWDS SURROUND BERLIN HOTELS TO GET GLIMPSE OF WITTE

Berlin, Sept. 25.—Chancellor Von Bismarck, who arrived in Berlin this morning and received Mr. Witte, they talked more than an hour. The Russian statesman lunched with Baron Von Richthofen, the secretary for foreign affairs, the Russian charge d'affaires, Mr. Boulatoff also being present. Mr. Witte and Baron Von Richthofen afterwards conversed for some time. They had exchanged calls yesterday evening.

Among those who saw Mr. Witte at his hotel was Ernst von Mendelssohn-Bartholdy, whose house has been Russian bankers here for a century. Herr Mendelssohn called as a friend and there is no reason to suppose the question of a loan was even mentioned. Arthur Fischer, a partner in the house, saw Mr. Witte in Paris and it was reported that a loan was discussed but it is definitely stated that such was not the case.

Mr. Witte's coming and goings are widely talked of in Berlin. It is known that he used a private entrance on a back street today. When he arrived at the railway station yesterday, Herr Mendelssohn called as a friend and there is no reason to suppose the question of a loan was even mentioned. Arthur Fischer, a partner in the house, saw Mr. Witte in Paris and it was reported that a loan was discussed but it is definitely stated that such was not the case.

BODY OF WOMAN FOUND ON BEACH DISSESSED BY A SKILLFUL MAN

Boston, Sept. 25.—The official report of the autopsy on the woman's body found in Winthrop harbor in a suit case last week was made public today. It declares that the victim died from a fatal hemorrhage following a criminal operation. Stress is laid by the medical examiner on the fact that the woman was dissected by a person unusually skillful in surgery. The medical examiner also gives it as his belief that the woman was growing ill and 25 years old.

The woman's hair, the medical examiner says, was of a light brown color. The long hair from the head found on the oil cloth in which the torso was wrapped also showed that she was a blonde. The removal of the woman's head, arms and legs was accomplished by cuts clearly made with a knife. Two incisions found in the torso itself and made, possibly, for the purpose of determining the cause of death were also made after life had become extinct.

PUBLIC HEALTH ASSOCIATION BREWMASTERS IN CONVENTION

Opens Thirty-Third Annual Meeting With a Large Attendance.

Boston, Sept. 25.—Physicians, surgeons and bacteriologists from all parts of the United States and from Canada and Mexico have come to this city to attend the thirty-third annual meeting of the American public health association which opened today, and will continue until Friday night. A wide range of subjects for discussion touching the day and Tuesday. On Wednesday the convention proper will hold its opening sessions tomorrow, and all its general meetings will take place in the afternoon. The Y. M. C. A. building in Boylston street. A public reception will be tendered the delegates on Tuesday. On Wednesday and Thursday there will be an excursion to points of interest, in addition to the business sessions. Friday will be devoted to reading and discussing of papers. The president of the association who will preside at the meetings, is Dr. F. F. Westbrook of Minneapolis, Minn.

Cincinnati, Sept. 25.—Several hundred delegates to the seventeenth annual convention of the National Association of Brewers have arrived in this city before the hour set for the opening of the convention today. Every state in the union is represented, and between 600 and 650 delegates are looked for. Although the formal opening of the convention did not occur until afternoon, a preliminary business session of an informal nature occupied the morning. No questions of especial importance were expected to come up for consideration, although a general discussion of the work in hand will probably be held. Questions of considerable importance are to come up during the meetings.

IT MUST BE RATIFIED BY RIKSDAG AND STORTING Provides For Arbitration of Disputes Except Those of Vital Interest.

Neutral Zone to Be Established and Fortresses Therein to Be Demolished.

Stockholm, Sept. 25.—The Associated Press has succeeded in securing the text of the protocol signed at Karlstad, Saturday, by the Norwegian-Swedish delegates appointed to arrange the terms for the dissolution of the union of Norway and Sweden, subject to the ratification of the riksdag and storting. The historic document which will become a treaty when ratified by the two parliaments consists of five main articles and thirty-five sub-clauses. The first article deals with arbitration, the second with the neutral zone and the demolition of the fortifications; the third with reindustrialization, the fourth with inter-traffic, and the fifth with common waterways.

The agreement provides for the compulsory arbitration before the Hague court of all disputes except matters of vital interest, for the period of ten years, unless two years' previous notice is given of an intention to abrogate it.

The treaty provides for a zone on either side of the frontier, which shall forever be neutral, and for the demolition of the fortresses within that zone, with the exception of the old portions of the fortifications of Frederiksten, Gyldenlove and Overberg, get, which may remain, but which are not to be used as fortifications. A headquarters for the army and garrison may be maintained at Frederiksten to the same extent as prior to the erection of the new fortifications. No extension of the Kongsvinger group of fortifications will be permitted, nor of the new forts erected within ten kilometers of the old fortress of Kongsvinger.

Article 1, relating to arbitration, is subdivided into eight clauses, as follows:

A.—The two countries undertake to submit all matters of dispute to the Hague arbitration court which do not affect the independence, integrity or vital interests of either.

B.—In the event of a difference of opinion between the two countries as to whether a given question touches the vital interests of one of them, the matter shall be submitted to the arbitration tribunal for decision.

C.—Disputes in regard to the interpretation of the method of carrying out the agreement to be arrived at in connection with the dissolution of the union shall not, however, be submitted to the Hague court.

D. E and G.—Provide for the constitution of the court in accordance with the rules of the Hague convention, the changes of documents, and who are qualified to act as arbitrators, etc.

H.—This agreement is to remain in force for a decade from date of its signature. It may be extended for a similar period if it is not denounced by either party at least two years before the expiration of the term of ten years.

Article 2, dealing with the neutral zone, is subdivided into nine clauses:

A.—In order to insure peace between the two countries a zone is to be provided on each side of the frontier which shall forever be neutral and must not be used by either country for war operations nor can there be stationed or gathered within the zone armed military forces except as provided in clause "F", and such as are necessary to maintain order or cope with accidents. If either country constructs railroads through the zone, troops may be transported and people living within the zone may be collected there for military duty but must immediately be transported away. Fortifications, war ports or depots for army or navy must not be maintained nor new ones established within the zone. One agreement is suspended in the case the two countries assist each other in a war against a common enemy and also if one or the other goes to war with a third power.

B.—Therefore the fortifications now existing within the above neutral zone shall be demolished, viz. the Norwegian groups of fortifications at Frederiksten, Gyldenlove, Overberg and Weden and Hjelmskollen, Gerje, with Kroksund and Dingsrud.

C.—The above mentioned fortifications shall be demolished as such. The old fortifications at Frederiksten, Gyldenlove and Overberg may remain, but not as fortifications. Concerning the modern arrangements of the last three and concerning the action to be taken in regard to their fortifications more explicit agreements are related in a separate treaty of equal force with this.

D.—The measures mentioned in clause "C" must be completed within eight months from the date of the becoming effective.

E.—Provide that the above measures shall be carried out under the supervision of a commission composed of three officers of foreign nationalities, neither Swedish nor Norwegian, each country choosing one and the third to be selected by the two, or in case of a disagreement by the members of Switzerland. More explicit rules concerning the control are to be contained in the aforementioned separate treaty.

E.—Frederiksten may remain the headquarters of the staff of the district and a place of garrison and site of the non-commissioned officers academy to the same extent as before the erection of the new fortifications. The Kongsvingers group of fortifications may not be extended either as regards the erection of armaments of the garrison, which latter hitherto has not exceeded 300 men not counting conscripts holding their yearly exercises.

In consequence of the above agreements, new fortifications may not be erected within ten kilometers of the old fortress of Kongsvinger.

The succeeding clauses provide that in case of disagreements as to the meaning of this clause which diplomacy may be unable to solve, they shall be submitted to an arbitration tribunal of three members chosen in accordance with the Hague convention.

The last clause reads:

"This agreement becomes effective immediately. It cannot be broken by any one party to the agreement."

Article 3 refers to reindustrialization, etc., as follows:

A.—For humanitarian reasons, both countries agree to grant each country's nomadic Laplanders the privileges contained in the amendment of 1883 to the treaty of 1751, which amendment neither country shall demand to be canceled without the consent of the other.

B.—Enumerates the conditions under which Laplanders may pasture reindeer in Norway until the end of the year 1917.

C.—In ample time before the end of the year 1917 negotiations are to be opened concerning the above matter.

D.—Stipulates arbitration in case of disagreements.

Article 4 deals with inter-traffic, as follows:

A.—Each country agrees neither through prohibitory import nor export laws to in any way interfere with or make difficult the transport or transit of goods. In case of war complications with or between other powers or in other extraordinary cases arms and munition and other war material shall be deemed contraband. Explanations may be made as demanded by international law, but the security of their own neutrality. Exceptions may also be made for sanitary reasons.

B.—Transit goods must not be taxed with export duty or similar charges, nor must any distinction be made in charges of transit.

C.—D and E.—Contain rules concerning the charges on transit goods. The principal object is that no higher charges shall be made in the case of the countries' goods.

F.—This agreement is for thirty years from Jan. 1, 1906, and may be prolonged for a similar period if notice of cancellation is not given at least five years prior to the end of that period.

G. and H.—Contain special stipulations concerning the Ofoten railroad and arbitration.

Article 5, referring to common waterways, reads:

A.—If a proposition is made for damming waterways or similar work within one country, that country's laws shall decide the matter, although the action may interfere with the water of the other country, the inhabitants of which have the same rights.

B.—In accordance with international precedent, it is stipulated that such works may not be carried out without the permission of the other country if it is likely to interfere with the use of such water for commercial purposes or cause great changes within an extended area.

C and D.—Concern matters of detail.

E.—This agreement is valid for fifty years from Jan. 1, 1906 and is prolonged for an equal period if notice of cancellation is not given five years previously.

F.—Provides for an arbitration agreement.

The protocol was signed for Sweden by Christian Lundberg, the premier; Count A. F. Wahlmeier, minister of foreign affairs; Halmar Hummelskjold, minister of education, and Karl Staaf, and for Norway by Christian Mikkelsen, the premier; Carl D. Berner, president of the storting; J. Loveland, minister of foreign affairs, and Benj. Vogt, former minister of the interior.

FIRES INTO A CROWDED CAR Italian Takes Revenge For Being Ejected From the Car.

Kansas City, Sept. 25.—Frank Mikel, an Italian, shot into a crowded street car a mile from the business district last night because he had been ejected from the car. He was chased by a crowd of men that gathered quickly and was badly beaten before the police rescued him. Mikel sought refuge in a basement from which he was dragged by the crowd and it probably was due only to the arrival of police that he was not killed. The bullet fired by Mikel shattered the glass windows in the car above the heads of the passengers, barely missing a number of persons.

BIG CROWD IS DESIRED

To Be Free Expression of Views at Drainage Meeting.

Commercial Club Calls Attention to Importance of the Subject.

H. V. Ewa, secretary of the Commercial club, is today sending out the following letter to members of the organization:

"I am directed to inform you that there will be a meeting of the Commercial club on Friday evening, Sept. 29th at 8 p. m. for the purpose of bringing before our citizens the important question of drainage in Northern Minnesota lands.

"This as you are undoubtedly aware is a subject which vitally affects the northern part of our state, and Duluth in particular. We have thousands of acres of swamp land which through drainage would become productive and valuable for farming.

"A. G. Bernard, president, and H. G. Hays, secretary of the Minnesota State Drainage league, as well as others versed on the subject will be present to address the meeting. This is one of many subjects which affects our growth, and get in touch with the situation and show that the project has your moral support. We appreciate its importance and desire to see a large attendance of our members."

As explained in the letter, and has been frequently pointed out in the past, the matter of drainage of state lands is one of great importance to Duluth, and it is especially desired that there be a large attendance at the meeting next Friday night. The meeting will be a public one, and open to everyone who is in any way interested in the proposition. A free expression of views is desired.

IN HONOR OF CONSUELO.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Mackay Give Her a Dinner.

Roslyn, N. Y., Sept. 25.—Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Mackay's dinner Saturday night in the duchess of Marlborough's honor was one of the most elaborate ever given at Harbor Hill, the Mackay country seat near there. Besides the fifty guests at the table many neighbors came in later to the concert by a Metropolitan opera house orchestra, which played during the dinner. For the dinner two large round tables were spread, with twenty-five guests at each. Mr. Mackay and the duchess of Marlborough headed one. Mrs. Mackay and Olive H. P. Belmont the other. In the floral decorations purple orchids predominated. Orchids, it may be said, are adopted by Mrs. Mackay as a personal symbol, appearing in her new crest on her note paper, and embroidered on her gowns, linen and household decorations. The illuminations about the grounds gave the always beautiful place an effect worth traveling far to see, and was evidently appreciated by the people from all the country roundabout, for the roads surrounding the estate were thronged with people. The house was a blaze of light.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Oliver H. P. Belmont, August Belmont, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt, Mr. and Mrs. William B. Leeds, Ralph Pulitzer and William S. Moore.

TREASURER'S ACCOUNTS

For Sherburn County to Be Examined By State Inspector.

St. Paul, Sept. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—An inspector has been sent from the state public examiner's office to Sherburn county to examine the accounts of County Treasurer George Putnam, at Elk River. It is said that the Sherburn county board of auditors made an examination and found certain irregularities. It is also stated at the capital that Mr. Putnam had corrected an error in his accounts of $2,000.

HUNTERS' FEET COLD

Those Who Went to Woods Sunday Returned Disgusted.

Wet Ground Robs the Sport of All Its Pleasure.

Four members of Company C sought bears in the woods on the other side of Woodland, yesterday, and got nothing but wet feet although they saw one bear.

"The woods are too wet to hunt in," said Thomas Benhardt, one member of the militia party, today. "Until the ground dries up, there will be no pleasure at all going out. We waded through the mud yesterday, looking for bears. We saw one bear but that was before we had got out of the city limits. When it first rained, it did not run but we were anxious to get it out of town so we could shoot it, and gave chase. It was a big black fellow and it ran clumsily into the heart of the woods."

"Although running was very hard work, we followed as best we could and kept it in sight for some time. When we knew that we were out of the city limits, we all fired. Three of the shots must have hit the creature for it gave howls of rage and pain and started to run faster."

"The bear had made such better progress than we through the mud that it was almost out of range when we fired. We followed with the hope that it would drop from exhaustion but we were the first to drop. We had much to carry and the ground was so wet under foot that we gave up following the little trail of blood that the bear left. We turned our foot-steps toward the city. We won't go out again until it dries up."

In the party besides Mr. Benhardt, were Quartermaster Sergeant Leo Ziegler, Corporal Frank Smith and Private Harry C. Fisher. The latter was accompanied with their trips. The death of no bears was reported today.

New York, Sept. 25.—Paul Morton, president of the Equitable Life Assurance society, made a statement, today, with reference to the society's ownership of the Cafe Savarin, the restaurant located in the Equitable building, this city. The statement followed: "There is nothing new or sensational about the Cafe Savarin. I do not like the idea of the society being in the restaurant business, but it is a condition that I find and it will have to continue in the business until I can make other arrangements."

No officer, director or employee of this society is interested in any way in the profits of the cafe."

CROLIUS HAS QUIT CITY

Realty Agent Returns to Duluth After Strange Disappearance.

Quits Position Here and Leaves Immediately For Chicago.

A. M. Crollius, the local representative of the United States Installment Realty company of Minneapolis, whose mysterious absence from Duluth caused some comment among his friends and acquaintances during the past two weeks, returned Saturday, and, after resigning his position here, left the city almost immediately for Chicago.

It was learned at the company's office today that he went to Chicago, where he has secured another and better position. The traveling auditor of the company, who has been in charge of the Duluth branch, during the absence of Mr. Crollius, is still here, and declares that the latter was not discharged from the company, and there are no irregularities in his accounts.

During the time that Mr. Crollius was absent the auditor frankly admitted that he did not know when he was to return, nor where he really was, but said that he had not taken charge of the company's affairs here, and he professed it to be his regular visit to this station, and said that the officers of the company had no objection to his stay in Duluth until the return of the agent. No successor to Mr. Crollius has been appointed, and one who will probably remain until one is chosen.

He said this morning that Mr. Crollius had been in Chicago most of the time that he was away, and that he is now in that city, after having made a flying trip to Duluth. Aside from saying that he understood that he had secured a better position in the Windy City, the auditor he was unable to account for the actions of Mr. Crollius.

The portending fact was that the two men were in the city of Chicago, where they were in the testimony taken Saturday when Mr. Pfister was under examination under the discovery statute.

The hearing was before Court Commissioner McIlroy. So great was the interest in the case that many men were in the courtroom to see the chief of the "half-backs" as warm personal friends almost took away the breath of the half-backs of lawyers who had assembled for the examination.

CLEVELAND IS OPPOSED

To Woman Suffrage and Sees Peril In the Agitation.

Thinks Woman Is Temperamentally Unfit to Cast Her Ballot.

New York, Sept. 25.—"Even if every woman should exercise the suffrage, the votes of the thoughtful would almost certainly be outweighed by those of the disreputable, the ignorant, the thoughtless and the coerced," writes Grover Cleveland in the current issue of the Ladies' Home Journal, in discussing the question, "Would Woman's Suffrage Be Unwise?"

"No standard of advanced civilization can receive intelligent sanction that fails to yield to more womanhood the highest place among the social agencies that refine humanity and make the world better," he says. "And, of course, it is equally certain that the present social conditions approach perfect excellence, the more tender and careful will be the home and consideration accorded by all decent men to unperverted womanhood."

"It, however, these sentiments are to indicate a spirit of true and sterling manliness, they must rest upon something better than the shallow gallantry which, while professing admiration for woman-kind, indulges in a sort of playing toleration of feminine subordination and frailty. "Thoughtful and right-minded men base their opinion upon an instinctive consciousness of the fact that woman, by a shorter route, leads her to abstract moral truth; that if she deals mistakenly with practical problems it is because sympathy or sentiment clouds her perception of the truth; that if she is not gifted with the power of clear and logical reasoning she will, probably, remain until one is chosen."

"They know she is loving, long-suffering, self-sacrificing and tender, because God has made her so, and that it all gratefully realize that whatever she has or lacks the influence and ministrations of woman give firm footing and sure growth to man's best efforts."

"We have unfortunately fallen upon a time when doctrines are taught by women, and to women, and that in more or less directness to the subversion of sane and wholesome ideas of the work and mission of womanhood, and lead to a fanciful insistence upon sharing the same responsibilities allotted to man. As is usually the case, these advocates occasionally take as the object of effort, those most extreme and radical and unnatural change is forged to the front and assumed leadership."

"In outspoken discontent with the situation and opportunity American women now enjoy, these clamorous leaders have been led to believe that it is their duty to push the cause of woman's rights to the front and assumed leadership."

"A few more such ventures to publish some views I entertain touching woman's rights, and their tendency to desire here to make a statement which I am willing to have regarded somewhat in the light of a confession. In my former article a reference was made in the following terms to the movement on foot to secure for women the right to vote and otherwise participate in public affairs."

"Let it here be distinctly understood that no sensible man has fears of injury to the country on account of such participation. It is its dangerous undermining effect on the characters of the wives and mothers of our land that we fear."

"The subject under discussion was the unduly active in pushing the demand for woman suffrage point in the vindication to what they deemed a just cause. The woman's movement has been granted, I am afraid, however, that in dealing with this feature of the question these advocates occasionally take a mistaken view of the relationship between cause and effect. I believe it will be found that if the wise and progressive legislation in these woman suffrage states it weighed against such legislation in states where woman suffrage is withheld, the balance will certainly not be found against the latter."

As bearing upon the credit due to woman suffrage has been adopted, it is worth noting that the male voters exceptionally outnumber the female voters in all these localities.

"It is sometimes claimed that woman suffrage would have the effect of elevating and refining politics. Neither is short trial in four states, containing in

RAILROADS PAYS VISIT TO DULUTH

James J. Hill Here Sunday With a Party of Eastern Men.

Start For Coast After a Visit to the Range Iron Mines.

A party of prominent railroad men and Eastern financiers, including James J. Hill, president of the Great Northern road; J. L. Greatsinger of New York, former president of the Duluth & Iron Range, and L. W. Hill, were in the city for a short time yesterday morning, coming to Duluth in a special train of seven cars.

From here the special proceeded to the iron range, and from the mines went direct to British Columbia. Thence it will go to Portland, and, transferring there to the Northern Pacific line, will continue to Billings, Mont. From Billings it will go over the Burlington to St. Louis and Chicago, and then home to St. Paul. Conductor Power has charge of the train.

A. D. Thomson and Capt. Philbin of Duluth joined the party and accompanied it to the mines.

Those who are going with Mr. Hill to the coast are: George F. Baker, president of the First National bank; F. D. Underwood, president of the Erie railroad; Samuel Thorne, Jonathan Thorne, Amos T. French, Fletcher A. Baker, G. E. Kissel, Payne Whitney, Alexander Cochran, Samuel Hill, J. L. Greatsinger, J. C. Stuart, New York; and George C. Clark, Grant W. Schley and G. M. Lane, Boston.

The special left for Hibbing at 8 o'clock yesterday morning, and returned to the main line of the Great Northern division of the Great Northern at Swan River last evening, allowing members of the party plenty of time to inspect the Great Northern iron ore properties. The fee of the famous Mahoning and Stevenson mines is owned by the Hill interests, and their holdings of undeveloped iron lands on the range are extensive.

The party also visited Superior yesterday, inspecting the Great Northern terminals and the Allouez ore docks.

Rock Island May Extend Westward.

It is now reported that the Rock Island road is about to extend to the Pacific coast. Despite the fact that the Rock Island entered into a contract with E. H. Harriman not to cut into his exclusive territory, there are signs that President Winchell has found a way to get around this contract, and is putting his scheme into execution.

LAYING HEAVY RAILS.
New York Central Is Spending $4,700,000 For 100-Pound Variety.

The New York Central lines have decided to spend more than $4,700,000 in relaying all the main tracks with 100-pound rails. Orders for $5,000 tons of rails have been placed, and the work of laying them has begun.

The action marks a new era in the operation of railroads. Only last year the company was busy relaying old rails with 85-pound rails, and now these are to be replaced. This will require 170,000 tons of steel, all of which will be purchased in this country, with the exception of 25,000 pounds, which will be secured in Canada for the Michigan Central lines there.

It is said experience has shown that an 85-pound rail will not withstand the shock of heavy locomotives and the wear of the equipment now in use.

ENTHUSIASTIC OVER COUNTRY
Cruiser Has Glowing Tale of Richness of Region.

H. P. Thomas, a Duluth & Iron Range cruiser, has just returned from some land in the southern half of township 68, range 19, and is very enthusiastic over its possibilities as an agricultural spot.

"The land is the richest I have seen in this part of the country," said Mr. Thomas, this morning. "Anything that can be grown in the Northwestern states would certainly flourish there. I am surprised that it has been overlooked by those who have settled in this northern region for it certainly has everything I have struck for richness and general excellence."

"Several little streams flow through it and it has many other natural advantages. It is located from eight to fifteen miles southeast of Hibbing and is not quite so far from Iron Junction. There are no settlers there at present, but I predict that the course of another year or two will see it thickly settled."

As a result of Mr. Thomas's declaration, the land will probably be shown to the next party of townsmen or Nebraskans who come to the range country in search of fertile farm lands. Some are expected before the cold weather comes, and several different parties are planning to come up to hunt and to investigate the possibilities of the property.

TRIPLTS BORN TO GIRL.

Kankakee, Ill., Sept. 25.—Triplets, whose combined weight is twenty-five pounds, were born to Mrs. Mary Wright of Marshalltown, who weighs but 105 pounds herself, and is only 17 years old. The birth of three babies of such weight to such a young and small woman is said to be without precedent in medical annals.

THE COUNCIL MEETING.

Several Matters of Importance Are Due to Come Up.

Building Ordinance Will Be Placed on Its Second Reading.

Several matters of considerable importance are due to come up at the council meeting this evening, chief among which is the discussion of the new building ordinance.

The ordinance will be placed upon its second reading, and if there is no opposition to it, will probably be passed tonight. Should any opposition develop, however, action will be postponed, as the new ordinance works such a radical change in the city's building laws that the council would not be willing to act hastily on it in the face of opposition.

Up to the present time nothing has been heard of any effort to defeat the measure.

City Engineer McGilvray will also submit a report to the council this evening on the cost of repairing the Lake avenue viaduct. The figures have not been made public, but they will probably exceed $10,000.

WEST DULUTH

F. H. Wade, Lewis Clark, L. Funk of Wabasha, Charles Lawless, S. W. Hanchett, Frank Porceny, Ole Hanson and A. Jacoby went up the river hunting on Saturday night and while they had good luck catching fish and shooting ducks, they had more adventures than are ordinarily crowded into human life.

The beginning of things was when Ole Hanson hung his new gas lamp up on the tent pole and Arthur Jacoby on Saturday evening mistook it for a duck. Arthur let his magazine loose at it and succeeded in putting the gas lamp completely out of commission.

On Sunday Frank Porceny drew a head on a flock of ducks while he was standing in a boat. The next thing he knew he was standing on his head on the bottom of the St. Louis river and trying to blow imaginary feathers out of his mouth.

There were too many more things to try to recount them but everybody in the party had a good time. Most of those who fished caught bass, but Charles Lawless is quite chummy over the fact that he is the only one in the party who caught perch solely. He looks upon it as quite a distinction.

Rev. Johnson's Sermon.
In Plymouth Congregational church, West Duluth, last evening, Rev. H. W. Johnson, the pastor, took for the subject of his sermon the somewhat sensational phrase, "What makes Heaven and What Makes Hell in West Duluth."

However the sermon itself was a good conservative one despite the touch of sensationalism in the title. Mr. Johnson declared that "heaven" represents harmony, while "hell" represents disobedience to divine commands and wishes.

The greed for gain causes a whole lot of hell he said last night, taking liberties, such as Sabbath rest away from working men, and such things. No greed alone causes this earthly state of perdition, but liquor and other bad habits have a curdling tendency.

LODTMANN WAS OUT ON PAROLE

Forger Recently Sentenced Was Wanted By Joliet Prison Authorities.

When William Lotdmann, the forger recently sentenced to Stillwater from the district court, is released he may face a term of imprisonment in the Illinois penitentiary at Joliet.

Chief Troyer received a letter this morning from the warden of the Joliet prison, stating that Lotdmann had been released from that institution on parole, and that he had broken the parole by leaving the state. He was therefore, subject to another term of confinement until his sentence was served out, or until he was again released by the board of pardons.

The letter asked that, if Lotdmann could not be convinced here, he be held for the Illinois authorities, who would send after him.

Lotdmann has already gone to Stillwater, and if the Joliet prison authorities still want him, they can get him in two years and a half.

URBAN TRANSIT IMPROVEMENT

To Be Discussed at Meeting of Street Railway Association.

Philadelphia, Sept. 25.—Street cars, their manufacture and operation and methods for improving urban transit will occupy the attention of the American Street Railway Association during the remainder of the week. The twenty-fourth annual meeting of the association began today, in the Commercial Museum building. President W. Cary Ely of Buffalo, called the convention to order and the members were welcomed by Mayor Weaver.

At the business session papers were read by C. H. Ely, superintendent of wires, Boston elevated railway, and L. P. Creel, chief electrician, United Railways company, St. Louis. A report was presented by J. S. Doyle, master mechanic of the Interborough Rapid Transit company, New York, and chairman of the committee on controlling apparatus.

In addition to the convention of the association, there will be meetings of the American Street Railway Manufacturers association, the American Mechanical & Electrical association, the Accountants association and the American Association of Street Railway Claims Agents.

The officers of the Street Railway association are: W. Cary Ely, Buffalo, president; Edwin C. Foster, New Orleans, first vice president; John I. Boggs, Milwaukee, second vice president; Richard McCullough, St. Louis, third vice president; T. C. Pennington, Chicago, secretary and treasurer.

TREASURY NOW APPEARS NEW

Shaw Ignores Art Critics' Protest and Cleans the Building.

Washington, Sept. 25.—By the time another year rolls around radical changes undoubtedly will have been made in the architecture of the treasury building, which is one of the most imposing public structures in the national capital. A few weeks ago, professional architects were much disturbed over an order issued by Secretary Shaw, directing that the exterior of the treasury building be cleaned from top to bottom. An army of men were employed in the work, and a specially prepared compound was used for the purpose, the result being that in a short time the building began to look as good as new.

A protest went up from the art critics, who contended that the aged appearance of the building gave it an artistic style that was evidently not appreciated by Mr. Shaw of Iowa. The secretary of the treasury maintained his ground, and the treasury building now, with the exception of the thirty immense pillars on the east front, shines and glistens in the sunlight. The stone looks as if it had just been cut out of the quarries. The men who patented the preparation which accomplished this work probably will grow rich out of the advertising he got on the treasury job.

Still another change in the building is planned by Secretary Shaw if he can get the consent of congress. Complaint has been made that the old front pillars, which are of sandstone, are beginning to disintegrate, and builders contend that they really are dangerous. Secretary Shaw wants to replace the sandstone with granite, and he will ask congress for an appropriation for the purpose. It is estimated that the work will cost about $250,000.

LOVELIEST WOMAN

At a Swell London Dinner Was Mrs. Almeric Paget.

London, Sept. 25.—Mrs. Almeric Paget was the loveliest woman at the big dinner party Princess Duple Singh gave last week. She wore a beautiful dress of electric blue, made in the severest manner possible, the skirt fitting her figure like a glove, and falling out in deep folds toward the hem. The bodice was simply crossed over in soft folds, and in the waistband was a bunch of crimson roses. She wore a rose in her pretty, soft hair.

She sat next to the earl of Suffolk, and opposite was the countess of Suffolk, wearing one of her wedding trousseau frocks of deep cream crepe de chine, with touches of eau-de-nil ribbons and a pearl necklace. Mrs. and Mrs. Payne Whitney were also there. As they were passing in to dinner, some Americans, who had carefully examined the visitors' book, where Mrs. A. Paget's name was entered, were quite agast at her healthy appearance, taking her for a "pale" woman. "How the papers exaggerate," said one, "had the operation been so fearful as they said, Mrs. Paget could never be walking about today."

IDENTIFY BY THUMBS.

New Method to Be Adopted By French Banks.

Paris, Sept. 25.—When it was suggested a few weeks ago that it would be a good thing for banks to preserve thumb prints of their depositors, who would need no other method of identification, most Parisians took it as a joke. Surprise, therefore, was manifested over the announcement last week that the Societe Generale is going to try the idea from the beginning of the year.

On depositing money there or at the provincial branches, a depositor will be required to leave the imprint of his thumb. This will be duly catalogued, after being photographed, and included in a regular alphabetical collection sent to every branch at home and abroad. Thus, when a depositor in one part of the country calls at a branch in another part for money, a great amount of time will be saved, for he can draw the money by the imprint of his thumb. The present system he must wait till the check is sent to his home branch before the money is paid.

"Fingers always existed under the old system," says the secretary, "and we think they will be reduced to a minimum by the new method."

If you ever took DeWitt's Little Early Riser for biliousness or constipation you know what a pleasant surprise the famous little pills cleans the liver and rid the system of all ailments without producing unpleasant effects. Sold by all druggists.

BAPTISTS' CONVENTION

State Gathering to Be Held Here In October.

Duluth Members of County Attorney Returns Church Prepare to Entertain Delegates.

The Baptists of Minnesota will hold their annual convention in Duluth, Oct. 9 to 13, and about 250 clerical and lay delegates are expected to attend.

The sessions will be held in Pilgrim Congregational church, the local Baptists having decided that they had no so large a convention. They decided to rent the Congregational church, and when members of Pilgrim congregation made a magnificent offer, it was promptly accepted.

Although the Swedish Baptists have a state convention of their own, they will probably attend the one here at Duluth. Delegates from both the English speaking and Scandinavian churches will be present from all parts of the state, and the Baptists of Duluth are preparing to entertain them.

C. H. Giddings is chairman of the general committee on arrangements. Following are the heads of other important committees who will have the preparation for the meeting and the entertainment of the delegates in charge:

Mrs. Fred Griffith, chairman of the reception committee; Mrs. R. G. Henderson, chairman of the entertainment committee; G. K. Reis, chairman of the committee on assignments; Rev. J. W. Loughridge, chairman of the press committee and John Brown, chairman of the committee on ushers. Committee meetings have been held already and plans for the handling of the big meeting made. A delegation of Duluth Baptists will meet the delegates coming from the Twin Cities and the southern part of the state at Hinckley and will assign them to the places they are to be entertained, before they reach Duluth.

The program for the convention has not been completed yet. It is practical to say that Z. D. Scott will deliver the principal address of welcome to the visitors but aside from this nothing definite is known.

It is not known now who will preside during the convention as the first business taken up at the annual session is the election of a chairman who presides during the entire time. No one has been mentioned in connection with the office.

Some important business will come up at this session, and many of the delegates during the five days will undoubtedly be very well attended.

MANY MILLIONS

Of Dollars In United States Treasury to Be Counted.

Washington, Sept. 25.—There is more than two billions of dollars of money in the United States, and the amount in circulation is estimated by the federal officials to exceed $31 per capita of the population. This is one way of showing how much money there is in the country. But that does not begin to put the matter in the graphic way that it can be shown up by a statement which is brought out in connection with the work now in progress of counting the money in the treasury vaults here.

The change in the office of treasurer of the United States, which is now being made, has resulted in a new counting of the money in the vaults. It is a big job besides which the counting of the money in a half dozen of the biggest grain warehouses in the country would be a small affair.

Some idea of the magnitude of the counting work may be shown by the statement that there are eight vaults holding cash in the treasury. One vault contains $107,000,000 standard silver dollars, another contains $22,575,000 silver certificates, another contains $43,500,000 United States notes, one vault contains $45,531,000 in standard silver dollars, another contains $24,275,000 in gold certificates and other forms of money held for redemption of notes of all kinds.

The silver vault, which is the largest one in the basement of the treasury, is eighty-nine feet long, fifty-one feet wide and twelve feet high. Sacks of standard silver dollars are corded up in that vault like grain in a warehouse. In one vault is kept $20,000,000 in government bonds deposited to secure circulation of national bank notes.

BULLET STUCK IN GUN.

Boy With Blank Cartridge Burst Barrel -- Boy In Hospital.

Hawkins, Wis., September 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fred Thomas, 14 years old, son of John Thomas, met with a serious accident yesterday afternoon. He was rigging up his gun to go hunting, when in some manner a bullet stuck in the barrel near the muzzle. He attempted to dislodge it by placing a blank cartridge in the gun and fired it. The result was that the gun exploded in a thousand places, lacerating his face and filling it with powder. His eyes, however, it is thought are uninjured.

Blom Gets Small Verdict.

A sealed verdict returned in district court Friday evening, last, in the case of Magnus Blom, judgment for $150 against the Duluth & Northwestern Railway company. This case was the first of the several of the same nature notified for trial this term. The parties bringing the actions claim that a fire was started in the timber from sparks from a locomotive owned by the company. They ask damages. A jury was drawn this morning for the trial of another of the cases, that of Andrew Nelson against the railroad company.

DEATH LIST NOW SIX.
Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 25.—Robert Richwine, the express agent who was injured in the wreck on the Philadelphia, Harrisburg & Reading road near Barnitz last Thursday died today. This makes the sixth death due to accident.

SAW BOOKER THROW ROCK

Two Women Give Strong Testimony In Assyrian Assault Case.

Duluth Members of County Attorney Returns From Business Trip to Chisholm.

Trial of the state's case against Bert Booker, charged with assaulting an Assyrian named Hagar, last July, was resumed at 11 o'clock this morning. County Attorney McClintock being delayed on account of a late train from the range, where it is understood he has been to collect evidence to be used in the trial of the Chisholm officials and the carnival proprietors indicted by the grand jury.

Mrs. Williams, who was on the stand Friday afternoon, was recalled for cross examination. She claimed to have witnessed the start and the end of the fight between Booker and his four companions with the six or seven men from the Assyrian colony, living on the flats below Michigan street, at Fifteenth avenue west.

Mrs. Williams was positive that she saw Booker throw the rock which hit Hagar in the head. She said that as it was thrown she shouted to Hagar to look out, that the rock would hit him. According to her testimony Hagar was walking toward his house when struck down.

After Hagar was injured, Mrs. Williams says two of the Assyrians followed the Booker crowd to Garfield avenue to find a policeman, but that she telephoned to headquarters for the officers.

Mrs. Lizzie Gardner, who resides at 1223 West Michigan street and who is alleged to have been a witness of the fight told practically the same story of the assault on Hagar. She said Booker and his crowd were drunk and that they started the trouble by attempting to enter the premises of the Assyrians.

Mrs. Williams was positive that she saw Booker hit Hagar with the first rock he threw, that it hit something and glanced. It was the second missile he hurled, she claimed, that hit the Assyrian. Chester, the assaulter, beat and choked Hagar was hurt Booker swore at his companions and told them to come against her, and told them not to render him any assistance about the house, that Hovestine repeatedly threw her out of the house and told her not to come back. She alleges that when she left him for good, in 1898, he had threatened to drive rapidly across the city and kill her.

The next matters to be taken up by the state are the trial of Mrs. Caroline Howenstine, charged with cruel treatment.

Mrs. Caroline Howenstine, who has brought suit in district court for a decree of divorce from her common law husband, William Howenstine, a well-known old resident of Minnesota Point, has given notice through her attorneys, Reynolds & McClean, that when the case is called for trial she will move the court for an order granting leave to amend her answer to the cross-bill filed by her husband.

She states that in this amended answer she will admit that she and Howenstine entered into a marriage contract on or about 1871, and lived together as man and wife until September, 1888.

Mrs. Howenstine denies several of the specific allegations in Mr. Howenstine's cross-bill, or counter claim, and alleges that about fifteen years ago her husband began a course of cruel inhuman treatment towards her, and continued it until she ceased to live with him, in 1898.

During the period that she lived with her husband, Mrs. Howenstine claims that there were many different occasions when he, without cause or provocation, struck her, beat and kicked her, that on one occasion he compelled her to lie on her back, to be assaulted, beat and choke her.

Mrs. Howenstine also alleges that her husband incited their children against her, and that he and she were intervals of a few seconds when his mind appeared to be wandering. Dr. Linneman claimed that the injury was a very severe one and might have caused death. Pieces of Hagar's skull were exhibited by the state.

This afternoon testimony is being introduced for the defense, but it is hardly probable that the case will go to the jury before tomorrow morning.

Mrs. Howenstine denies several of the specific allegations in Mr. Howenstine's cross-bill, or counter claim, and alleges that about fifteen years ago her husband began a course of cruel inhuman treatment towards her, and continued it until she ceased to live with him, in 1898.

During the period that she lived with her husband, Mrs. Howenstine claims that there were many different occasions when he, without cause or provocation, struck her, beat and kicked her, that on one occasion he compelled her to lie on her back, to be assaulted, beat and choke her.

Mrs. Howenstine also alleges that her husband incited their children against her, and that he and she were intervals of a few seconds when his mind appeared to be wandering. Dr. Linneman claimed that the injury was a very severe one and might have caused death. Pieces of Hagar's skull were exhibited by the state.

This afternoon testimony is being introduced for the defense, but it is hardly probable that the case will go to the jury before tomorrow morning.

The next matters to be taken up by the state are the trial of Mrs. Caroline Howenstine, charged with cruel treatment.

Mrs. Caroline Howenstine, who has brought suit in district court for a decree of divorce from her common law husband, William Howenstine, a well-known old resident of Minnesota Point, has given notice through her attorneys, Reynolds & McClean, that when the case is called for trial she will move the court for an order granting leave to amend her answer to the cross-bill filed by her husband.

She states that in this amended answer she will admit that she and Howenstine entered into a marriage contract on or about 1871, and lived together as man and wife until September, 1888.

RAISING MELONS HAS PAID WELL

An Iowan Made $300 Off an Acre of Land.

Webster City, Iowa, Sept. 25.—Three hundred dollars in one year off an acre and a half of Iowa land.

Can it be done? Most people—even including Iowans—will think not. But J. V. Hotchkiss, who resides north of this city, is demonstrating this season that large though these figures may seem, an acre and a half of the good old Iowa soil will actually bring him these returns.

Mr. Hotchkiss planted this little patch to watermelons and cantaloupes this season. There is an acre and a half in cantaloupes and a quarter of an acre of watermelons. The latter, however, have not done very well, and even the former are not doing as well as their owner believes he could do with a more favorable season.

There is a knack about raising melons, and Mr. Hotchkiss is a man who thoroughly has the knack. He has been raising them for more than twenty years and understands their culture from A to Z. He is well known to Webster City people, and brings to the city some of the finest melons during the course of the season ever sold here. All the land that he farms is his little patch of melons, but it is a man him busy. He has a small garden patch beside, but his melon crop is really his whole crop.

This year the early melons were spotted by the few weeks of drought that came just at the wrong time of the year for the melons. His late crop, however, is doing nicely. Last year the excessive rains just at the wrong season for melons caused an excessive growth, and the most of the cantaloupes grew so fast they split open. The watermelons, on the other hand, did not split, but grew from the rind, making the latter twice as sometimes three times as thick as normal.

Mr. Hotchkiss has raised watermelons that weighed 160 pounds, but the smaller watermelons and cantaloupes. His patch is the finest of its kind in the state, and is a curiosity to see.

He believes that with the weather in a normal condition during the whole of the spring and summer, he could increase his yield to about $600 from this acre and a half patch. But a man must thoroughly understand his business to measure up to Mr. Hotchkiss' record.

TWO ELECTROCUTED.

Heavy Current Conveyed to Them Through a Tape Line.

St. Paul, Sept. 25.—Jesse Donahue of Minneapolis and Harry Ripson of Cuba, Mo., members of a gang of telephone men constructing a line between St. Paul and Stillwater, were electrocuted yesterday. Ripson was at the top of a cable pole holding one end of a measuring tape, while Donahue, on the ground, held the other. The tape line was of linen, but had run through it two strands of wire. It came in contact with a heavy charged power cable, and both men received the full force of the current, killing them instantly. Ripson fell from the top of the pole and his neck was broken.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS.

A bulletin issued from the office of the International Typographical union shows that 24 subordinates unions are now working on an 8-hour basis, or have arranged to do so not later than Jan. 1, 1906. Some such agreements have been signed in sixty-six cities.

One mailman was instantly killed and the other escaped death by jumping when two trolley cars on the Albany & Hudson electric railway, met in a head-on collision Sunday morning, N. Y. No passengers were injured.

An extra work train on the Cairo division of the Erie railroad ran into the rear end of an extra freight train at a crossing near Buffalo, N. Y., Sunday afternoon. Four trainmen were injured, one fatally. The engine of the work train was demolished and the caboose and two cars of the freight train were reduced to scrap iron and kindling wood.

The courthouse at New Madrid, Mo., was burned at an early hour Sunday morning. The incident is thought to have been incendiary. Many tin and drainage records were destroyed, but the court records were saved. Six murder trials are pending, but all indictments returned at the term were burned which may make continuances necessary.

In one of the roughest games of football ever witnessed in Chicago the St. Paul team and the Calumet of Chicago played to a tie Sunday, the final score being 2 to 2. This gives the St. Paul team possession of the Canning cup, they having won three games to two victories from the Chicago aggregation in the games that have been played for the trophy.

William H. Bonham, 19 years old, and Lucy Miller, aged 16 years, of Indianapolis were drowned Sunday at Broad street bridge, eight miles northeast of that city, while canoeing. The boat upset and both before assistance could be rendered both were beyond help.

General strength tests which have been applied by the medical authorities of the naval academy to the 29 new midshipmen show that Charles F. Chambers of Steubenville, Ohio, is the strongest member of the class, his total strength being represented by 1,106 kilos. Lee Carey of Snow Hill, Md., is second with 1,064 kilos. Both are members of the football squad.

Two killed in train wreck. Binghamton, N. Y., Sept. 25.—An Erie passenger train, southbound, was wrecked in a collision with an engine about a quarter of a mile east of Susquehanna, Pa., at 7 o'clock last night. Both engines were turned over. The collision was caused by an engine from a coal pocket making an attempt to cross the main line. Frank Robbins of Susquehanna, engineer of the wrecked train, was killed. The engineer of the engine, O'Rourke, is thought to be under his engine. An Erie detective named Hetherly, was fatally injured by being thrown from the baggage car.

NINE PERSONS INJURED BY FLAMES AT ST. LOUIS.

St. Louis, Sept. 25.—A series of accidents yesterday resulted in the injury of nine persons by fire, some of them being probably fatally hurt.

A gasoline cleaning apparatus in a south side street clothing store was exploded and four persons were burned, two of whom, Frank Sues, aged 13, and William Sues, aged 19, are not expected to recover.

Three freight men on the Iron Mountain road were fatally injured in a collision Sunday morning at St. Louis. One of the men, suffering from burns received at Arcadia by an explosion of gasoline cans, containing gasoline. Gas from a leaky barrel ignited from a lighted lantern, and an explosion followed, burning the three.

A 9-year-old girl named Becky Minkel, was watching a bon fire in the yard of her home, when her clothing became ignited. Max Rosenblatt, aged 22, ran to her and was badly burned in extinguishing the flames. He was taken to the city hospital, and it is said his hands may have to be amputated. The little girl was not badly burned.

Connections East

No matter which train nor which railroad you select to travel in the West, you will find there waiting for you one of the eastbound trains of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul.

There are five trains via that line from Minneapolis and St. Paul to Chicago every day. These include the famous Pioneer Limited and East Mail. No extra fare to ride on them. But it is necessary to name your route when purchasing tickets. Write W. B. Dixon, Northwestern passenger agent, St. Paul, for full information regarding rates, etc.

ABSENTEES RETURNING

To Washington By Thousands and Homes Are Being Opened.

Leaders In Flutter Over Anticipated Visit of Prince Louis.

Washington, Sept. 25.—The national capital is "looking up" again. Its streets no longer present the appearance of "some banquet hall deserted," but are rapidly filling up with returned vacationers.

Doors and windows that have been boarded up since spring are again opened, churches are welcoming back their rejuvenated pastors, who are now prepared to dispense fresh "bread" to their ragged flock who again fill the pews, and the desks of department clerks, lately barren as a wind-swept plain, are again strewn with papers.

Every train from the North is crowded with home-seekers, and in many cases the roads are so tight that it has been necessary to add an additional section. The baggage piled mountains high in the railroad depots is a sight to see. People who went away with but one trunk are coming back with three—the one they took with them containing soiled clothing and the other two souvenirs of all sorts, such as country preserves, dried things good to eat, nuts, etc.

The other day an overfilled trunk in one of the stations sprang a leak, and out of it flowed a liquid which caused a campaign to be waged for its removal and proceeded to save from going to waste by means of hastily collected tin cups.

The next day when the owner of the trunk called for his property he was informed about the leakage. He replied that it was not of much consequence, and he only wanted a new bottle of whisky in which he had preserved the body of a snake. Needless to say there were several sick porters and a sensation in the room for the next few days.

More brilliant social doings than ever before are foretold for the "in the know" for the coming winter. No foreign war now disturbs our international connections, no political campaign is imminent, and with a few notable exceptions, everybody who ordinarily contributes to the season's gaiety will be here to meet the newcomers who have great ambitions along the social line and are waiting impatiently for the proper moment to show what they can do.

Among the first of events important to the social world is the arrival of Prince Louis of Battenberg, about the first of November—which is not likely to be a social sensation as was Mr. Witte's Sunday call.

The British North Atlantic squadron, under command of Prince of Wales, is in the road off Annapolis, while the commander-in-chief and his staff officers make their way to the city. They will be received by the president at the White House with proper ceremony, but the details have not yet been announced.

Elaborate preparations are also being made in New York for the visit of the prince and the officers of the squadron, and the New York Yacht club, the Union, the Knickerbocker, the Calumet and the other fashionable clubs are already organizing functions in their homes. Besides all this many parties are planned for the many persons who are expected to come to the city.

One of the biggest banquets will be given by the Pilgrim society, of which Bishop Potter is president. It is expected that the society will have a large number of guests, including the prince and his staff officers.

The Pilgrim club in London has always taken a keen interest in the entertainment of the officers of the United States navy when the fleet visits the city. The English club has been very successful in this regard.

The probabilities are that we are going to have a very successful season. The prince and his staff will be able to enjoy, as the squadron is at Gibraltar the latter part of the summer.

The duchess of Marlborough—"our Wilhelmina" as she is called—ready Consul. In this country, but is not likely to visit Washington.

She intends to spend a month visiting her mother at Hempstead, and her brother at Deepdale, Great Neck, L. I. No end of stunning entertainments have been projected for her at various country homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Mackay will have her for a house guest at their splendid place on Long Island, and will give a dinner of sixty covers in her honor, followed by a musicale. Mrs. Mackay was one of Consul Vanderbilt's bridesmaids, you know.

Besides these horse shows, dog hunts, races and other autumn diversions of this millionaire clique, interspersed with balls, dinners, etc., which will lead the duchess a merry chase during every moment of her stay.

"Our Consul" was never called a beauty by her most partial friends, being much too slight and dark for that distinction. If she had happened to have been born a shopgirl, for example, the figure which is now called "well" would have been characterized as "scrappy." But she is sweet and dainty, as in the days of her girlhood, and is apparently unspoiled by all the honors that have been showered upon her, including the friendship of King Edward.

When she landed in New York the other day, she wore a girlish costume of black and white striped silk, trimmed with Irish crochet lace and a long grey coat. Her hair was a big black braid, which showed a bit of pink near the face, to match that under the lace collar of her dress.

Occasional echoes come to us of the large and lively "Tart party" have been enjoying life on board the Manxton, the "Tart party" have been enjoying life on board the Manxton, the "Tart party" have been enjoying life on board the Manxton.

A chief among them "takin' notes," and one of his (or her) published letters contain the following revealing outlay. The other night some ladies of the party promoted a sheet and pillow case fund, and the "Tart party" have been enjoying life on board the Manxton.

It was given by Stuyvesant Fish, Jr., who said he was celebrating his 21st birthday. After it there was a "Tart party" have been enjoying life on board the Manxton.

A few years more and acknowledged that the date was at another time of year. His guests included all the younger women on board and the men were all college conferees of the host.

Foolish favors, posies and other eccentricities added to the fun of the sheet and pillow case function. Everybody, young and old, jumped into the spirit of the occasion. At least a dozen of the larger men, including such giants as Senators Warren, Scott and Long, and many of the most dignified members of the house, stuffed pillows underneath their seats.

The most alluring figure was that of Representative Nicholas Longworth. He also had pillow accompaniment. On top of his head, which was enveloped in white, he wore a crush hat, which was barely ready for any trouble. When the band played a Hawaiian air, his graceful movements, with pillow accompaniment, were beyond description.

Later a cake-walk elicited unbounded admiration.

To hold the cars and engines would require nearly every foot of four tracks extending from New York to San Francisco. The necessary single track would measure half the circumference of the globe.

These figures do not fully indicate the wealth which the American farmer has taken from his land in corn, oats, wheat, barley and clover.

The railroad men's estimates are confined to the grain which will be moved to market on the steam roads. Probably not more than a third of the grain produced will ever see the ocean.

The other two-thirds will be hauled by local mills in wagons or be consumed by local stock raisers. It is reasonable to hold the corn crop alone would call for a train 21,000 miles in length.

In this statement the reason for the unparalleled preparations of Western railroads for traffic this season is reasonable. Grain will be ready to market, and we are forced to rush his grain to market, as he has no other means of disposing of it.

Suppose the railroads would be swamped with grain traffic.

It is not likely that the wheat and oat crops of Minnesota and the Dakotas at 250,000,000 bushels, or the 250,000,000 bushels of corn, or the 250,000,000 bushels of wheat and oats from the three states mentioned, or 4,325 trains of forty cars each every day of the year.

MANY MILES OF CARS REQUIRED

To Handle the Grain Traffic For This Crop Year.

Chicago, Sept. 25.—The American farmer is a very prosperous individual, according to railroad statisticians, who have figured that the grain traffic for this crop year will aggregate 1,500,000 cars.

If all this grain could be hauled in a single train of freight cars the train would be 11,931 miles long, exclusive of the locomotives that would be needed to move it.

This into trains of forty cars each there would be required 37,500 locomotives, or 355 miles of draught machinery. Adding this 355 miles to the 11,931 miles of cars there is a total of 12,286 miles.

The other day an overfilled trunk in one of the stations sprang a leak, and out of it flowed a liquid which caused a campaign to be waged for its removal and proceeded to save from going to waste by means of hastily collected tin cups.

The next day when the owner of the trunk called for his property he was informed about the leakage. Is the United States in Total Consumption of Tobacco.

More Than Twice Amount Consumed in Germany or Russia.

Washington, Sept. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The United States leads all other nations in the total consumption of tobacco, while Belgium stands at the head of the tobacco-consuming countries so far as the per capita consumption of the "fragrant weed" is concerned. Germany and Russia are the only other two countries besides the United States which show a total consumption of over 100 million pounds.

While the habit of using tobacco may be regarded as well-nigh universal, though not all the countries show an increase in the use of this narcotic during the more recent period, the per capita consumption in the different countries is not nearly so uniform.

Great Britain does not produce any tobacco, but imports all she uses from abroad, principally from this country. The duties are very high, the average rate per pound being

THE CITIZENS OF MANITOWOC, WIS., PRECIPITATE A RIOT TO PREVENT USE OF WATER FROM THE RIVER

Mayor Assaulted and
or Less Hurt.

Company Insisted Use of Water Necessary to Test Pipes.

Row a Culmination of
Election of Mayor.

Chicago, Sept. 25.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Manitowoc, Wis., says: An attempt of the Manitowoc Waterworks company to open a river intake pipe during a test of the plant yesterday precipitated a riot, in which citizens offered armed resistance to the plan. Mayor Stolz, who is charged with having been responsible, indirectly for the move made by the waterworks company, and who insisted that the test continue after he had been informed it would be necessary to open the river pipe, was assaulted by bystanders and knocked down.

City health officers had issued orders against the opening of the pipe, and in seeking to enforce the order, Health Officer Max Staehle was injured by being struck in the face by a heavy iron bar used for opening a shut off. Alderman Lorenzen was beaten also.

The riot is a culmination of a fight that started with the re-election of Stolz as mayor on a platform of city ownership of the water plant. The test of the pipe was directed by the council, two weeks ago, and the water company claimed that in order to meet the requirements of the test it would be necessary to open the river pipe, which would flood the entire system with river water, and would endanger public health.

Nothing interesting
Develops in Case of Watts, Charged With Bribing Detectives.

London, Sept. 25.—The taking of further evidence today at the Marlborough police court, in the case of Hugh Watts, the former member of parliament who is charged with attempting to bribe a private detective, named Marshall, to assist him in murdering his wife, Mrs. Watts, did not develop interesting features. Shuttle, alias "Nosey," the barkeeper, who testified Sept. 22, admitted his previous story of Watts giving him money to purchase chloroform with which to kill Mrs. Watts.

Sir Reginald Beauchamp, the former husband of Watts' present wife, testified to his movements on certain dates material to the case, but the day's proceedings did nothing to dissipate the mystification which the general public experiences regarding the case.

The hearing was again adjourned.

PRESIDENT CONSIDERING VENEZUELAN SITUATION.

Oyster Bay, Sept. 25.—No communication from France regarding her recently with Venezuela has yet reached President Roosevelt, but he is giving attention to the subject. No action will be taken by this government until W. J. Calhoun, the president's commissioner to Venezuela, shall have submitted a report of his investigation.

Gen. Horace Porter, former ambassador to France, who was here for three days as a guest of the West Roosevelt family, returned today to New York. He had an extended talk with the president yesterday, in which the Moroccan situation, and France's relations with Venezuela, were discussed. Gen. Porter said: "I do not believe that serious trouble will result from that situation. It will be worked out satisfactorily after a while."

OFFICERS WILL ESCORT
GREENE AND GAYNOR HOME

Montreal, Sept. 25.—Two United States officers are expected to arrive here tomorrow to escort Commissioner Greene and his wife to Savannah Ga. Their route is now in the hands of the minister of justice, at Ottawa, and as the law governing the situation is very definite he has no option but to order their deliverance to the men appointed to receive them. It is not known whether they will make any further effort to prevent their extradition.

TWO MORE DIED.
New York, Sept. 25.—Two employees of the Spaulding Fireworks company in Brooklyn, which was blown up yesterday, died today. This makes three dead out of the five persons who were working in the factory at the time of the explosion.

DIES FROM YELLOW FEVER.
New York, Sept. 25.—Joseph Mearney, a coal passer, died of yellow fever today at St. Vincent's hospital, New York, quarantined in the lower house of the legislature. He was removed from the hospital last Sunday, but the fever did not develop sufficiently to be diagnosed until late yesterday. The body will be cremated.

WOUNDED BY BOMB.
St. Petersburg, Sept. 25.—Chief of Police Ivanoff, three policemen and three women were seriously wounded today by the explosion of a bomb thrown into the town square at Kiovo, Northwest Russia. The thrower of the bomb escaped.

THE AUSTRIAN BUDGET.
Vienna, Sept. 25.—The budget for 1906 was presented by the minister of finance in the lower house of the Austrian diet today. It estimates the revenue at $34,465,82, and the expenditures at $35,583,42.

TUMULTUOUS UPROAR IN AUSTRIAN PARLIAMENT

Strong Demonstration Against Premier
Who Is Called Upon to Resign.

Vienna, Sept. 25.—When the lower house reassembled today the opening moments were marked by a tumultuous demonstration against the premier, Baron Gutth von Frankenthurn, who has incurred the wrath of the Social Democrats by his attitude on the question of electoral reform, having advised the emperor to refuse to consent to the introduction of universal suffrage in Hungary. The uproar lasted for some time, shouts of "withdraw" and "resign" being heard above the general din.

The premier ultimately succeeded in obtaining a hearing, and reminded the house of the government's promise to faithfully execute its agreements with Hungary provided the latter fulfilled her part, especially the continuance and completion, within a stated time, of the commercial treaty negotiations. Should Hungary not agree to the Austrian views on this point, the government would take steps for the protection of Austrian interests. The premier further declared that an incorrect view had been taken of the attitude towards universal suffrage for Hungary. He claimed he had not exercised alleged decisive influence in the matter, and said he made a principle of not interfering in the internal affairs of Hungary.

POWERS TO ASSUME CONTROL OF THE FINANCES OF MACEDONIA ON OCT. 1.

Constantinople, Sept. 25.—A collective note from the six powers has been handed to the porte, declaring that their decision to assume international control of the finances of Macedonia is unalterable. The note informs the Ottoman government that the foreign delegates appointed as controllers will arrive at Salonica, Oct. 1, and requests that the necessary instructions be sent to the provincial authorities, so that the delegates may enter on their functions without delay.

STANDARD OIL MAGNATES AFTER CONTROL OF TRACTION SECURITIES

Cleveland, Sept. 25.—The Leader, today, says: The Standard Oil group of New York financiers has obtained control of traction securities in Ohio and Indiana with a par value of $3,105,000 at a reported cash outlay of $2,000,000. Other similar transactions are known to be pending.

A positive statement was made yesterday by a prominent Cleveland financier, and was supported by the statement of a Philadelphia banker, that the New York Standard Oil co. is in the back of the United Gas Improvement company of Philadelphia. The Standard Oil group is working in Ohio through agencies—the Elkins-Widener-Dolan syndicate and Randall Morgan, vice president of the gas company.

The former syndicate bought the Cinelinnati, Dayton & Toledo, the McCullough lines in Indiana and several others. The latter has just bought the Tucker-Anthony properties, the Columbus, Buckeye Lake & Newark and the Columbus, Newark & Zanesville. It is a reported cash outlay of $2,000,000.

Control is sought of the Appleyard properties, known as the Columbus, Dayton & Toledo, the McCullough lines in Indiana and several others. The latter has just bought the Tucker-Anthony properties, the Columbus, Buckeye Lake & Newark and the Columbus, Newark & Zanesville. It is a reported cash outlay of $2,000,000.

ENGINEERS TO LEAVE FOR CANAL SOON

Washington, Sept. 25.—The foreign members of the board of consulting engineers of the isthmian canal commission left this city today for Boston, where tomorrow they will be joined by the other members of the board to inspect the Wachusett dam near that city. On Wednesday evening they will return to New York and from that city will sail at once for the isthmus on the Havana. The party expects to stay on the isthmus for about a week, making daily trips along the canal and returning at night to the ship, which will then sail out to anchor in the open sea to escape any possible danger of yellow fever.

Washington, Sept. 25.—Assistant Secretary of War Darling left today for New York, where he will be joined by the other members of the Panama canal commission at New York Thursday and make the trip with the party to the isthmus.

GIRL HAD MENTAL HALLUCINATIONS

New York, Sept. 25.—The police and a physician today decided that Christine Grossman, the 15-year-old girl who was found unconscious on an alleged robbery attack in her home yesterday, was suffering only mental hallucinations.

Near the place where she was found a search revealed a demand for $300 written on the back of her mother's picture, which hung with its face to the wall. A demand for $200 was written on the back of her own picture. The police, after comparing with that in Christine's school copy book, declared that the girl herself had written the demands. How she came to be found unconscious by her brother has not been explained.

VIOLATED LOTTERY LAWS; ALL ARE FINED.

Philadelphia, Sept. 25.—Four Pennsylvania agents of the Montana Mining Loan & Investment company of Butte, Mont., today, pleaded guilty in the United States district court for violating the lottery law. The defendants were given the following sentences:

B. F. Dennis of Columbia, Pa., $150 fine; Harry M. Smith, Reading, $50 fine; C. E. Frey, Morristown, $150 fine; George W. Jacobs, Philadelphia, $500 fine. The trial of two other local agents was postponed until the next term of court.

SPOKANE VISITED BY DISASTROUS FIRE.

Spokane, Wash., Sept. 25.—A disastrous fire broke out in the heart of the wholesale section of Spokane early today which completely gutted three brick buildings. The total fire loss will approximate $200,000.

The heaviest losers are the Booth-McClintock company, wholesale grocers, two-story building and contents, $100,000; the Cadbury Packing company, stock, $40,000; C. H. Weeks, three-story building occupied by Pacific Transfer company, $25,000; Dr. C. P. Thomas, owner of the Cadbury building, $10,000; Robbins, Pratt & Robbins, furniture, $8,000. The cause of the fire is unknown.

JONES SENTENCED FOR LIFE.
Iowa City, Iowa, Sept. 25.—William Jones was sentenced to Port Madison prison for life this morning by Judge S. E. Danner. Jones killed Danner, owner of the Cadbury building, was trying to save Jones' divorced wife from a like fate. Mrs. Jones is still lying between life and death as a result of bullet wounds. Jones pleaded guilty to murder in the second degree.

CANNOT FIND FEVER GERM

Efforts of Physician at New Orleans So Far Unsuccessful.

Fight Against Disease
Now Confined to the Lower City.

New Orleans, Sept. 25.—With the fever appearing only sporadically in the upper district the principal fight of the authorities now is being carried on in the lower section of New Orleans, to which the new cases are carefully confined. The report for the last forty-eight hours covering new cases, deaths and foci give an encouraging view of the situation. Although Dr. Potlier of the Charity hospital and physicians associated with him have made an explanation in the American Medical Journal of the character of the deaths from patients during the first three days of illness, but until these cells are definitely located in the stegomyia during their period of infection it will not be possible to announce the success of the investigations. The bacteriologists representing the government, said, today that so far as they know, the identity of the germ had not been established.

BAY STATE PRIMARIES

Nomination of Lieutenant Governor to Be Decided on Principles.

Boston, Sept. 25.—Two political contests which have been pursued very actively, the nomination of the lieutenant governor and the nomination of the governor, are to be decided on principles. It was expected that the former issue would be decided at the election for lieutenant governor and attorney general. It was expected that the latter would be decided at the election for governor. The candidates for lieutenant governor are: John F. Fitzgerald, Col. A. E. Goetting of Springfield. For attorney general the candidates included Gen. Edgar R. Churchill of Cambridge, Dan Melone of Greenfield, District Attorney Asa P. French of Hingham and District Attorney George A. Sanderson of Middlesex county. So many of the delegates to the state convention will be conservative, however, that it was believed today that the issue would be decided on principle as to which candidate in either of the contests was the more conservative. Democratic primaries also were held in the present case, the victor is a young woman, Mary Money, whose body was horribly mutilated. A long veil was tightly wedged in her mouth and the police are confident that the woman was murdered in the compartment of a train on which she was traveling and that her body was thrown from the car.

STILL ANOTHER.

Said to Have Been Selected By Alfonso
For His Bride.

New York, Sept. 25.—It is again rumored, according to an American dispatch from Madrid, that King Alfonso will marry and that the wedding will be celebrated May 17, 1906. It is understood that the bride is the future queen of Spain is the Princess Ena of Battenburg, daughter of Prince Henry of Battenburg and niece to King Edward of England. Official announcement of the betrothal will, the correspondent asserts, be made.

A NEW STEAMSHIP LINE FROM 'FRISCO TO EUROPE.

San Francisco, Sept. 25.—The Kosmos Steamship company, for the past five years running to this city with its freight steamers, is to inaugurate a passenger service between European ports and San Francisco at the end of the present year. Some of the best steamers of the line will be placed on the route between Hamburg and San Francisco within four months, and these steamers will call at only the European coast, Valparaiso, Callao, Guayaquil and San Jose will be the only ports of call.

STREET RAILWAY MEN CONTINUE SESSIONS.

Philadelphia, Sept. 25.—With the attendance materially increased the sessions of the annual meeting of the American Street Railway association were resumed today. Two affiliated bodies of the chief organization, the American Association of Street Railway Claim Agents and the American Railway, Mechanical and Electrical Association also held meetings.

At the session of the latter organization the president, Charles F. Smith, of the Rhode Island company, Providence, read a paper on "The Power House," and the report of the committee on maintenance and inspection of electrical equipment was read by William Pestell of New York, chairman.

Campaign
Among Friends.

Des Moines, Iowa, Sept. 25.—Secretary of the Treasurer Leslie M. Shaw will leave the cabinet Feb. 1, 1906. He makes the announcement in a letter to the Polk County Republican club.

In his letter answering a request for a date for an address, Secretary Shaw stated that he would be busy preparing for the coming session of congress and would be unable to return to Iowa until Feb. 1, upon which date he expected to retire from the cabinet. Shaw will then begin his presidential campaign among his friends.

EIGHTY TONS OF DYNAMITE ARE TO BE EXPLODED IN SUEZ CANAL

Port Said, Sept. 25.—A serious stoppage of traffic on the Suez canal is threatened owing to the necessity for the blowing up of the British steamer Chatham, which was sunk on Sept. 6, owing to the fact that she was on fire, and that the flames threatened to reach a quantity of dynamite, which formed part of her cargo. Since that time the wreck has obstructed the waterway, especially at night, as the wreck is submerged. Divers tomorrow will place cases of blasting gelatine in the present case, the victim is a young woman, Mary Money, whose body was horribly mutilated. A long veil was tightly wedged in her mouth and the police are confident that the woman was murdered in the compartment of a train on which she was traveling and that her body was thrown from the car.

Thursday morning. An expert from the Nobel company, who is conducting the operations, says it is impossible to predict the amount of mischief which will ensue from the great upheaval or to what extent traffic will be impeded. He says there is no precedent to show the effect of the explosion of such an amount of dynamite. It may conceivably form a crater in the bed of the canal in which the wreckage may be buried, leaving the canal deeper than before.

OLD ENGLISH TUNNEL HAS A MYSTERY

London, Sept. 25.—The Merstham tunnel of the London & South-eastern railway, where the brutal murder of Frederick I. Gold by Percy Lefroy, alias Mapleton, occurred June 27, 1881, again has been the scene of a terrible tragedy, the details of which so far as ascertained, are markedly similar to that of a quarter of a century ago. In the present case, the victim is a young woman, Mary Money, whose body was horribly mutilated. A long veil was tightly wedged in her mouth and the police are confident that the woman was murdered in the compartment of a train on which she was traveling and that her body was thrown from the car.

The fact that none of the doors of the train on its arrival at Red Hill was open is considered to prove conclusively that the murder was committed. Miss Money left her home on Sunday evening, saying she would not be gone long. The affair thereafter is a complete mystery. No ticket was found on the body and no one has been able to explain under what circumstances the young woman was murdered, as it is supposed to be the case, the murderer disappeared without leaving any track. The cars (trains) no clue to the crime which could not have occurred anywhere else but in the railroad car divided into isolated compartments such as is used on the British roads.

MILLING INTERESTS LIKELY TO CLASH

San Francisco, Sept. 25.—A clash between the milling interests of the East and of the Pacific coast is imminent. The cause is the decision that the interstate commerce commission is reported to have reached regarding the differential on the overland railroads from the Missouri river to all Pacific coast points on corn and corn meal. The understanding is that the differential on corn and meal is reduced from 10 to 5 cents per 100 pounds. This reduction, if it shall be put in force, will enable the Eastern millers to obtain a great advantage over those of the Pacific coast and as a result of this consideration coast millers are trying to have a rehearing of the facts in the hope of securing a new decision.

MILITARY SURGEONS IN SESSION AT DETROIT.

Detroit, Sept. 25.—With 150 delegates present representing the armies or navies of Japan, China, Mexico, Great Britain, the province of Canada, Guatemala, France and the United States, the National Guard of many of the states in this country, the fourteenth meeting of the Association of Military Surgeons of the United States opened here today. Reports from officers and committees occupied the opening session.

ERICKSON TO EXPLORE COAST OF GREENLAND.

Copenhagen, Sept. 25.—Mylius Erickson is preparing a Danish ship and a sledge party for an expedition to the hitherto unexplored regions of the northeast coast of Greenland. The plans have been in course of elaboration since Erickson's return from his last expedition, and have been approved by many societies of scientists, including the American Geographical society and Royal Geographical society of London. Dr. Nansen and Prof. von Drygalski of Berlin.

KETCH DAMAGED.
London, Sept. 25.—With her stern badly damaged by a heavy sea, the schooner "The Herald," which was on a voyage from London, drags anchor, and is being towed by the tug "The Herald." The captain reported that the schooner was damaged by a heavy sea.

Feeble Justice to Awful Events.

The Atrocities By Armenians and Tartars Were Most Fiendish.

Civilians Could Not Walk a Block Without Being Fired at.

London, Sept. 25.—Interesting incidents of the experiences of the Englishmen connected with the oil industry at Baku are reaching their relatives in England. Williams, one of four Englishmen rescued from a mob at Balakhan, writes that the stories give but a feeble idea of the actual occurrences. He adds:

"We were shut up in my place at Zahrat for five days without any water except naizan (local mineral water). All the people here were crying and fainting. All around were fires and rifle shots. Ten Armenians were killed out of those in our own yard. You could not walk a yard without several shots being fired at you. We tried to save the wounded, but the shooting was too good and we had to give up the attempt."

Edward McCallum, another rescued British subject, fully confirms the stories of massacre, burning and pillage. After describing the commencement of the outbreak Sept. 2, when the Armenians massacred 300 Tartars, he describes how, during the night of Sept. 6, Tartars entered the workmen's barracks at Romani and massacred everybody in them within an hour. Five hundred Tartars surrounded the works where McCallum was stationed, and forced him to give up the Armenians hiding on the premises. "Fourteen of them were bathed in our yard with Jewish brutality," he says. "One man had his entire stomach cut out. The hand sucked the neighborhood in the most systematic manner. They had carts ready to take away their plunder to the Tartar villages. Fifty Cossacks with a police chief arrived on the scene but did nothing except look on at the work of massacre. The whole time we were besieged we lived on condensed salt water."

A NEW COMPLICATION IN WESTERN LIFE COMPANY.

Chicago, Sept. 25.—A new complication was added today, to the legal entanglement of the Western Life insurance company. Federal Judge C. C. Kohlstedt granted permission to attorney Charles A. H. Cutting to file an interrogatory to the company. Attorney Varnum told the court he represented claimants who have been unable to collect in the aggregate $50,000 from the Western Life company.

DISCUSS MUTUALIZATION OF INSURANCE COMPANIES.

Brettonwoods, N. H., Sept. 25.—Important questions of insurance including the general question of mutualization were on the program for discussion at the 26th annual convention of states insurance commissioners, which was opened today, at the Mt. Washington hotel. About 100 delegates from various states were present. The convention was called to order by President Frederick L. Cutting, insurance commissioner of Massachusetts. After the welcoming speeches President Cutting delivered the annual address.

DIVERS TO SEARCH FOR HEAD OF VICTIM.

Boston, Sept. 25.—The police activity in the "suit case" mystery increased today. Yesterday, the solution was believed to be in sight. An identification of the suit case and the finding of a bundle of bloody garments gave the authorities more expectation that the tangle would be unraveled. In their efforts to accomplish this result they arranged today that a corps of divers should visit Winthrop harbor to search underneath the water for the missing head and limbs of the woman victim of the tragedy.

WELL KNOWN PHILA. MAN ENDS HIS LIFE.

Philadelphia, Sept. 25.—William H. Kirkpatrick, Philadelphia agent of the Northwestern Mutual Life insurance company of Milwaukee, was found dead today in the bathroom of his apartments with a bullet wound in his head. He had shot himself some time during the night. Mr. Kirkpatrick was about 55 years old. He was a member of the Union League, the Society of the Cincinnati and the Pennsylvania Historical society. He had been in ill health some time, and it is believed he committed suicide because of melancholia.

A Raincoat Preachment.

One strong feature about our raincoats is that you may wear them throughout the severest storm and they will never lose their shape. They will not wrinkle or present a bedraggled appearance. The rain runs off as it would from a varnished surface, so that storms cannot hinder your business or deface your personal front. Style and protection were formerly impossible of combination, but now united they stand, divided they fall.

Our raincoats are in various styles—the shapely, form-fitting suit, the full regular or the belt. They are in patterns, gray, black or mixed goods. Prices—$10 to $35.

GRAND LODGE OF PYTHIANS

Opens Its Annual Session at St. Paul—Slate Maker Busy.

St. Paul, Sept. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The first business session of the Minnesota grand lodge of Knights of Pythias was called to order by Grand Chancellor C. S. Bartrian in Pythian hall today.

The first work was to organize the grand lodge for business. The report of the committee on credentials was read, in which it was shown that the membership present was 104. After action on this report the grand lodge rank was conferred on fifty-nine past chancellors.

The reports of the officers of the lodge were submitted, and that by Grand Chancellor Bartrian was of a very interesting character.

The grand chancellor referred to the lodge No. 155 of Fort Snelling, in the effect that arrangements were now being made with the war department to permit the erection of a fraternity building at the fort. Another feature was the action of the grand chancellor in suspending the charter of Hobak lodge No. 10 of Le Sueur, for admitting saloonkeepers to membership.

This matter was referred to the committee on law.

During the morning session D. E. Hickey of St. Paul was appointed grand inner guard, Vice Fred A. Klase of Hibbing and A. F. Nordin of Willmar was appointed to serve on the committee on law during the convention.

Outwardly, routine proceedings were all that took place today, but the slate makers were busy, and it is understood that an agreement was reached under the terms of which J. F. Hilscher of this city is to be elected supreme representative of this state and Arthur J. Stoddard is to be made brigadier general of the uniform rank, a position which carries with it an annual stipend of $3,600.

Mr. Stoddard is not now a resident of St. Paul.

STRANDED IN MICHIGAN

Duluth White Sox Are Up Against the Cold World.

Disastrous End to Barn Storming Tour of Champions.

Stranded does not fittingly express the true condition of affairs of the champion Duluth White Stockings, who ventured into the cold world on a barn-storming tour through Michigan, about two weeks ago.

They are washed up high and dry on the shoals of financial disaster, and not even at high tide do the little wavelets touch the keel of their frail bark.

Even the smiling Artie is said to be beginning to look gaunt from trying to live on a cheese sandwich and a prize every other day.

After leaving Calumet the troubles of the team commenced. The next burg they struck was Mountain Iron. The weather was cold and rainy, and for five days in succession they played to about a bob-tailed street car full of fans. Some times the receipts paid for the boys used, and some times they did not.

Meanwhile the spectre-like landlord stood between them and the "sweet sleep that knits up the raveled sleeve of care," and for five nights they held councils of war trying to figure out how the odd silver pieces that represented the sum total of their finances would buy them passage back to Duluth.

Peterson and Bennett were the envy of all the others, having homes to write to. They were not.

"Petie" got an answer first, and he came home first-class, on a Pullman sleeper, and stopped off of one train like a gentleman. "Si" Bennett also received a welcome answer, and he is on his way home now.

The others are not coming back that way, if they come. When "Petie" left they were planning to rent half of a house, stock up with bread and a coal oil stove, and fasten it to the end of a slow freight to Houghton, where they figured they could get a job on a freight boat to the Head of the Lakes.

OPENING OF FALL STYLES

Silberstein & Bondy Company Shows Handsome Things For Women.

The fall opening of the Silberstein & Bondy company's store is now in progress. The store was well filled with shoppers on the first day who were anxious to see the exceedingly smart styles which were shown. There never has been a year, seemingly, when such a riot of gay colorings were putting in their appeal for attention, and the suits which were ordered at this store show that the appeal is not going unanswered by Duluth women.

In the shades that are to be most fashionable this fall the richest of colorings are evident, and in the other colors that have been regarded as staple a greater richness of texture and color is apparent.

In the cloak and suit department some of the most beautiful of the suits in the demi-costume which have been shown in the city are seen. Velvets in the American beauty and petunia shades in these dressy suits are royal in their beauty. The American beauty shade and the petunia shades of red are among the most stylish of the fall offerings and they will find great favor with the women who are looking for an elegant costume. One of the suits in one of these rich shades is trimmed with silk braid in the same shade. The Eton coat is the model followed. A green velvet suit is also of great beauty. In the evening wraps and gowns and waists some exclusive and beautiful things are shown.

In the millinery department on the third floor the visitors to the store were more than delighted. If there is a prodigality of style and color in the suits, what can one say of the hats? From the jaunty and severe little street hats through the more dressy but still smart suit hats with rolling brims and fringe feathers the hats are wonderful to see. They seem almost extreme at times, but when they are once adjusted to a becoming head they are beautiful. One can have her hat in a riot of seven shades of one color or a demure thing in a soft gray velvet with two graceful little feathers and velvet trimmings, or it may be a little black hat. The hats at the Silberstein store are beautiful and they are shown in a commodious and pleasantly lighted department.

A large number of visitors called during the last two days at the store and any who were detained because of the weather will be welcomed tomorrow.

SUIT TO OUST A PASTOR.
Case Without a Precedent in Iowa to Be Tried.

Orange City, Iowa, Sept. 25.—The interesting question of whether a congregation has any right to say who shall be its pastor, will be decided in a lawsuit that will be tried here this week.

Rev. S. Koster, pastor of the Hull Reformed Lutheran church, over a year ago was accused of emulating David Harum in some horse trades and was cited to appear before the district conference to answer the charge. He failed to appear and was indicted for contempt and suspended. He refused to execute the pastorate and has insisted upon living in the parsonage.

The case was taken to the synod, where the desirability of the conference was sustained. Still Rev. S. Koster refused to leave the pulpit and now, after vainly trying for a year and a half to get rid of him, the congregation has asked the district court to oust him.

STIFF RAISE IN VALUATION

Boost of 200 Per Cent For St. Louis County Under Consideration.

St. Paul, Sept. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Direct charges of one-sided consideration of the returns on logs and lumber for the state were made at the meeting of the board of equalization at the capitol, today.

Nachbor F. Gordon, a new member, made the charge that in consideration of the returns he, with other members, had been ignored entirely in the preparation of the committee's findings and report.

The committee's report, which was made by George W. Knox of Atkin, the chairman, was in substance a recommendation to accept the returns as made by the lumbermen. The report was made last Saturday. Mr. Knox's recommendations, however, were not accepted in their entirety, and when the day's work was finished, several members had reported some stiff raises. Beltrami county was given a 75 per cent raise. When work was resumed this morning on the returns, the lumber interests at once got busy, and every effort was made to sidetrack the whole thing. Suggestions were made to consider the returns with that of class 17, which reads: "Material and manufactured articles."

This would have put the city members on the defensive, and as, naturally, they would have had to side with the lumbermen in their efforts to prevent a raise on logs and lumber.

That a raise of many of the other counties on logs and lumber was contemplated was evident, for a number of the new members, and upon an effort to keep down the lumbermen's returns with figures. It was known that a motion for a 200 per cent raise for St. Louis county alone was under consideration.

For St. Louis county figures were produced to show a total cut of 1,017,594,000 feet, and a valuation return of only $810,334. In Minneapolis the cut was given at $8,511,000, with a valuation of $1,310,240. No raise was intended here.

The temper of some of the members as shown today, indicated that a strenuous fight would be made for a substantial raise in the values given.

Paris, Mo., Sept. 25.—The body of a young man who had probably been dead for several weeks was found yesterday in a corn field, six miles west of here and nine little wounds indicated murder. The body had been mutilated by hogs. A card on which was written "Concordia, Ill." was found in the torn clothing and is the only clue that may lead to identification.

Printers Give Employers Until Oct. 5 to Come to Terms.

Latter Meet and Decide Not to Grant Eight-Hour Day.

The employing job printers of the city held a meeting this morning to consider the demands of the Typographical union, which yesterday handed in its ultimatum regarding the form of working agreement that will be insisted upon for the ensuing year. The employers, according to J. L. Thwing, president of the local association, decided to stand firm in their refusal to grant an eight-hour day.

The union members, in their ultimatum, say that they must have an eight-hour day with a minimum wage scale of $18 a week. At present, they are working fifty-three hours a week, instead of forty-eight hours, as now demanded. The job printers assert that the terms of agreement desired are unreasonable, and say that no such form will be signed. The printers, on the other hand also appear to be standing firm.

Unless concessions are made by one side or the other, or by both, before Oct. 5, when the new year begins, there will be a printers' strike in Duluth. The ultimatum gives the employers until the morning of the 5th to agree to the terms offered.

The demand in Duluth for the eight-hour day is a part of the general movement through the country for the same working agreement. In Chicago the trouble has already reached its height, and the printers claim to be winning out. They claim that all but 500 of the 3,000 union men in the Windy City are now working under the eight-hour agreement.

"There are two sides to that report," said Mr. Thwing today. "The printers claim one thing and the employers another. We receive reports from our general secretary every day, and they are to the effect that the situation is very encouraging to the bosses. While a good many shops have signed the new scale, an investigation shows that those are either places where the men were already working eight hours a day, probably on linotype machines, or else small shops where the employers themselves do practically all of the work. The employers have just as many gains to report as the employees."

"The situation in Duluth remains unchanged from what it was two or three weeks ago. The printers claim they will not go to work on the morning of Oct. 5 unless we give them the eight-hour day with a minimum wage of $18 a week, and the employers claim they will accede to no such demands. Just there the matter rests. There will have to be some concessions somewhere before the struggle can be decided. The employers are standing firm."

All the printers appear to be standing firm, also, and there are no signs of wavering on their part. The printers have what is considered the strongest position in the city, and are in a position to make it very unpleasant for the employers in case of a strike.

BAD TYPHOON VISITS MANILA

Five Filipinos are Killed and are Rendered Homeless.

New York, Sept. 25.—The Evening Sun has a dispatch from Manila, reporting a destructive typhoon in that city. The native districts were swept away, 5,000 persons are homeless, and five Filipinos were killed. Hundreds of buildings were uprooted. Thousands of electric light wires were blown down, filling the streets with flames, until the current was turned off. The city was in darkness when the dispatch was sent, and all street traffic was suspended. It was believed that shipping in the bay had warning of the approach of the storm, but up to the time this dispatch was sent, the ships were in the bay and had no warning of the rain, and had not communicated with shore.

ENTIRE CROP BEYOND DANGER FROM FROST.

Washington, Sept. 25.—Secretary Wilson of the department of agriculture returned to Washington today from a visit to the Middle West. He says that the glowing reports of enormous crops have not been exaggerated. He says the entire crop is beyond the danger of frosts.

Warren, Minn., Sept. 25.—A man who has several aliases, but goes principally by the names of Howard and Quinn, was passing counterfeit money at Oslo a few days ago, and on his second return to the village, which is near here, he was seized by the constable. He put up a big fight at first, and after some difficulty the officer, with the aid of a citizen, tied the fellow down and brought him into Warren. The money he made was a rank piece, consisting principally of a bill purported to be a $20 bill on Bank of Brunswick, similar to a national bank note, the front and back of the bill being alike. He had in his pocket two together, there being only a blank on the back of the original bill. It appeared to be signed by the president of the bank, but there was no signature by the cashier. It had no serial date numbers on it. The counterfeit was the name of Rawdon, Wright, Hatch

No New Development In Superior Grain Commission's War.

The Wisconsin grain inspection has not asserted itself in any new form since yesterday when it caused the arrest of Russell Gray, an inspector at the Great Northern Elevator A. and sent weighmen to some of the mills. Gray was arraigned in the afternoon and his hearing was set for Thursday. John A. Murphy of Superior will represent him.

The News Tribune this morning made the statement that although Minnesota inspectors were on hand at the mills to do the work of weighing and inspecting grain they were only given a chance to "look on and see how Wisconsin men handled grain."

This report is untrue as a very little investigation would have shown. The Wisconsin men in the mills have been allowed to do nothing. They have been informed that they are on private property and trespassers and every step to get them out but actual violence has been taken. They have not been allowed to touch the scales.

Another point is that the weighmen in the mills are not what is known as Minnesota weighmen, that is, they are not in the employ of the Minnesota commission. They are Duluth board of trade weighmen, placed in the mills at the request of the companies operating them.

The brothers, Edwin and Felix, 12 and 13 years old, were on their way home and were crossing Kilburn's stock farm. They heard the whirring of wings, and looking around saw the eagle attack their pet terrier.

The eagle miscalculated the activity of the dog, which yelped and jumped to one side. The eagle made another dash at the dog. Its talons extended, but missed and struck the ground. Edwin, the younger of the two, seized the big bird by the neck and hung on. The eagle fought desperately, tearing the boy's shirtwaist and trousers, badly lacerating his flesh with its powerful claws.

Felix, who was carrying a baseball bat, struck the eagle on the head, stunning it. Before it could recover the boys killed it with blows from the baseball bat and a stone. The dog also joined in the finish.

The Evening Herald delivered at your office, store or residence, the pet week.

Owing to the fact that the beer is claimed to have been stolen during the night time and from a building, the complaint against them is grand larceny in the second degree.

DEANERY MEETING

Sessions In Progress In Holy Apostles Episcopal Church.

Rev. A. W. Ryan Delivers a Sermon—Deer Appears on Streets.

The semi-annual meeting of the Duluth Episcopal deanery is taking place today in Holy Apostles church and the sessions, which began at 9:15 this morning, will continue until late this evening. The opening of the deanery meeting was held last evening when Dean A. W. Ryan, rector of St. Paul's church of Duluth, preached a sermon on "The Valley of Baca." The valley of Baca, he said, represents the trials of life through which one must pass. He urged that all should pass through the valley with fortitude and trusting in God, bearing the burdens which are put upon them and never losing faith in Christ.

This morning, at the opening, Rev. Frank Coulbough conducted holy communion and preached a short sermon. This was followed by a paper by Rev. W. J. Cordick of Superior on "Interparochial Courtesy." Lunch given by the church guild at the residence of Mrs. Walter Evers followed at noon. This afternoon the deanery is listening to a paper on "Church Literature," by Rev. A. H. Wurtele of Trinity Mission. The following program will take place this evening:

Evening prayer with addresses.

a—"The Church and the Scripture," Rev. Frank Durant, Hibbing.

b—"Nurturing in Life in the Sacraments," Rev. E. S. Murphy, Grand Rapids.

c—"Taste and Manners," Rev. H. S. Webster, Duluth.

d—"Patience and Perseverance in Growth," Rev. George Remison, Atkinson.

DOE ON STREET

West Duluth Is Getting Into the Class of Game Preservers.

West Duluth is getting into the game preserve class. For some time the East end of the city has been hogging it a bit with all the bear stories which have been going, but this morning West Duluth came to the front with a doe and hopes to acquire a bear reputation ere long.

A pretty little doe wandered down into the city this morning and went down Central avenue, where it was seen by children and dogs. It had evidently been wounded for one of its feet were crippled.

The doe got away, however, by jumping into the bay and swimming for the Wisconsin side. The last seen of it, it was heading Superior.

Grim Reaper's Victims.

Rebecca Julia, the 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julius J. Benson, of 335 North Sixth avenue west, died last night and will be buried this afternoon in Onondaga cemetery.

Prayer was held over the body of O. B. Constock by Rev. J. J. Moore this afternoon, at 1:45 o'clock, and the body will be shipped at 6:45 this evening, over the Northern Pacific to Fargo Falls, where it will be interred. A brother of the dead man furnished the funds.

Science In Selecting Proper Foods

People Are Not Uncomfortable, Unhealthy, Because They Do Not Eat the Right Food.

Scientists have determined that the various food elements found in wheat are the identical elements of which the tissues and cells, the bone and brain, the blood and muscle of the human body are composed and with which they must be replenished if life and strength are to be maintained.

Every nutritive element, every one of these marvelous strength and tissue-building food qualities of the best white wheat grown in Malta-Vita. This famous food is the whole of the wheat, thoroughly steamed and cooked in absolute purity and mixed with the finest malt extract that can be made.

In these days of adulterated foods and food products such a food as is known to be pure and wholesome is indeed welcome. We have heard of many breakfast foods and cereal products—some broadly advertised as whole products, others as cereals for every disease known to man. No doubt they are all good and possessed of some merit, but most of them are manufactured with some foreign sweetening agent to make them palatable. Among all the breakfast and cereal foods offered the public today, we believe we are warranted in saying that Malta-Vita is the only food that is simply and wholly pure grain product and nothing else, except a little salt. Malta-Vita as it comes to you from the factory is all of the wheat. It has been thoroughly cleaned, steamed to gelatinize the starch, then added to it is barley malt made from selected barley—this, acting upon the starch, turns it into maltose or malt sugar, pronounced by physicians and food experts the finest, purest, most healthful sweetening agent known. Then the grain of wheat is rolled out flat into a thin wafer flake and baked in the oven. It comes to you fresh and pure and sweet—absolutely nothing but a grain product prepared in the cleanest and most delicious whole wheat food that can be found. Malta-Vita is for sale by nearly all grocers. It costs but a few cents a package for the same big package for which you used to pay 15 cents.

The Cloaks, Suits, Furs and Waists.

IMPORTED models are side by side with the many charming garments sent to us by New York's cleverest men-tailors—and it is of these that we are most proud.

We have studiously avoided the commonplace—every garment in our stock is bright, with little style touches that appeal to discriminating dressers—and our prices will prove decidedly attractive to the posted shoppers.

The imported Lingerie Waists are exquisite—and exclusive! The furs are rich and elegant! The garments for girls are picturesque as well as practical.

Come and enjoy the display—these opening days! Welcome one and all!

that he had only consented to plead guilty to the understanding that the city attorney's motion would be allowed.

The court was probably somewhat prejudiced against his plea, but Judge Windom admitted, and suggested that the case be transferred to Judge Cullen's court room, where it will be taken up this afternoon.

Sobczyk is a brother of the man who was fined $100 and costs by Judge Windom last spring on a charge of larceny. He was charged with having broken his child's leg by falling across the bed. There it was lying, while in a drunken stupor, and had also neglected and ill-treated his wife, who died in the hospital.

PREJUDICE IS CLAIMED

Wife Beating Case Is Transferred to Judge Cutting's Court.

The Prisoner's Attorney Thought Judge Windom Against Client.

Because he claimed Judge Windom was prejudiced against his client, Porter J. Neff this morning asked to have the case of Joseph Sobczyk, who is charged with wife-beating, tried before Judge Cutting.

It is claimed by the prisoner's wife that he has repeatedly ill-treated her, on one occasion pulling out a handful of hair and blackening her eye.

The case was investigated by Humane Officer Withrow, and Assistant City Attorney McKoon issued a warrant for the husband's arrest. He pleaded not guilty, and the case was set for this morning.

With her six small children, all neatly dressed, Mrs. Sobczyk appeared in court to testify against her husband.

Meanwhile, however, the attorney for the prisoner had been consulting with the assistant city attorney, and had convinced him that the fault was not all on the man's side, and that the woman had scratched him. The assistant city attorney therefore consented to ask the court for a suspended sentence if the prisoner would change his plea to guilty.

This was done and Mr. McKoon asked Judge Windom to give the man a suspended sentence.

The court, however, denied the motion, and that the woman should be committed to the county jail. She stated that her husband had repeatedly maltreated her and that she had scratched him only in self-defense, when he had started to beat her. The children had also showed signs of fear of their father in the office of the humane agent, and Judge Windom denied the motion of the assistant city attorney after hearing the woman's testimony.

Attorney Neff then asked to change his prisoner's plea back to not guilty, stating

IRON ORE FIND NEAR RANDALL

Extensive Magnetic Deposits Are Reported In Morrison County.

Little Falls, Minn., Sept. 26.—Some excitement is running high at Randall, a small town on the Northern Pacific's main line, because of the discovery of a large deposit of iron ore.

An extensive deposit of magnetic iron ore has been located near Randall, and it is estimated that the deposits are of commercial value is shown by the fact that the ore has been recently purchased at far above its farming or stock raising value.

D. H. Freeman of St. Cloud has had the country thoroughly explored and has bought many tracts, paying in some instances as high as $50 an acre. Lands in Morrison county have recently sold at $7.10 an acre have recently sold at several times that price.

Other persons have also closely examined the district. By the use of dip needles in the hands of experienced mining engineers a large deposit of iron ore has been located near Randall and through sections 31 and 32 in Clough town.

The investigation shows that the lode is in some places about 600 feet wide and such a curving course as a river might. A thorough examination of the surrounding country for several miles does not show the existence of magnetic ore outside of the lode mentioned.

The possibilities are stupendous and many who have investigated the matter have faith that a very valuable deposit has been found. The indications are similar to those found in locating some of the greatest mines in Northeastern Minnesota.

Engineers in the employ of the Northern Pacific have explored the district in the past few weeks. Duluth men have made explorations, and it is understood that one farmer has been offered $5,000 for his quarter section, although there are indications on but a small portion of it. An offer is also made of $4,000 for a certain 40-acre tract.

Nebraska Woman Writes Pathetic Letter to Land Commissioner.

Trying to Locate Man Who Deserted His Family.

Full of heart throbs, pathos and mis-spelled words is the letter received by the land department of the Duluth & Iron Range road from Mrs. Albert Black of Rulo, Neb., who asks for information regarding her missing husband and who is struggling to support herself and her three little girls.

It is one of the funny yet pitiful communications which are received from time to time in land and similar offices. Mrs. Black begs the assistant land commissioner to assist her in locating her husband, who left her a year ago to sell a horse and who never returned.

About a year ago, he wrote to the land department of the Duluth & Iron Range asking particulars regarding the land to be had in this part of Minnesota. The office furnished him with the desired information but never heard of him again.

Down near Huron, the mother and her little ones waited patiently for the stalwart husband and father to return from town where he was to negotiate the horse trade. But he did not come back that day, nor the next, nor the next.

Wedding of S. W. Macho and Miss Sophia Christen.

Albany, Minn., Sept. 25.—One of the prettiest weddings that was ever solemnized at Albany was that of Sylvester W. Macho and Miss Sophia Christen at the Seven Dolores church, Rev. Father Andrew officiating. Mandelsohn's wedding march was played by the Albany orchestra. The bride wore an elaborate gown of white silk net over white tulle, carried a bridal rose. She was attended by her sisters, Misses Katherine and Clarice. The former wore a dainty silk robe organdie and carried white carnations; the latter wore white mousseline, do sole and carried pink carnations. Little Miss Esther Christen, cousin of the bride, was flower girl and carried a basket of sweet peas. Master Walter Wimmer was page, and carried her wedding ring on a heart-shaped cushion.

The bridegroom was attended by Henry Richard of Little Falls and Thomas Schaefer of Albany. A sumptuous wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents. The couple left on the afternoon train for a trip over the Great Lakes. They will make their home at Spooner, Wis.

TYPE OF HOMES GOING UP IN WEST END THIS YEAR.

Wahl. A number of others are contemplated and doubtless there will be a good deal of this style of residence put up next year. Next year will see, also, a good many flats put up.

The accompanying picture is that of the latest house built by Mr. Adams. Mr. Adams has built six houses in two years and this, as has been said, is the latest. The house of which this is a picture is a fair sample of the type of residence West enders are about to get themselves out with. This house is modern in every particular. It has ten rooms, its dimensions are 28x40 feet and it is strictly up-to-date. That is a general description of the house. The entire foundation of the house is of Kettle River sandstone and rock and has a cement floor. A space hot water heating plant will furnish the heat and also hot water for bath, kitchen and laundry. The plumbing is all open and of the latest improved type. The basement is fixed up for a laundry and has hot and cold water fixtures. The interior of the house is finished in oak and is beautifully arranged. All the doors are five-panelled and are of both the swinging and sliding variety. All trunks have fancy bevelled leaded glass. The kitchen and dining room are fitted with china closets, linen closets, etc., and in the reception hall there is a handsome fire-place with a splendid mantle.

The house is fitted with modern gas and electric light fixtures and is also provided with electric bells. The exterior is painted dark green with white trim.

SALVATION CLASSIC

Dr. Gray Uses It as the Text of His Address.

Evangelistic Meetings at Congregational Church Attract Attention.

"A Salvation Classic," is what Dr. Gray called the scripture passage in Thru the Dark, which he used as the basis of his exposition last evening at the Congregational church. It followed a bright and interesting song service led by Prof. Trowbridge and the chorus choir in which the congregation were taught some of the new hymns in the Moody Institute song book, especially one which Dr. Gray himself entitled, "Christ Jesus Hath the Power."

Mr. McConaughy, chairman of the Bible class committee of the Y. M. C. A. gave notice that it was intended to follow up the meetings by the establishment of permanent Bible classes under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. for which enrollment was now being made.

Dr. Gray said in part: "The Holy Spirit here sets before us five great things about salvation. First, the need of it since all men by nature are 'fleshly, devilish, deceived, serving their lusts and pleasures, living in malice and envy, hatred, and having one another's blood.'" Second, the ground of it which is not human righteousness, but the mercy of God flowing out of His kindness and love.

Third, the means of it, which is the regeneration and renewal of the Holy Spirit through faith in Jesus Christ.

Fourth, the result of it, which is not merely forgiveness of sin, but the new life from all sin, and the inheritance of eternal life. And fifth, the obligation of it, which is that they who have received it should be careful to maintain good work.

"God's ways are just the opposite to man's ways," said Dr. Gray. "He does not say give up your sin and disobedience and malice and begin to do good works and I will have mercy on you and love you, and regenerate you, and justify you. He says, 'I have done all this for you in Christ, not as the result of it, and because of it, but that you do good works.' The discourse was illustrated at every point with appropriate incidents. The closing hymn sung was a very effective song entitled, 'I Have a Savior'.

The meetings led by Dr. Gray are attracting considerable attention and are being studied by the church members.

The music is being led by a chorus choir under the direction of Prof. J. B. Trowbridge of Chicago. He is a tenor and sings a solo each evening. This evening the Organist Male choir will sing under the direction of Prof. A. F. Lundholm.

J. M. Gidding is one of Mayor Culm's warmest supporters in his efforts to push along the movement for some special amusement feature to attract and entertain summer visitors to the city.

"The matter should be carried through as soon as possible," said Mr. Gidding. "The merchants, jobbers and the Commercial club should get together with the mayor and decide on some definite plans. If the movement is to be successful it must be pushed year there is no time to lose. The men in charge of these amusement features begin to make their contracts along in December for the next summer."

"The mayor has the right idea when he says that sports and amusements are needed in Duluth. Nothing helps a city along like a good line of outdoor sports, and it would be a great card for the city if we could get into the American association of baseball clubs."

DEATH CALLS OLD SETTLER

Joseph Baribeau Is Suddenly Stricken at Home In Superior.

Joseph Baribeau, one of the pioneers of the Head of the Lakes, died suddenly yesterday afternoon at his home, 602 Tower avenue, Superior. Death was due to dropsy and a number of complications.

Mr. Baribeau had lived at Superior for about twenty years, and during the boom days was accounted a wealthy man. With the collapse of the boom, and long depression that followed in Superior, he lost all of his fortune, and engaged in the liquor selling business, in which he remained until his death.

NOT HEROES IN HIS SIGHT

Chief Engineer Phillips Reports on Wreck of Steamer Sevona.

Captain and Crew Stayed Because They Thought Themselves Safe.

Not satisfied with the report of the wreck of the steamer Sevona sent them by Chief Engineer Phillips of that ill-fated craft about ten days ago, Inspectors Monaghan and Chalk ordered a more detailed report than the one received first and which was printed in The Herald at the time. Yesterday the reply was received and the chief engineer of the Sevona declares therein that to the best of his belief Capt. D. S. McDonald and the rest of the crew who were lost could have been saved had they gone aft on the vessel and got into the life boats as did the rest of the crew. He says in his report, in which he is supported by Adam Fiden, second engineer, that the Sevona was put about early on the morning of Sept. 2.

A GOOD AFTER-DINNER CIGAR

Boyce says Chicos Just Fill the Bill. The time to enjoy a real good cigar is after a good dinner. "There is no better time to test the quality of Wadsworth Bros' cigars than to light one right after a hearty meal," says Mr. Boyce of Boyce's drug store. "It is clear, long Havana filler of superior quality, and the size is exactly right."

Mr. Boyce says that he has sold more Chicos since he introduced this brand in Duluth than he ever sold before of any brand in four times as long. This shows how well it pleases the smoker who enjoys a good cigar. Considering its superior quality the price at which it sells, five cents straight is surely a good value. Step into Boyce's drug store today. Mr. Smoker, get a pocket full of Wadsworth Bros' Chicos.

when about one hour's run past Outer Island. The report then goes on: "At 5:55 o'clock a m., a signal for half speed was received in the engine room and answered. About ten minutes later the steamer ran aground, seemed to strike three times, as I felt three successive shocks. From that time until I left the ship no official communication passed between the captain and myself."

"Immediately after the ship struck, the members of the crew, who were on the after part of the ship and consisting of two engineers, three firemen, two stokers, four deck hands, two cooks, one porter, lowered both metallic life boats into the water."

"In regard to your several inquiries I beg to submit the following, which is the truth to the best of my knowledge and judgment. I believe that the captain, pilots, wheelman, and watchmen could have come aft if they wished to any time within twenty minutes after the steamer struck bottom, but I believe they thought themselves safe in the turtle back."

"It was possible to take a life boat from aft forward any time within one half hour after the steamer went aground. After that time I consider it would have been impossible, due to the heavy seas, which had increased steadily."

"In this connection I wish to say that after the life boats had been lowered I beckoned the men who were on the forward part of the steamer to come aft and thought their failure to do so was caused by a feeling of security on their part."

"While I did not hear the captain say it, the crew all reported to me that the captain had shouted through the megaphone to 'hang on as long as you can.' This we did and until the houses were going to pieces. During the period of waiting, five hours, men had to be kept in the life boats in order to keep them from being destroyed by collision with the ship's side."

"We were compelled to leave the ship, as the seas were breaking over the after part of the vessel. The pilot house and tanks had also been destroyed, but the forward part of the ship's side was in the same position as it was shortly after we struck bottom."

"Eleven persons were in the boat I came ashore in—eight of the crew and three women passengers."

"I do not believe that the presence of the passengers interfered in any way with saving the lives of the men who were drowned."

LUMBERMEN WANT DELAY

Urge Postponement of Sale of White Earth Reservation Timber.

Claim That Conditions of the Sale Are Practically Prohibitive.

The Minnesota lumbermen are protesting vigorously against the proposed sale of the timber on the White Earth Indian reservation, Nov. 15, the advertised date of sale. They claim that if the sale is had at that time the Indians will not get the full value of their timber and that there will be a scarcity of bidders for the reason that the white pine manufacturers cannot consistently bid for timber in so large an amount with a limited number of years to cut it off the land. Furthermore, they point out that the advertised sale is for 90,000 feet of white pine, 50,000 feet of Norway, 20,000 feet of spruce, 20,000 feet of oak, 20,000 feet of elm, 15,000 feet of basswood, 10,000 feet of maple and 5,000 feet of ash, and each proposal must include all of these classes of timber. The lumbermen claim that such proposals are impracticable, that the white pine manufacturers know little or nothing about the manufacture of hardwood and the hardwood manufacturer, as a rule, does not know much about pine. To neither of these manufacturers, it is claimed, has the other kind of wood anything near its fair value. It stands to reason, the lumbermen say, that a man who has been in the white pine business all his life will not offer much for hardwood, for the reason that he does not want it, and he does not know how to manufacture it to its best advantage. Taking this view of the situation, it is claimed that the number of prospective bidders is cut down to only a few who have been manufacturing both kinds of timber for the past several years. With only a few bidders in competition it is urged that the lumber will not bring anywhere near its proper value.

As to the time limitation for getting the timber off after it is purchased, the lumbermen hold that practically all the large manufacturers in this part of the country, to whom the timber is in any way desirable, have a considerable amount of timber of their own. If they buy the Indian timber and are obliged to commence the immediate manufacture of it, they will have to carry their own timber and pay taxes and interest, besides running the chance of losses by fire. The lumbermen say that the government could carry the Indian timber without expense, and that five years hence the lumbermen could afford to pay more for it than they could this year. As to the claim that the white pine manufacturers cannot consistently bid for timber in so large an amount with a limited number of years to cut it off the land, the lumbermen here or at Minneapolis could not, they claim, afford to put sawmills into timber that could just as well be

NEW DRESS UNIFORMS

For the National Guard to Be Advertised For.

St. Paul, Sept. 26.—On Oct. 2 the adjutant general will advertise for bids for the new dress uniform for the National Guard and the uniforms will be distributed to the guardsmen before the beginning of the next year. This is the new dress uniforms patterned after the new dress uniforms of the regulars, and the National Guard throughout the entire country is being equipped with these. The blouses have stand-up collars instead of the turn-down, so on the old uniforms, and each will have the insignia of the rank and detail of the wearer. The infantry uniforms will be piped with blue trimmings, the artillery with red and the engineer corps with red and white. The caps have the bell crown instead of the straight-up of the old style. The problem of providing shoes will be taken up soon after. Each member must purchase his own shoes, but they are purchased through the department. The shoes which the department will purchase are of two kinds, one a heavy shoe at $2.50 and the other lighter at $2.00, both being tan color.

IS CODY INCOMPETENT?

Suit Begun For Removal of State Boiler Inspector.

St. Paul, Sept. 26.—E. T. Young, attorney general yesterday received notice that an action had been begun in the Rice county district court for the removal of William H. Cody, state boiler inspector for Rice county. The suit is brought by A. B. Chillery, attorney for the International Union of Steam Engineers. It is alleged that Cody is incompetent and that he is deficient in experience. The state law requires ten years' experience in the operation of boilers and some experience in their construction. It is alleged that Cody has been in the business for only a few months and has been in trouble for several months over his election.

Board Will Repair Bridge.

Commissioners Kugler, Kauppi, Patterson and Sundeen, the county board committee to investigate the Cloquet river bridge, on the Rice Lake road, and take steps for its repair as was deemed best, met yesterday and decided to call for bids for a general repair of the structure. The bridge will need new piling, railing and timber.

CLEAN OUT THE BOWERY

Council Establishes Precedent In Refusing Additional Saloon Licenses.

Building Ordinance Will Come Up For Passage Next Week.

With a view to purging the Bowery of its objectionable features and turning it into a respectable business center, the council last evening established a precedent in refusing to increase the number of saloons in the district between Fifth and Seventh avenues west.

The stand was taken by Aldermen Ribenack and McEwen of the Fifth ward and was given the unanimous support of the council.

The matter came up on the application of George Marotte for a transfer of a liquor license from Eleventh avenue west to West Superior street. It was vigorously opposed by the two Aldermen from the Fifth ward.

"There are now eleven saloons on the north side of the street in full view of all the tourists and prospective investors," said Alderman Ribenack. "It is not necessary for a man to go over twenty-five or thirty feet to get a drink. Many of the saloons are not making money and they keep an undesirable class of people hanging around. The saloons also keep the rents up along the Bowery and prevent men in other lines of business from coming in and building up the street."

"When Alderman Ribenack was elected it was understood between us that we should oppose the location of any more saloons on the Bowery," said Alderman McEwen. "We agreed that as the saloons moved away, we should endeavor to prevent others taking their places, and I think this is a good time for the council to declare its policy in the matter."

After a motion by Alderman Lyle to postpone action until the next week, the application for the transfer was denied by a unanimous vote.

An extension of the fire limits was advocated by Alderman Moore in connection with a request for permission to alter a frame building on Sixth avenue near First street. The request was opposed by Alderman Ribenack. "They have an old frame shack there that can't be worth over $200 and they are going to put $2,000 in repairs on it," he said.

"There is an Austrian lodging house in the building now, which was formerly used as a blacksmith shop. This building is in the fire limits and the additions practically amount to a new frame building."

Alderman Moore, in opposing the measure, urged that greater care should be exercised in protecting the fire limits as they already exist, and also that measures should be taken to extend them as soon as possible, so as to prevent the erection of little frame shacks, which mar the appearance of the streets in the central part of the city.

All persons having objections to the new building ordinance are invited to attend the meeting next Monday night and make their grievances known. The ordinance came up for its second reading last night, but on motion by Alderman Wilson it was laid over one week.

"We will bring it up next Monday night for passage," said Alderman Wilson, "and I hope that anyone who wishes to take exception to any part of it will appear then, or else talk with the committee before that time. It is an important law, and we do not want to railroad it through."

City Attorney Fesler was instructed to contest the proceedings brought in the district court by the Zenith Investment company to vacate that portion of Minnesota avenue on this side of the city.

The council instructed the city attorney to fight the matter by every means in his power.

The finance committee reported on the tax levy for the year 1906. It was left practically unchanged from the manner in which it was reported by the conference committee. The report was laid over for one week for further consideration by the council.

City Engineer McGilvray asked for a thorough investigation of the charges that the amount of rock taken from the sewer in Sixth street between Fifth and Seventh avenues east, was not as great as the amount estimated to the contractor. The communication was laid on the table pending a report from the city attorney regarding a compromise with the property owners who are objecting to the assessment.

Branch street was vacated, in accordance with the petition of the property owners. A strip fifteen feet wide was left for the construction of sewers, and the laying of pipes and conduits. It was also provided that no buildings shall be constructed along this strip.

The city engineer's estimate on the cost of repairing the Lake avenue viaduct, was $12,800. The matter was referred to the committee on bridges, viaducts and ferries for a report.

Condemnation proceedings were ordered commenced for the purpose of acquiring the land on both sides of Tiscum creek from Woodland avenue to the lake for park purposes.

LYCEUM—Wednesday evening, "The Moonshiner's Daughter." LYCEUM—Friday and Saturday, Ezra Kendall in "Weather-Beaten Benson."

"JOLLY GRASS WIDOWS."

Musical Extravaganza Opens at Metropolitan With Large Audience.

Merry, musical extravaganza now holds sway at the Metropolitan, having been ushered in last evening before the largest audience that the pretty little theater has ever seen. There was not a vacant seat in the house and "The Jolly Grass Widows" certainly made good with a critical first-night audience. Everyone coming out of the theater after the performance had much praise for the show.

"The Jolly Grass Widows" do not profess to be a musical organization like the famous and now defunct Bostonians. They give a happy-go-lucky sort of a performance that takes mighty well with your jaded audiences of today. The company is a large one and the chorus is the handsomest that has been seen in Duluth in some time.

The performance opens with the extravaganza, "The Jolly Grass Widows." The comedy is good, too. Thompson and Laurence are good singers and Bush and Gordon are very clever actors. The burlesque strong-arm act and sharp-shooting acts are very funny. The afterpiece is quite as funny as its predecessor and a number of catchy songs are introduced. The comedians' argument over the cost of the show is amusing and so is Mr. Burkhardt's "skate."

The women of Duluth will have an opportunity of seeing "The Jolly Grass Widows" Thursday afternoon, as the matinee on that day will be especially for them. The ladies' matinees are very popular at the extravaganza houses in the Twin Cities, in fact the houses are filled to overflowing.

Walters and Mathews' "Hans An' Nix" Comedy company did not meet with a very enthusiastic reception at the Lyceum last evening. The few people who turned out to witness the production did not seem to be delighted with the efforts made at entertaining them, and applause, except from the gallery, was heard only at infrequent intervals.

The show was a popular-priced one, and for that reason those attending should not have expected a great deal. Probably every one got his money's worth, anyway, which is all that the average person could reasonably ask for. Mr. Dixon and Harry Fields gave an imitation of the successful work of Weber & Fields. The fact that it was an imitation was quite apparent. They were funny at times, however. Dixon, as editor of a paper, and introduces his friend, Nix Rinkenspele, to them. Fields takes the part of Nix. The two men leave for town on important business, they explain to the audience, as the wives of the two Germans, gave satisfaction.

AT THE BIJOU.

Charles and Minnie Bourroughs' sketch, "Duffy, the Cup," is the principal act of the excellent bill that is being presented at the Bijou this week. They sing well and their comedy is not turn that is very satisfactory. "Rube" acts have been done to death but a Christie, as the old New England farmer, is really good and is making a hit with the Bijou's patrons.

Lawrence Wait's pleasing voice is heard this week in the rendition of "The Dear Rustic Cottage" by the stream, to the accompaniment of colored voices. Edith Doyle sings well and the moving pictures depict the careless life of "The Summer Boarder."

"THE MARRIAGE OF KITTY."

A distinctly witty play, presented by a company of remarkable excellence and which was seen in this and other cities last season for the first time, will again be presented at the Lyceum this evening. It is "The Marriage of Kitty," and those who did not see it last year missed a dainty, witty comedy, presented by a clever company. With humor, repartee and ludicrous complications follow each other with the rapidity of a galloping gun discharge.

"MOONSHINER'S DAUGHTER."

"The Moonshiner's Daughter," now now in its fourth season will appear at the Lyceum, tomorrow evening. A realistic scene depicting life in the mountains of Kentucky is said to be a dramatic offering creating more than usual interest. The feudism which recently has created editorial comment is brought to light with a vivid realism.

Pakkala Gets Heavy Fine.

Axel Pakkala, a saloonkeeper of Virginia, who was indicted for assault in the second degree on John Tolonen, pleaded guilty to the charge yesterday afternoon and was fined $1,000. He paid the fine and was released. The information had by the state was that during an altercation, on the night of Aug. 15, Pakkala hit Tolonen on the head with the heavy end of a billiard cue, fracturing his skull and nearly causing the latter's death. The trouble started over Tolonen's taking a 10-cent drink when Pakkala had lost at match poker.

MICHIGAN BREWERIES TO FORM BIG COMBINE.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 26.—It was announced here yesterday that a merger of seventy-five breweries in Michigan is in process of formation. Directors of three large Grand Rapids breweries admit the truth of the report. These are the Grand Rapids Brewing company, the Furniture City Brewing company and the Peterson Brewing company. It is stated that twenty-five Detroit breweries have agreed to the terms as well as breweries in Jackson, Ann Arbor, Battle Creek, Muskegon, Traverse City, Saginaw and Bay City. The final meeting to elect officers will be held Oct. 4 in Detroit or Grand Rapids. The first move will probably be to advance the price of standard brands of beer to $3 per barrel.

ACTIVITY OF VIGILANT

Regarding Lake Erie Fishermen May Have Unpleasant Results.

Wall Street Induced Japan to Withdraw Demand For Indemnity.

FROM THE HERALD BUREAU

Washington, Sept. 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The activity of the Canadian steamer Vigilant in its efforts to protect the Lake Erie fisheries against American poachers in Canadian waters has been officially called to the attention of the Washington authorities. So far as advice has been received it appears that the Canadians were clearly within their rights in every instance. It is not likely that the attacks by the Canadian vessels upon poachers flying the American flag will lead to anything like an international complication. Certainly the vigilant committee no such breach of international law as to molest poachers. But the Lake Erie affair threatens to lead to unpleasant results for some of the Lake Erie fishermen. It has been limited on several occasions that these poachers have been engaged in wholesale smuggling of fish caught in Canadian waters by Canadian fishermen and with Canadian nets. The Canadian fishermen, who have no connection with the violations of the American customs laws, naturally protest against the enjoyment of a duty-free market by some of their countrymen while they are deprived of such market. In consequence it is believed that orders have been issued to every customs collector between Ogdensburg and Chicago to investigate the source of the fish supply at their several ports. The bulk of the smuggled fish are said to enter the United States from the Canadian waters of Georgian bay and Lake Erie into the ports of Buffalo, Cleveland, Detroit, Toledo and Chicago. Secretary Shaw is determined to look up the practice and from now on great activity is to be expected among the customs inspectors and secret service men of the department.

It is learned on very high authority that the controlling force which induced Japan to abandon its demand for indemnity was Wall Street. It will be recalled that a number of the foremost bankers of the United States went directly or through representatives to Portsmouth during the final days of the conference. These men went as the spokesmen for the greatest banking houses of the world. In fact it may be said that they represented every large money lender on the face of the earth. They pointed out to the Mikado's envoys that insistence upon payment of the cost of the war by Russia would certainly result in a continuance of hostilities and that the expense to Japan would surely foot up hundreds of millions more. Japan has reached her limit of ability to pay interest. Her bonds, today, are selling in the markets of the world at a heavy discount. These bankers demand a reasonable amount of certainty of repayment of principal as well as interest before they will consent to float a large loan. The talk was plain and the meaning of the bankers clear. Practically Wall Street said to Japan: "We are near the limit of our willingness to advance money to you. If you insist upon carrying on this war you will find difficulty in obtaining future loans, and the issues of your bonds already floated will certainly depreciate in value. Consequently Japan's credit is threatened." It is believed that the attitude of the bankers of the world as set forth to Baron Komura and Minister Takahira has as much to do with the abandonment of the demand for a money indemnity as any other cause—perhaps a great deal more.

The president had again done the graceful thing, and one which will make the social features of his administration more popular than ever, especially among the Southern people who flock to Washington for the winter season. He has ordered Capt. Fitzhugh Lee, details as one of his aides at the White House. Capt. Lee, who is attached to the Seventh cavalry, is a great nephew of the late Robert E. Lee, the idol of every man who wore the gray, and of every woman who wore the blue. The president's selection of Capt. Lee is a great compliment to the man to whom Gen. Lee surrendered at Appomattox. These young officers are both attached to the official staff of Col. Bromwell, who is officially designated as superintendent of United States buildings and grounds. The young officers will, as a consequence, become important factors in all the functions of the White House. The action of the president in causing Capt. Lee to be detailed for this pleasant duty will be keenly appreciated by the Southern people.

Cumulative testimony as to the evils which have resulted in the army from the abolition of the canteen will be presented before the committee on the subject of the canteen, which will be made to correct the folly of that action. The latest report of the committee on the canteen, who, in his annual report to the secretary of war, shows the satisfaction of all except those who won't be convinced that the deprivation of the right to enjoy his beer is resented by the soldier, who shows his resentment by filling up upon the poison whenever he can get to a joint outside an army post. The general also adds his testimony to the effect that thousands of these lowest kind of dives have sprung up in the vicinity of every army post, and that desertion and arrests for drunkenness have multiplied alarmingly since the anti-canteen law was enacted.

The opponents of the canteen in congress have insisted that not enough time has elapsed since the enactment of the prohibitory statute to test its effectiveness. But each year the number of the most prominent officers in the army have added to the evidence, which shows that in their efforts to promote temperance in the army, the well meaning but misguided friends of the American soldier have simply made a score of gin mills flourish where none existed before. It has been common to hear these people insist that the brewers and wholesale dealers were the real people behind the movement to reopen the canteens. Inasmuch as the testimony of commanding officers of nearly every post in the country shows that the brewers and wholesale liquor dealers are the indirect beneficiaries of the anti-canteen law, the absurdity of this charge is apparent.

Congress will take up this question again this winter, but the fear of antagonizing the votes of the temperance people just previous to a congressional campaign will doubtless lead to a postponement of the consideration for another year. In order to give the law a fair test. And yet there are not twenty members of congress who are not convinced that an error was made when the anti-canteen law was placed on the statute books.

EARNINGS OF THE RAILROADS

Reports Filed With State Railroad and Warehouse Commission.

St. Paul, Sept. 26.—The annual reports of the earnings of the state railroad and warehouse commission. These reports are for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1905, and contain detailed statements of the business of the companies and of their resources and financial condition.

The report of the Duluth & St. Louis City railroad, filed yesterday, showed the railroad to have received from all sources in the state $73,315.27, of which $19,422.47 is passenger receipts, and $53,892.80 freight receipts. The total receipts for the whole line are $525,338.40. The company's mileage in the state is 23.90.

The Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic, in its report, shows $2,503.35 passenger receipts for the state. The earnings of the entire line are $2,706,935.02. This company has been accumulating a deficit of $2,460,422.22 up to date, of which $2,451,465.01. The earnings of the entire line were $3,262,328.81. The report shows a surplus for the year of $57,846.66.

The Duluth & Northern railway's report shows earnings of $18,272,096, of which $42,739 is passenger receipts and $17,929,357 freight receipts. The Minnesota & International, a branch of the Northern Pacific, has reported its receipts at $48,490.82.

THE TARIFF OF CANADA

Work of the Tariff Commission Which Has Significance.

Good Opening For Dealers In Agricultural Implements Presented.

New York, Sept. 26.—Special Agent Pepper, writing from Winnipeg, Man., furnishes an interesting letter in regard to conditions in that section of the Dominion. Canadian and American news relating to the work of the tariff commission. The list of questions sent out by the minister of trade and commerce in a circular letter, and which indicate the scope of inquiry, will be read with interest. Mr. Pepper's letter follows: "The tariff commission of the Dominion government began its hearing in Winnipeg on Sept. 7. This commission is composed of the minister of finance, the minister of customs and other members of the cabinet. The importance of these hearings is that they are preliminary to the general revision of the Canadian tariff, which the government has announced will be made in 1906. Some significance is attached to the fact that the commission is held in its work here in Manitoba, which is the gateway and distributing center of the Northwest that is being opened up to settlement. Geographically and through the railway system, Winnipeg controls the trade of this section of the country. An indication of the prompt and efficient action of the tariff commission is that the duties collected in 1904 amounted to $2,252,000; in 1905 the total was $2,500,000. But the current year they are expected to exceed $3,000,000. The total of the imports entered at Winnipeg in 1904 was $1,200,000. This year I am informed that they probably will exceed $1,500,000. In addition to the collections at Winnipeg, the customs dues paid at Regina, Lehigh and Chatham are in excess of $200,000 annually, and the total imports are upward of $3,000,000. The number of representatives of firms manufacturing bladders, rollers, and other machinery and agricultural implements is larger. From this statement it may be seen that the tariff commission is not only a body of men in so far as relates to the Northwest, but also a body of men for the manufacturers and buyers of agricultural implements. Under date of Aug. 25 the minister of trade and commerce in Ottawa addressed a circular letter inviting representatives of the various industries to appear before the commission and give their views, or to submit written statements. Comment of a political nature has been made on the action of the tariff commission in selecting the present year for beginning the inquiry in the Northwest. The Manitoba Grain Growers' association suggested that the tariff commission should be held in the Northwest before Nov. 15, since during September and October farmers of the Northwest would be too busy with their crops to attend the sessions of the commission. Representatives of the Canadian manufacturers, however, have been invited to the approaching sessions of the commission. General comment on the tariff commission is being made in the Northwest. The degree to which there is a feeling of interest in this end can be determined when the testimony is heard. The present tariff on steam engines, threshers, windmills, farm wagons and heavy machinery generally is 25 per cent ad valorem. On moving machines, harvesters, binders, reapers, mowers, tractors, etc., the duty is 10 per cent ad valorem. The manufacturers who are said to want increased duties are credited with the policy of securing the trade of the settlers who have come into the Canadian Northwest from the United States. These settlers quite generally prefer the machinery of the United States to that of the Canadian manufacturers. They have been accustomed in the United States to the quality of the machinery, and even in the case of brands which have established branch manufacturers in Canada, they still prefer the output of these subsidiary plants. Many of them insist that the Canadian-made machinery does not turn out as good an article as the United States product. They taken the opinion of a number of agents and others representing both the United States and Canadian firms, and while allowance is made for different points of view, there is a substantial unanimity on many points. One of these is the preference of the settlers from the United States cannot be readily changed. The Canadian manufacturers continue to supply machinery of superior quality. The views differ widely as to how far they can continue to supply this market should the tariff be increased. The most commonly accepted opinion is that the Canadian manufacturers can hold their own, but the smaller ones are at a disadvantage when their Canadian competitors. In places it seems to be generally agreed that the Illinois firms which have been in the Northwest for many years can keep their market against the manufacturers of Ontario. The soil of Manitoba and the other Northwestern provinces is similar to the prairie soil where the plows can be tested, while the output of the Ontario factories has not this advantage. The large amount of railway construction which is now under way, and likely to continue for at least three years, also offers encouragement to the manufacturers of the United States. Grading machinery, steam plows and steam shovels will be in steady demand, and the Canadian factories have not yet been able to live up to the requirements of the market. A question has been raised whether the freight rates from the United States are not one means of compensating the manufacturers of the Mississippi valley for the tariff duties. This does not appear to be the case. The freight charges from St. Paul, 40¢ per hundred in carload lots, are alleged to be too high, but from more distant points they

THE LAXATIVE OF KNOWN QUALITY

There are two classes of remedies; those of known quality and which are permanently beneficial in effect, acting gently, in harmony with nature, when nature needs assistance; and another class, composed of preparations of unknown, uncertain and inferior character, acting temporarily, but injuriously, as a result of forcing the natural functions unnecessarily. One of the most exceptional of the remedies of known quality and excellence is the ever pleasant Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., which represents the active principles of plants, known to act most beneficially, in a pleasant syrup, in which the wholesome Californian blue figs are used to contribute their rich, yet delicate, fruity flavor. It is the remedy of all remedies to sweeten and refresh and cleanse the system gently and naturally, and to assist one in overcoming constipation and the many ills resulting therefrom. Its active principles and quality are known to physicians generally, and the remedy has therefore met with their approval, as well as with the favor of many millions of well informed persons who know of their own personal knowledge and from actual experience that it is a most excellent laxative remedy. We do not claim that it will cure all manner of ills, but recommend it for what it really represents, a laxative remedy of known quality and excellence, containing nothing of an objectionable or injurious character.

There are two classes of purchasers; those who are informed as to the quality of what they buy and the reasons for the excellence of articles of exceptional merit, and who do not lack courage to go elsewhere when a dealer offers an imitation of any well known article; but, unfortunately, there are some people who do not know, and who allow themselves to be imposed upon. They cannot expect its beneficial effects if they do not get the genuine remedy.

To the credit of the druggists of the United States be it said that nearly all of them value their reputation for professional integrity and the good will of their customers too highly to offer imitations of the

HAPPENINGS IN THE DAKOTAS

Wealthy Chinese Laundryman at Lead Murdered and Robbed.

Lead—Gip Key, a wealthy Chinese laundryman, was murdered and robbed Monday night while walking along the railroad tracks. His body was found with the skull badly crushed. Gip Key lived in the hills for twenty years and was married. He had amassed a fortune in mining property.

Waterbury—An action at law, the outcome of which will be watched with much interest, was instituted in circuit court yesterday. The plaintiff is Lloyd D. Brown, colored, and the defendant is S. A. Bridges, manager of the Grand Opera house. The issue involves the question of whether or not colored persons can be excluded from any section of opera houses. On Sept. 19 the plaintiff obtained a seat check for seat No. 9 in the parquet, the section of the house usually patronized by society leaders. Upon presenting his check to the usher, he was refused the seat, it being one of the rules of the house that negroes cannot be seated anywhere except in the gallery. Brown was incensed at the action, and immediately instituted suit to recover damages in the sum of $1,000, which says is his due by reason of the humiliation he experienced. F. L. McGee, the colored lawyer of Minneapolis, is in the city attending to the service of the complaint. The case will be tried at the November term before Judge Marquis.

Yankton—Otto Peterson, a leading clothing merchant of Yankton, was severely injured in a runaway accident on Third street. He attempted to jump from the rig, with the result that his left leg was broken in two places and his right foot terribly torn by being caught in the step. Two children of P. Marck were injured in separate accidents. Lillian, the 6-year-old daughter, fell from a tree, tearing her left leg badly on a projecting limb. Later in the day Clara, the 12-year-old son, fell beneath a trolley at the cement works, receiving a badly crushed leg.

Andover—As a stock train was running three miles west of town, the third car from the locomotive caught fire from sparks and before the train could be stopped one steer was burned and the rest of the animals ran across the prairie, many of them so badly burned that the flesh hung from their bodies. Twenty-three stacks of hay went up in smoke, as the fire spread rapidly. Citizens fought the fire and prevented further loss.

A new 44-inch artesian well is down 1,005 feet. The old well is 1,070 feet. The Day County Land company recently sold seven quarters of land. The Waldorf is crowded nearly every night with landseers.

Enil Romanowsky, a young man of La Crosse, while attempting to board a stock train, slipped and fell in such a manner that seven cars passed over his body, cutting it nearly in two. He had been working with a threshing crew, and it is said his father is a baggage master.

NORTH DAKOTA.
Minor—The large general store of Jens Peterson and the hardware and machine store of the Minor Hardware company have been burned. A large part of the stock of the former was saved, but the entire stock of the latter was consumed. The loss on buildings was about $6,000 and on stock about $2,000, partly covered by insurance. Both firms will soon replace the old buildings with new ones. The real estate office of F. F. Harlow was also burned with a loss of $200. The origin of the fire is unknown, but is thought to be incendiary.

It is folly to suffer from that horrible plague of the night, itching piles. Doan's Ointment cures quickly and permanently. At any drug store, 60 cents.

Suspend Sailings From New York For Lack of Piers.

London, Sept. 26.—The service of the Allan line of steamers from Glasgow to New York will be suspended, at least temporarily, after the sailing of the Numidian from Glasgow tomorrow. The necessity for this step is explained in a circular sent out by the managers of the Allan line, notifying agents and shippers that the expiration of the lease of their New York pier, and their inability to arrange for its renewal, or secure other suitable accommodations, they are obliged to suspend the New York service after the departure of the Numidian, Sept. 28. The managers add that they trust the circumstances will permit a resumption of the sailings between Glasgow and New York, at no distant date, and that meanwhile they are arranging to improve their service to Boston.

ESTIMATES WHEAT CROP

C. H. Thornton Places Northwestern Yield at 212,000,000 Bus.

Duluth Commercial Record Gives Figures For Year's Crop.

Charles H. Thornton of the Duluth Commercial Record has issued his estimate of the Northwestern wheat crop of 1905. He places the entire Northwestern crop at 212,000,000 bushels, including the durum or macaroni wheat. His estimate for the 1904 crop was 157,000,000 bushels. He is enthusiastic over the quality of the crop this year, declaring that it is better than any that has been raised since 1893. In speaking of it he says:

"The No. 1 hard and No. 1 northern is an excellent wheat. Sound plump kernels, full weighted and in all respects a milling wheat that should please wherever used."

"The No. 2 northern is mostly the same kind of wheat, graded down on account of smut and even at that there is very little smut to be found in it."

"The Nos. 3 and 4 wheat is different from the wheats of the same grade raised in 1904, in that the 1904 wheat was shrunken, light weight stuff because of rust cutting it down before maturity, while the small light wheat of the present crop reached full maturity and is full of gluten."

"The durum wheat is of the kind read about, kernels as big as peas and each one the color of a gold dollar. The present crop will certainly re-establish the reputation of Duluth wheat in the eyes of the Eastern and foreign milling trade."

Following is the estimate in full: "The Commercial Record's estimate of the Northwestern wheat crop of 1905 is for a total of 212,000,000 bushels, as compared with our estimate of a total of 157,000,000 bushels in 1904, and an actual movement during the year of nearly 168,000,000 bushels, including 20,000,000 bushels estimated as seed requirements."

"This estimate of 212,000,000 bushels includes durum wheat, which has been variously figured at 3,000,000 to 12,000,000 bushels, but is undoubtedly in excess of the higher figure. We confess an inability to measure the amount, and say so much is durum wheat and so much is regular spring wheat, but from a careful study of light wheat that continued since the time seed was put in the ground, we would be inclined to place the total of durum wheat at 15,000,000 bushels and it may reach 20,000,000 bushels."

"The crop by states, with acreage and average yield per acre is as follows:

State	Acreage	Yield	Total
Minnesota	5,200,000	14.25	74,100,000
North Dakota	3,500,000	13.50	47,250,000

MERCURY WAS HIGH.

September 27 Was Warmer But Once In Thirty-One Years.

Shortly after noon today a temperature of 80 was recorded at the weather bureau, and at 3 o'clock it was still 79. Only once since 1874 has the thermometer reached 80 degrees on Sept. 27. This was in 1872, when the mercury reached 82. The temperature on that date was 82. We occasionally have temperatures of 80 in the latter part of September."

APPOINTED BY SILBERSTEIN

Committee Named to Work on White City Proposition.

Bernard Silberstein, president of the Retail Merchants' association, has appointed a committee of three which will confer with similar bodies from the Commercial club and the local jobbers about the plan for securing a "White City" to furnish amusement for citizens and visitors during the summer.

The committee comprises John Fannon, of the Pantan & White company; F. M. Gidding, of J. M. Gidding & Company, and Edward Mendenhall, of Williams & Mendenhall. These men will meet with the other two committees as soon as they are appointed and the three bodies will conduct negotiations for the new park, jointly.

The committee appointed by Mr. Silberstein have all been enthusiastic over the proposition from the outset and will therefore not shrink from the work which the securing of the White City will entail. They were notified of their appointment this afternoon.

REORGANIZE WEST END CLUB

Business Men Will Hold Mass Meeting For That Purpose.

With the object of rejuvenating the West End Business Men's club a meeting will be held tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock at R. R. Forward's store.

A small, but representative gathering was held last evening and it was decided to call another meeting for tomorrow night, when all public-spirited citizens of the West end are invited to be present.

The old club, which was quite active two years ago, was allowed to become disorganized and the members lost interest. Now that the West end's prospects are looking so bright, it is the desire of the representative business men to reorganize the club, and the meeting tomorrow evening is for that purpose.

POLICE WILL WATCH HORSES

Special Orders Issued to Stop Cruel Treatment of Them.

Strict orders to arrest and prosecute all drivers found ill-treating their horses have just been given to the police officers in a bulletin issued by Chief Troyer and posted at headquarters.

Numerous complaints have been made to the department during the last week or two of the manner in which horses are being ill-treated in the city. The chief cause for complaint is the manner in which the horses are forced to trot up the steep hills, and the particular attention of the officers is called to this.

The owners of the teams are the ones who have lodged the complaints. One grocer in particular asked the police to watch his drivers and arrest any of them found ill-treating his horses. He says he was convinced of the fact that they were being ill-treated and wanted an example made of one of the men.

North Butte at $49—Bisbee Stocks All Strong.

North Butte stock, today, practically went through the $49 mark. Early in the morning it sold at that but there was considerable realizing and it fell back. This occurred two or three times but at the close the price was $49 bid.

Bisbee stocks were all strong, though Calumet & Arizona was a little easier being offered at $120. Calumet & Pittsburg sold at $40 today, and at the close was at $39 and $40 asked. Junction was at $28 bid and Pittsburg & Duluth at $30 asked. Lake Superior & Pittsburg at the close was at $36.50 bid.

One Thousand Barrels of Ale and Porter Thrown Into River.

Minneapolis, Sept. 27.—Only the fishes and the ducks rejoiced late yesterday when 2,000 gallons of ale and porter, to-wit, 1,000 barrels were opened at the river bank, near the foot of Twenty-first avenue south, in Minneapolis, because the brown October ale, the once fragrant porter, was sour. Otherwise it would have been worth $10.00.

The 1,000 barrels were part of the stock of the Imperial Brewing company, which failed July 1. Although the ale and porter might have been sold cheaper to notify S. N. Nichols, deputy collector of internal revenue, that taxes would not be paid upon the liquor, and that they might be poured into the river.

Duluth union, No. 81, International Brotherhood of Bookbinders, at a meeting held in Labor hall last night, entered into a brief discussion as to what stand should be taken if the printers of the city go on a strike, as now threatened. Aside from the discussion, no action was taken, although one or two of the members favored immediate adoption of resolutions not to work with non-union printers after Oct. 5, in case of a strike. The matter will be further discussed at the regular meeting of the union, to be held next Tuesday evening. The meeting

STATE CONCLUDES ITS CASE AGAINST GRANT

O'Brien and Kelly Chief Witnesses Against Chisholm's President.

O'Brien Testified Falsely and Kelly Refused Offer to Do So.

At the adjournment of the trial of the Grant case, yesterday afternoon, County Attorney McClintock announced that the state rested, but with the understanding that it might have the privilege of putting in a little testimony today should the occasion arise.

The principal feature during the afternoon session of the trial was the testimony given by A. J. Kelly, who alleged that William Grant offered him $10 to swear falsely against Mrs. Parris. In the action brought against Mrs. Parris by the Village of Chisholm, for selling liquor without a license, determined efforts were made by the defense to exclude this testimony, and Mr. Fryberger's objection was sustained yesterday morning. Later, however, Mr. McClintock again offered Kelly's testimony, and the jury was excused while the attorneys argued on Mr. Fryberger's objection.

Mr. McClintock contended that the testimony was legitimate, that it was not his intention to prove another crime, but that he simply wanted to show intent on the part of Grant. He said he would show that Grant was with the intention of buying false witnesses, and that he was "working a system" to get them. Mr. McClintock cited a large number of authorities in support of his contention.

Mr. Fryberger confined himself to Minnesota decisions when he made his argument. He claimed that the alleged offer made to Kelly had nothing to do with the present issue, and that it introduced at this time it would be prejudicial to his client's interests. Judge Cantor overruled to testify, and Kelly was permitted to testify.

Kelly said he recollected there was a case against Mrs. Parris on July 24, he went into Grant's saloon on Saturday evening, preceding the Monday when the trial opened. Grant said he wanted to use Kelly in a blind pig case against Mrs. Parris. Kelly said he did not know anything about it, but Grant said it made no difference, that there was $10 in it for him. If he would testify to the same thing as Bowman, and that O'Brien and McGrath were going to give testimony against the woman, Kelly said he refused to testify falsely and Grant said:

"You will stand by me or I'll railroad you out of town."

On cross examination Kelly said he knew O'Brien, but was not acquainted with Parris, house so he could see where they went in and where they came out. This, he said, was the substance of Grant's answer.

After, when questioned by Mr. McClintock, O'Brien stated that Bowman said he would take O'Brien and McGrath to Parris' house so they could see where they went in and where they came out. This, he said, was the substance of Grant's answer.

Antony Wey, who is employed by his brother, a hawkeye at Chisholm, testified that Bowman hired a two-seated rig at the stable about July 24 last. He said the rig was delivered to Bowman at Godfrey's saloon, that Bowman was gone from the saloon about an hour and a half or two hours. He did not know who was in the rig when it was presented. Producing the stable entry of July 24, he indicated an entry which in good faith was a record of the rig hired out to Bowman for "village blind pig police," with a charge of $2. Bowman had frequently hired rigs at the village expense.

W. A. Masters, village recorder at Chisholm, was called to identify a rig hired for a big rented Bowman, July 24 last. Deputy Sheriff Frank Magie testified that he has in his possession an attachment for George Bowman, but that all efforts to locate the latter have been unsuccessful. He also testified that the sheriff's office has been unable to find McGrath, for whom a subpoena has been issued.

At the conclusion of Deputy Sheriff Magie's testimony the state rested, and the jury was excused until this morning at 9:30 o'clock.

COAL PRICE TO ADVANCE

Half a Million Coal Miners to Be Locked Out.

Big Coal Men Says Coal Is Selling Too Cheap.

Pittsburg, Sept. 27.—Fully half a million men will be forced into idleness next April 1. A combined strike and lockout of all the coal mines of Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, Indiana, Illinois and part of Kentucky is scheduled. On next April 1, all the wage scales between the coal operators and the miners of the country expire.

A meeting has been called in Chicago, Nov. 22, next, to be attended by coal operators of all the states mentioned. Anthracite and bituminous operators will assemble together for the common weal for the first time. It is an attack to combine all the forces in an attempt to strike down the United Mine Workers of America. This organization has been kept alive by the bituminous coal operators of Western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois.

The purpose of the anthracite operators in joining the bituminous dealers is to turn them against the miners' union.

No coal contracts are being made for future delivery. No deliveries will be made beyond next April 1 already the coal operators are stocking coal for the time when the mines will be closed.

Francis L. Robbins, president of the Pittsburg Coal company, the largest coal combine in the world, was asked about the impending crisis. The Pittsburg Coal company mines and ships more coal than the Reading, Lackawanna, Erie and Lehigh combined.

Mr. Robbins said: "The average man not interested in the coal industry would be surprised to know when he is told that next April 1 every coal-mining wage scale in the country expires. The miners are recognized in some shape. The miners must have an eight-hour workday, and the boys and unskilled men must have an increase in wages and uniform pay, and that day laborers must have a minimum and uniform pay."

"I know that the anthracite operators will not grant some of these demands. This will tend to close down the Eastern mines. Already the miners are stocking up coal, which they can do to advantage. We in the bituminous field cannot do this, because our coal is so hard to handle. We will fill our docks and barges and be prepared for the worst if it comes."

"Consumers have been getting their coal too cheap. The coalfields have not been earning anything. We must get better prices. Bituminous coal has advanced 5 cents a ton in the face of recent depression. It will go higher before winter."

Mr. Robbins pointed out that an advance of 10 cents a ton means a profit of $20,000,000 a year to the Pittsburg Coal company. Hence the main object in the shut-down is to fill all the bunkers, bins, piers and docks and then to force prices upward. More money will be made in this way than in operating the mines under existing prices.

According to the present plan the coal operators will not reach an agreement. The conference will not adjourn sine die. The operators demand a reduction of 15 cents a ton on the present mining rate. The miners will refuse to accept it. The mines will be closed April 1.

MASTER PRINTERS TAKE STAND AGAINST UNION. Minneapolis, Sept. 27.—The Minneapolis Typothetae has taken a decided stand against the Typographical union. They agreed not only to force a strike with the printers by refusing to sign a contract enforcing closed shops, but to pay any wages they see fit.

"We do not have to pay $15 a week if a man is not worth it," is the statement accredited to one of the master printers, "but $10 or $12 or whatever we please."

The contract with the union printers expires Oct. 1 and the employers will force the eight-hour strike originally called for Jan. 1 by posting open shop notices in all job offices in Minneapolis immediately upon the expiration of the contracts.

MASTER PRINTERS TAKE STAND AGAINST UNION. Minneapolis, Sept. 27.—The Minneapolis Typothetae has taken a decided stand against the Typographical union. They agreed not only to force a strike with the printers by refusing to sign a contract enforcing closed shops, but to pay any wages they see fit.

"We do not have to pay $15 a week if a man is not worth it," is the statement accredited to one of the master printers, "but $10 or $12 or whatever we please."

The contract with the union printers expires Oct. 1 and the employers will force the eight-hour strike originally called for Jan. 1 by posting open shop notices in all job offices in Minneapolis immediately upon the expiration of the contracts.

Sues on Old Notes. The Colonial Trust company, as trustee of the estate of Stella Jewell Tinker, has started suit in district court against Edward Peterson to compel the payment of three notes given by him to the deceased as payment for lot 6, block 66, Harrison's Brookdale division of Duluth, and described by metes and bounds as Brookdale division. Two of the notes are for $50 and $100.

Persian Nerve Essence RESTORES VITALITY—Have cured thousands of cases of Nervous Debility, Insomnia, Vertigo, etc. They clear the brain, strengthen the circulation, make digestion perfect, and impart a magnetic vigor to the whole being. W. H. Allen, member of the University of Pennsylvania football squad, broke his right leg above the ankle while practicing, and was cured by Persian Nerve Essence. Sold in Duluth by Max Wirth, 15 West Superior St.

At a meeting of Boston citizens Tuesday night, which was Dec. 14, 1837, the plaintiff also seeks to have the description of the property corrected and the sale confirmed.

WEST DULUTH MILLS USE MANY MEN

Six Hundred Employed In Cutting Lumber For Virginia.

Duluth Deanery Meeting, Just Over, Proves Very Successful.

A short time ago it was given out that the Virginia Lumber company had leased the Lessor mill at West Duluth for one year and had an option of buying the same within that time. A very short time later the company decided that as it was putting in a great deal of money into preparations for the summer and winter work at the mill, it had better close its option for purchase at once. This was accordingly done and now the Virginia Lumber company is in actual possession of the mill property and will likely run the mill for several years, as it has considerable timber to cut and is acquiring more.

The hot pond for the winter's work will be completed in a short time.

Three mills in West Duluth and the West end are working on stuff for the Virginia Lumber company. They are the Lessor, owned by the company, the Mulvey mill at the West end and the St. Louis mill, where Robert Dewse is cutting timber under contract for the Virginia people.

It is claimed that these three mills employ in round numbers over 600 men and will do so for an indefinite period. This means a great deal to the western part of the city and is affording a great deal of money which the merchants and real estate men eventually get.

AT SUPERIOR NEXT.
The meeting of the Duluth Episcopal deanery, which was held yesterday at Holy Apostles church at West Duluth, ended with last night's session, although considerable entertainment was given the visiting rectors today. It was decided yesterday that the deanery is to meet in January at St. Alban's Episcopal church in Superior, when Rev. W. J. Cordick will be host.

The papers read by the various rectors yesterday were all intensely interesting and the attendance at the deanery service was unusually large for such manner of meeting. The feature of the service last evening was the congregational singing, which was excellent. Miss Jessie Priest was organist and Charles Applehagen assisted in the singing. He also sang excellently. "One Sweetly Solenn Thought."

The ladies' guild of the church served luncheon and dinner at the home of Mrs. Walter Evers on Fifty-sixth avenue yesterday, to the visiting rectors and both were delightful affairs, socially as well as otherwise. Yesterday afternoon Dr. J. M. Moore took the visitors over the Union Lumber factory where great courtesy was shown by the management and employees and the clerical men were very much interested. Most of the rectors have gone home so that nothing formal in the way of entertainment was attempted today.

ARRIVE ON PULLMANS

Duluth Players Strike Town With the Bells Ringing.

White Sox Had Money Salted Away In the Bank.

Happy, smiling, wearing good clothes and smoking fat Havana cigars, the remnants of Duluth's champion baseball team of 1905, stepped off the train from Iron Mountain, Mich., this morning, and immediately delegated Captain O'Dea and Eddie Neher as a committee of two to attend to the man who was responsible for the report that they were stranded.

The committee looked fat and well fed, and as far as external appearances went, had not seen pretzels and cheese sandwiches for months.

"Why, we've been eating venison," said Captain Artie. "Nothing was too good for us down in Iron Mountain. The landlord of the hotel down there set up mutton chops for us one day, and gave us the work, to let us know the sheep was a wild one."

"It's true we didn't make any money on the trip. In fact we lost some, but we expected to do that, and we had a fine holiday."

"We didn't draw any money salted away where we could draw it, and there was no danger of having to hit the blind baggage back to Duluth."

Here the committee began to look heated and trouble seemed imminent, when the subject was quickly switched around to the success met with on the diamond, during the trip.

"The Calumet team that won the championship of the Copper Country league is a much higher priced team than ours," said O'Dea. "They pay about $300 to $400 more a month for it. They beat us three out of five, but our team was a patched up affair. Calumet has a lot of fast fielders, but they aren't hitters. If we had had our regular team down there, we would have been batting yet."

QUICK WORK OF POLICE

Superior Officers Catch Man Wanted Here For Burglary.

News of Arrest and of Crime Come Almost Simultaneously.

Almost simultaneously with the receipt of the news that the Manhattan barber shop had been broken into last night, the police received a telephone message from Superior this morning stating that a man had been caught there peddling barber's supplies and asking if such a person was wanted in Duluth. The prisoner proved to be the man wanted by the Duluth police.

The shop was broken into some time during the night and when the proprietor came down this morning he found everything in a state of confusion. The drawers and cupboards had been ransacked and the unknown thief had secured everything of value that he could find. About two dozen razors were missing, and all of the clippers and hones in the shop. The barbers had to hurry out and buy some new tools to take care of the early morning customers.

The police were notified of the burglary and Detective Irvine was detailed to investigate it.

The detective had hardly left the police station when Chief Troyer received a message from Superior stating that the superior police had picked up a suspicious looking man trying to dispose of some razors. The officer suspected that the razors had been stolen and had taken the man into custody until he had a chance to investigate.

The man gave his name as Joseph Long.

Detective Irvine immediately left for Superior and brought the prisoner back to Duluth with him. He was caught with the goods on him, and they are said to correspond with the stuff that was stolen from the shop.

He will be arraigned for a preliminary hearing on the charge of grand larceny. On the value of the goods will depend whether the charge is first or second degree larceny. The fact that they were stolen from a building in the night time will make it grand larceny, and if the goods are valued at over $25 it will be in the first degree.

CHINAMAN BEING TRIED
Proprietor of Chop Suey Joint Brought Into Court.

Hom Sam, the chop suey man, is being tried in the municipal court this afternoon on a charge of selling liquor without a license.

The claim of the police is that the chop suey joint was conducted in a rather free and easy manner, and that patrons were served with liquor, in spite of the fact that the proprietor had no city license.

The Celestial was arrested on a warrant issued by Judge Cutting and arraigned yesterday afternoon. He pleaded not guilty to the charge and his trial was commenced shortly before 3 o'clock this afternoon.

BEAUTIFUL SHOW WINDOWS

Many Novelties and Lovely Things Are Shown at Freimuth's.

The beautiful show windows of the Freimuth establishment, representative of the wonderful things to be seen in the different departments of the store, have today attracted hundreds of hurrying women, many of whom discovered that they were in not half so big a hurry when the elegantly dressed windows came in view.

The large space at the disposal of the decorator has made it possible for these attractive glass cases to represent a number of the latest in fashion. In one compartment are the silks and wistings in the latest. They are simply arranged to bring out the best advantage the beautiful colorings. Soft rose, greens and lovely, Alice blues, lavenders and the faintest of pink colors are shown in the soft materials for waists. The trimmings shown in the windows are of the most beautiful in the extreme, suggesting embroidery of the finest hand work.

The next window is beautiful in the simplicity of its arrangement. Some beautiful hats are exhibited there with some exquisite French gloves and a number of the little accessories which will add so much to the dresy costume. The Maxine Elliott model is a beautiful, dignified sort of hat and the "College Widow" is a frivolous concoction in the hat line and the one shown at Freimuth's is of baby blue velvet, flat and with ribbon in the same shade falling from the back. Some beautiful models in black hats were also inspected. The flat hats this year are rather surprising for the brim and the place to get it is where it takes very little money to buy the best. Our prices will make it very easy to fill the dinner pail.

A BIG LAKE OF ASPHALT

Source of Much Street Pavement That Exists at Trinidad.
Bituminous Pitch Bubbles Up From Bowels of the Pitch.

New York, Sept. 27.—A letter from Brighton, Trinidad, says: Today we visited Pitch lake, one of the natural wonders of the world, but rarely visited and little known. Its location and surroundings are not such as to recommend it to the tourists, although Brighton as the crow flies is but twenty-five miles from Port of Spain, one of the most attractive ports of the West Indies.

This Trinidad lake of pitch and the Bermudez lake, in Venezuela, supply the bulk of the asphalt of commerce, and since the recent nullification of the Bermudez concession by the Venezuelan supreme court, the Brighton lake has taken on added importance.

Brighton has no claim to existence aside from the bituminous pitch that nature here sends bubbling up from the bowels of the earth. The lake is about a quarter of a mile from the steamship pier. Nearly are quarters for 300 native laborers, and a plant, offices and quarters for the half dozen Americans representing the company, and that is all, except for the few tropical sun eternally beating down, and the sharks that play in the harbor.

But as a natural curiosity and as a commercial enterprise the lake is of absorbing interest. Imagine a huge asphaltic plain of more than 100 acres, softened by the sun, overgrown in spots with weeds, covered after a rain with pools of water, and you have the famous Pitch lake—a big, black semi-pond of asphalt, with a surface fairly firm and apparently placid, but in reality treacherous and eternally in motion.

Around the edges runs a tramway with an endless cable hauling the loaded cars to the refinery and bringing the empty ones back again. Along this line, where the pitch is hardest, all the mining of the product is done—the black workmen digging it out with pick and shovel.

It is necessary to shift the scene of operations only along the line, never toward the center, as in two days' time the slowly moving viscous mass of the pitch, continually flowing from the center, has refilled the excavations and made them ready for the workmen again. Every day the rails of the tramway are lifted and the slowly sinking ties moved a few inches one way or the other so that the railway may not entirely disappear in the bottomless ooze.

Bottomless it may well be called, for soundings have been made until with no bottom at 140 feet the pipes and sounding apparatus have been crushed and swallowed up, to be disgorged months later. The mining of the product is lowering the level of the lake at the rate of about six inches a year.

The center of this huge volcanic crater is the source of supply. Here the pitch bubbles up in almost a purely liquid state, spreading out over the lake in dozens of streams, gradually hardening and imperceptibly flowing toward the boundaries in an attempt to find a level. Except for a space in the center, which you might cover with a board, one may safely walk over the entire surface of the lake, and even at the center, as the superintendent demonstrated to us, you may, if you care for that sort of thing, run forward, dig out the pitch with a handful of the warm pitch for a souvenir and retire in great haste without sinking more than ankle deep in the muck.

It is horrible to contemplate the thought of being caught by this awful, bubbling, and relentlessly engulfing sea of pitch. Not long ago a negro workman heroically offered himself for a handout of the pitch, and he was asked how long it would take for a man to become engulfed in the pitch. For over an hour he stood in the pitch, and then he was rescued. He was in a desperate plight, and then his companions, in a burst of cruel mercy, decided as if to leave him to his fate. His vociferous appeals for mercy melted their hearts. They were used in rescuing a skater who has broken through the ice, and after hours of hard work the victim was once more free and happy.

The output of the lake last year was about 140,000 tons. Most of the product is shipped North in a crude state. The cars of pitch are piled up from the cable way as they come from the lake by an overhead trolley line, run to the water front and dumped into the holds of chartered steamers.

The asphalt hardens in the hold, and has to be dug out with picks when the cargo is discharged. A small amount of the product is refined in water, rendered by a steam process, and shipped to South American ports, ready for use in paving. The refined product represents a loss of 28 per cent of the crude, principally water.

The lake is a valuable source of revenue to the island government. An export duty of $1.25 a ton and a royalty of 40 cents a ton, by the terms of the concession, put nearly $500,000 a year into the island treasury. The entire concession is about 2,000 acres, and the land is fertile and some of it is now being used with success for the cultivation of fruit.

The New Trinidad Asphalt company, an American concern, controls both this concession and the recently abandoned Bermudez concession in Venezuela. The Trinidad property has several distinct advantages over the Bermudez lake.

The possibility of exhaustion of the former seems more remote—the Venezuelan lake, although ten times the size, is but thirty feet deep. Its surface is submerged in water, rendering the extraction of the product more difficult, and a forty mile haul to the coast adds to the cost of placing it on the market.

For the preparation of paving and roofing materials the Trinidad variety has been found the better adapted, but the purer Venezuelan article is used largely in the preparation of asphalt. Danger attends the shipping of the Bermudez pitch in bulk in the holds of the steamers, as the slightest list to one side or the other tends to cause a disastrous flow of the pitch to that side. The Trinidad variety, being asphalt, company and the clerks in the offices, all Americans, live in comfortable quarters down on the beach, where cooling breezes from the Gulf of Paria drive away the mosquitoes and mitigate the heat.

KING EDWARD

Is Offended By a Remark By Mrs. Potter Palmer.

London, Sept. 26.—Mrs. Potter Palmer is the heroine of a story from Marlborough, which is retailed with undiluted gusto by her social rivals because they believe that as far as King Edward is concerned, she has "quite ceased to exist."

One afternoon, when his majesty met her in the gardens, being in a jovial mood, he reproved her for driving her motor too fast.

Mrs. Potter Palmer retorted with unaffected frankness: "Well, certainly, you cannot talk, for you yourself drove so furiously when you were in the habit of driving."

What was wrong? I respected King Edward's integrity, and he froze instantly. Mrs. Potter Palmer, it is reported, had said to one of her friends, "King Edward is a very nice fellow, but he is a bit of a snob."

King Edward never forgives what he considers a "liberty," and he froze instantly. Mrs. Potter Palmer, it is reported, had said to one of her friends, "King Edward is a very nice fellow, but he is a bit of a snob."

THE TEXT OF THE TREATY

Between Great Britain and Japan Made Public at London.

Will Conduct Defensive War and Make Peace In Common.

London, Sept. 27.—The text of the Anglo-Japanese treaty signed Aug. 22, was issued from the foreign office last evening, together with a dispatch to the British ambassador at St. Petersburg forwarding a copy of the agreement with instructions to communicate it to the Russian government at the earliest opportunity. The treaty contains eight clauses and a long preamble. The latter states that in order to secure the maintenance of general peace in Asia and India and the preservation of the interests of all the powers in China by ensuring the integrity of China and the principle of equal opportunity for the commerce of all nations, the maintenance of the territorial rights of Great Britain and Japan in Eastern Asia and India and the defense of their special interests therein.

The text of the treaty follows: Article 1.—The two governments, whenever their interests are so affected as to be jeopardized shall communicate with each other freely and consider jointly the measures to be taken to safeguard them.

Article 2.—If by reason of an unprovoked attack or aggressive action, wherever arising, on the part of any power or powers, either party being involved in war in defense of its rights or interests, the other party will at once come to the assistance of its ally and will conduct war in common and make peace in mutual agreement.

Article 3.—Japan possessing paramount political, military and naval power in the Far East, Great Britain recognizes Japan's right to take such measures for the guidance, control and defense of Korea as she may deem proper and necessary to safeguard and advance those interests, providing the principle of equal opportunity for all commerce.

Article 4.—Japan recognizes the rights of Great Britain to take such measures in proximity to her Indian frontier as she may deem necessary to safeguard her Indian possessions.

Article 5.—The high contracting parties agree that neither without the consent of the other shall enter into a separate arrangement with another power to the prejudice of the objects described in the preamble.

Article 6.—As regards the present war between Japan and Russia, Great Britain will continue to maintain strict neutrality, unless some other power or powers join in hostilities against Japan in such a case as to require the assistance of Japan, which will conduct war in common, and will make peace in mutual agreement with Japan.

Article 7.—The conditions under which armed assistance shall be rendered by either power to the other, in the circumstances mentioned in the present agreement, and the means by which such assistance shall be made available, will be arranged by the naval and military authorities of the two powers in consultation with each other freely on all questions of mutual interests.

Article 8.—The present agreement shall be subject to the provisions of Article 6, and come into effect immediately after the ratification of the present agreement by the two powers. It shall remain binding until the expiration of ten years from the date of its conclusion, and may be renewed by mutual consent of the two powers.

CONTAGIOUS BLOOD POISON HUMILIATING—VILE—DESTRUCTIVE

The very name, Contagious Blood Poison, suggests contamination and dread. It is the worst disease the world has ever known; responsible for more unhappiness and sorrow than all others combined. Nobody knows anything about the origin of this loathsome trouble, but as far back as history goes it has been regarded the greatest curse of mankind.

No part of the body is beyond the reach of this powerful poison. No matter how pure the blood may be, when the virus of Contagious Blood Poison enters, the entire circulation becomes corrupted, the humiliating symptoms begin to appear, and the sufferer finds himself diseased from head to foot with the vilest and most destructive of all poisons. Usually the first symptom is a small sore or ulcer, so insignificant that it rarely ever excites suspicion, but in a short while the skin breaks out in a red rash, the glands of the groin swell, the throat and mouth ulcerate, the hair and eye-brows come out, and often the body is covered with copper-colored spots, pustular eruptions and sores.

There is hardly any limit to the ravages of Contagious Blood Poison; if it is not driven from the blood it affects the nerves, attacks the bones, and in extreme cases causes tumors to form on the brain, producing insanity and death. No other disease is so highly contagious; many an innocent person has become infected by using the same toilet articles, handling the clothing, by a friendly handshake or the kiss of affection from one afflicted. But no matter how the disease is contracted, the sufferer feels the humiliation and degradation that accompany the vile disorder.

Mercury and Potash are commonly used in the treatment of Contagious Blood Poison, but these minerals cannot cure the disease—they merely mask it in the system. All external evidences may disappear for awhile, but the treacherous poison is at work on the internal members and tissues, and when these minerals are left off the disease returns worse than before, because the entire system has been weakened and damaged by the strong action of the Mercury and Potash. There is but one certain, reliable cure for Contagious Blood Poison, and that is S. S. S., the great vegetable blood purifier. It attacks the disease in the right way by going down into the blood, neutralizing and forcing out every particle of the poison. It makes the blood pure and rich, strengthens the different parts of the body, tones up the system, and cures this humiliating and destructive disorder permanently.

The improvement commences as soon as the patient gets under the influence of S. S. S. and continues until every vestige of the poison is driven from the blood and the sufferer is completely restored to health. S. S. S. is not an experiment; it is a success. It has cured thousands of cases of Contagious Blood Poison, many of which had given the Mercury and Potash treatment, Hot Springs, etc., a thorough trial, and had almost despaired of ever being well again. S. S. S. is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, and does not injure the system in the least. We offer a reward of $1,000 for proof that it contains a particle of mineral of any kind. If you are suffering with this despicable and debasing disease, get it out of your blood with S. S. S. before it does further damage. We will gladly send our book with instructions for self-treatment and any medical advice, without charge, to all who write.

NO ACCOUNT OF PROFITS FROM SYNDICATE DEALS IS FOUND IN THE BOOKS

Schedules Show That Equitable Society Made Large Sums of Money.

James H. Hyde Ordered Many Loans to the Navigation Syndicate.

New York, Sept. 28.—Henry Greaves, a clerk employed by the Equitable Life Assurance society, continued his testimony before the legislative insurance investigation committee, today. He gave further details of the payment of checks to the George H. Squire trustee account. Concerning one entry of $40,000 deposited to the account on July 9, 1901, and the immediate withdrawal of the sum, by draft, Mr. Greaves said he knew nothing. He did not know where the money came from, nor by whom it was withdrawn. He could supply no information as to the profits of a one-half interest in a Chicago & Alton syndicate credited to the George H. Squire trustee account. Other syndicate profits in 1902 and 1903 deposited with the American Deposit and Loan company to the credit of this account, witness was unable to explain. On May 1, 1901, a new book for these entries was opened and a balance of $22,770 was credited. The bank deposit books were kept by Thomas D. Jordan at that time, controller of the Equitable. Checks for deposit to this account Mr. Greaves said he delivered to Mr. Jordan.

Another entry in the George H. Squire trustee account, under date of May 2, 1902, was the first payment of $25,000, on a Navigation syndicate call, by order of James H. Hyde. This money was borrowed from the Equitable Trust company by James H. Hyde, on May 5, on the participation certificate. Witness knew nothing of this, merely making the entries at the direction of Mr. Squire. Another entry showing a loan from the Equitable Trust company of $55,000, being the second call on the Navigation syndicate, and this was paid upon the order of Mr. Squire. On Oct. 8, 1902, another loan of $75,000 from the Equitable Trust company to cover an order on the Navigation syndicate, and Jan. 16, 1903, a first call on the syndicate of $25,000, July 20, 1903, a fifth call demanded $25,000, which was also advanced by the Equitable Trust company. These calls were paid on the order of James H. Hyde. Mr. Squire drew checks for $10,000 on April 18, 1904, another for $7,500 to reduce the loan from the Equitable Trust company on account of the Navigation syndicate, but when dividends came in they were not credited to the George H. Squire trustee account. This syndicate account is still running and is carried on books of the Equitable Life Assurance society.

TARTAR GENERAL GOES TO SUPPRESS BANDITS

Fearful Chinese Outlaws May Make Trouble When Armies Are Withdrawn.

Gumela Pass, Sept. 28.—The Tartar general of Hellingchiang province has been transferred to Kienwei for the purpose of instituting order, following the evacuation of the foreign troops. He has already begun military operations to suppress the Chinese bandits, who lately were in the Russian and Japanese service. The Chinese estimate that the bandits in Eastern Hellingchiang are 1,000 strong. The Tartar general has issued a proclamation, calling on these outlaws to give up their arms, as peace has removed the necessity for their services. At the

SENATOR T. M. PATTERSON THINKS PHILIPPINES A SLUMBERING VOLCANO

San Francisco, Sept. 28.—Members of the Taft party who arrived from the Orient have summarized for the Associated Press their impressions as follows: Congressman Cooper of Wisconsin, chairman of the house committee on insular affairs: "One effect of the trip will be in a large measure to take the question of immediate Philippine independence out of politics. Personal study of the situation has, I think, convinced the members of our party, Democrats and Republicans, that the inhabitants of the Philippine islands are not now capable of free self-government." Senator Patterson of Colorado: "The Philippines, the more you know of them the more serious appears the problem. I am convinced that in the government we are getting further and further away from Secretary Taft's patriotic and humane policy and the Philippines for the Philippines and ultimate independence. The Gulf between the natives and the Americans is widening. I fear the Philippines are a smoldering volcano." Congressman Foss, chairman of the house committee on naval affairs: "The journey to the Philippines gave me every opportunity to see Cavite, Manila bay and Subig bay, and on my return home I am more firmly convinced than ever of the vital importance of the establishment of an extensive and thoroughly equipped naval base in the Philippines." Congressman Hepburn, chairman of the house committee on foreign and interstate commerce: "Philippines need education and physical development, and they must be taught the dignity of labor. The United States has much to do in the islands." Congressman Charles F. Scott of Kansas: "With the resources properly developed the Philippines will support 40,000,000 people as easily as they now maintain 8,000,000. They are the richest group of tropical islands in the world and the time when the United States will count them among its proudest possessions." "We have gained knowledge that will be of great value, and we could not have obtained it in any other way. We have been and understood many things about the Philippines that were not clear to us before."

RUSSIA IS GIVE WITTE MOST HEARTY WELCOME

Peace Envoy Received at St. Petersburg By an Enthusiastic Crowd.

Prolonged Cheers Greet Statesman as He Alights From Train.

In Distinct Contrast With His Departure In Last July.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 28.—Mr. Witte arrived here at 8:25 a. m., today, and was accorded a very hearty reception by a large crowd of officials and others. In a brief speech replying to a welcoming address, Mr. Witte showed clearly that he was deeply touched by the welcome with which he was received. When he left St. Petersburg in July a small delegation of officials accompanied him to the railroad station, to bid him farewell. There was no public demonstration whatever. Today, there were seven or eight times as many officials present, and the early hour of the train's arrival and an enthusiastic crowd of five to six hundred people. Among the officials present were Baron Nolde, general secretary of the committee of ministers; Gen. Durvov, adjutant to the minister of the interior; Mr. Wyshnegradsky, formerly finance minister and now director of the International Commercial bank; M. Kobov, privy councillor and chairman of the press reform commission, and many other prominent officials who had been Mr. Witte's former colleagues or subordinates. The crowd had collected near where Mr. Witte would descend from the train and when he appeared they broke out into long and loud cheers, which Mr. Witte bowed acknowledgment. The spokesman then advanced and read the address of welcome, all in the meanwhile standing bare-headed. The address read: "You have accomplished your difficult task and the nation is grateful to you. You have given the credit for your success to Emperor Nicholas, President Roosevelt, Emperor William of Germany and to the press. You have forgotten only yourself. We, however, fully appreciate your services to your country. The tree you planted at the Washington homestead at Mt. Vernon will serve as a token of the union between the two nations. You have done much. For ourselves and for those who are absent we will once more about a hearty hurrah."

Says Tree Planted at Mt. Vernon Is Token of Union of Nations.

Mr. Witte Deeply Touched By Reception and Makes Reply.

When the cheer had died away Mr. Witte, who seemed deeply moved by the sincerity of the welcome advanced a few steps and delivered his reply. "It was so little prepared for this kind of reception that I must ask your pardon for the incoherence of my words. I have performed my duty well because I have strictly obeyed his majesty's instructions, because circumstances favored me, because the world is weary of this bloody war, because I have been able to bring about a peace which will save millions of lives. I have been in sympathy with my country and because I was true to my country and her and our interests."

BUYING MOVEMENT IN IRON GREATEST KNOWN September Tonnage Is Easily the Largest In History of the Trade.

New York, Sept. 28.—The Iron Age, in its issue of today, says: "The past week has carried further the remarkable buying movement that burst upon the iron market two weeks ago, and the September tonnage is easily the greatest for a single month in the history of the trade. While there are evidences of excitement here and there, business for the most part has been done in an orderly way, and vendors in the trade refer to the present market as the greatest in which they have participated."

The United States Steel corporation has bought 40,000 tons of Bessemer iron at $15 at furnace for delivery in September and October. This corporation is expected to be a buyer of Bessemer iron at the rate of 40,000 tons a month, well into next year. The total of its purchases in September is 80,000 tons. Bessemer iron is now selling at $15.50 at valley furnace. In the foundry iron trade a prodigious business has been rounded up, and leading Southern sellers have booked a record tonnage in September. The largest seller is reported to have taken orders for 100,000 tons last week. Northern sellers have been exceedingly busy also, particularly in the East and Central West. The Alabamians are in the market for the first time in a long while, and inquiries of large aggregate for the first time in a long while. The market is pending, and $12.50 for No. 2 foundry iron at Birmingham is now quoted. In the Central West the minimum has

LAND GRAFTERS ARE FOUND GUILTY

Portland, Or., Sept. 28.—After being out for two hours, the third jury which has heard the testimony of the government against Congressman John N. Williamson, Dr. Van Gessner, Mr. Williamson's partner in the live stock business, and Marion R. Biggs, a Pineville, Or., attorney, and at one time United States commissioner at that place, late last night found all three of the defendants guilty of having entered into a conspiracy to suborn perjury by inducing locators to fraudulently file on government land, providing them with money so to do under agreement that these persons would convey title to Williamson and Van Gessner when patents were secured. When the jury had been discharged, Judge A. S. Bennett, attorney for the defendants, moved that the defendants be given a new trial. Judge Hunt put the matter of hearing the motion over, and court was adjourned.

STEAMSHIP CRASHES INTO N. Y. PIER AT FULL SPEED.

New York, Sept. 28.—Through a misunderstanding of signals the Trinidad Steamship company's steamer Grenada crashed into her pier at almost full speed today trying to make the dock. The pier was almost demolished. A number of longshoremen were injured, five so badly that they were taken to a hospital. Part of the pier was knocked over on top of the barge Mothman, which was moored there. The captain of the barge and his wife

TREMENDOUS EXPLOSION

Occurred When Cargo of Dynamite Was Fired In Suez Canal.

Port Said, Sept. 28.—The wreck of the British steamer Raseel, which had carried ninety tons of dynamite and blasting materials, occurred today in the Suez Canal. The explosion was tremendous. The enormous displacement of water was visible from Raseelch.

ARMISTICE IN KOREA IS NOT YET ARRANGED.

Seoul, Sept. 28.—Col. Oba and Gen. Cossanaffsky, the Japanese and Russian representatives in North Korea, met, on Monday afternoon, Sept. 25, and again discussed the terms of the proposed armistice. The Russians would not agree to the Japanese proposals, and the armistice has been postponed. The Japanese instructions from Gen. Linévitch.

NEW STREET RAILWAY ASSOCIATION FORMED.

Philadelphia, Sept. 28.—The reorganized street railway association, now known as the American Street and Interurban Railway association, today elected W. Cary Ely of Buffalo as president. Mr. Ely was president of the old organization, and has been strongly opposed to municipal ownership of street railways, which question resulted in the formation of the new association, in order that concentrated opposition might be made to all attempts to take the railways from the corporations. Other officers were elected, as follows: John I. Beggs, Milwaukee, first vice president; Calvin G. Goodrich, Minneapolis, second vice president; J. L. Shaw, Boston, third vice president. In addition to electing officers, the convention listened to the reading of several technical papers.

ELECTION JUDGE IS CHARGED WITH FRAUD.

Cleveland, Sept. 28.—A warrant was issued today for the arrest of Michael Ryan, a Republican judge of elections, who is charged with fraud while acting in his official capacity during the recent Republican primaries. It is alleged that Ryan checked off the names of thirty-six registered electors who did not vote at those primaries, to account for thirty-six marked ballots which were placed in the box in excess of the number actually cast. Ryan is in custody.

SIBERIA WILL BE INCLUDED. St. Petersburg, Sept. 28.—The inclusion of Siberia in the first national assembly is assured, the Zolsky commission having determined on the allotment of fifty Siberian members, of which number one will represent the city of Irkutsk. The members will not be elected on class basis. The franchise is bestowed on owners of over 300 to 1,000 acres of land, depending on the fertility, or on the proprietors of Urban property of similar value.

REMARKABLE REFORMS FOR THE RUSSIAN PEOPLE ADOPTED BY NOBILITY

Unanimously Passed at a Special Meeting Without Any Dissension.

Will Have a Wonderful Effect on the Future of the Czar's Empire.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 28.—The nobility of St. Petersburg at a special meeting have adopted resolutions without dissension, all of a liberal reform character. The most important follow: That the legislative, judicial and executive branches should be separated from each other and that equal justice be rendered to everybody. That the clergy be better trained and careful for and clerical appointments be effected electively. That the various ministers work in co-operation and that ministers be held responsible for their acts. That measures be taken to overcome the illiteracy of the masses and that freedom to establish schools be granted to everybody. That freedom of assembly, organization and the press be assured. That roads and other means of communication be improved and extended.

BROOKLYN BOY IS KIDNAPED AND HELD FOR $500 RANSOM

New York, Sept. 28.—Antoine Marcandina, a Brooklyn contractor, has been missing since Sunday and his father believes he has been kidnaped to secure a ransom by the "black and white" method. Two weeks ago the father began to receive letters demanding $500 on pain of abduction of a member of his family. Since the boy has disappeared he has received four others, offering to return the boy if $500 is paid. In one letter a threat is made to "return the boy in a box" if the money is not paid. The child was playing in the street when two men coaxed him away. The father at once notified the police. The latter now believe that the father has paid the ransom and they watched him today intending to arrest any one bringing the boy home. An odd coincidence to which the police gave some attention was the fact that the Marcandina boy is a cousin of Tony Manino of Brooklyn, who was kidnaped several months ago and that Salvatore Manino, the uncle of Tony, and who returned him to his parents, cannot be found by the police.

THE ARMENIANS AND TARTARS ARE BUSY CELEBRATING RECONCILIATION

Baku, Sept. 28.—With the formal ratification of peace between the Tartars and Armenians here, the order confining the inhabitants to their houses after eight in the evening has been revoked and street traffic has resumed. The Armenians and Tartars are celebrating the reconciliation. The Armenians are thronging the cathedral and mosques and are joining in processions to celebrate their reconciliation. An investigation of the damage done established the fact that two-fifths of the derrick and crane have not been destroyed, the derrick owners reported that 1,956 out of 3,412 derricks were burned. When the 3,412 derricks were active the output was 17,500 tons. The oil men decline to resume pumping from the remaining wells or to engage in the work of reconstruction until the conclusion of the naphtha conference at St. Petersburg, in which, at the request of the owners, representatives, the workmen will participate. In anticipation, however, that many of the workers will be placed in the future. The oil men are placing large orders for machinery and material to be used in the reconstruction.

POLICE CONTINUE SEARCH FOR MISSING PARTS OF WOMAN'S BODY

Boston, Sept. 28.—The bundle of clothing part of which was marked with blood found in the water near Winthrop, Monday night has no connection "with this suit case" mystery, according to Medical Examiner Harris. The police have learned that the blood-stained clothing came from the home of a Winthrop woman who was a friend of Mrs. R. O. Burnham, of South end, to whom had been assigned the wrapping paper in which the soiled clothing was found.

NEWLY LAUNCHED STEAMER IS UNRULY

Belfast, Ireland, Sept. 28.—The launching from the yards of Harland & Wolff here of the Holland-American liner New Amsterdam today, was attended by some excitement. A strong wind drove the vessel up the river where she drifted ashore. After the steamer was got off she struck a pier head, considerably damaging the staging and blocked the river for some time until tugs managed to get control of the vessel and towed her clear. The New Amsterdam is a vessel of 17,000 tons and 12,000 horse power with a speed of seven knots an hour. She is 600 feet long and has 95 feet beam. There will be accommodations for 400 first-class, 250 second-class and 2,000 steerage passengers. The steamer is scheduled to make her maiden trip to New York on April 7, 1906.

KILLS MAN WITH A BASEBALL BAT

Detroit, Sept. 28.—While protecting his 16-year-old invalid daughter from assault, today, in the yard in the rear of his residence 386 Michigan avenue, William Harrington beat Charles Martin, a laborer who was boarding at his home, so severely with a baseball bat that Martin died two hours later in a hospital. During the melee Ernest Bloom, another boarder was also beaten by Harrington and severely, although not seriously injured. Martin, it is alleged, by Harrington, had been drinking, and attacked the 16-year-old girl when she stepped out into the yard. Her cries aroused the father who rushed to her rescue with a ball bat. His blow fractured Martin's skull. Harrington mistook Bloom's endeavors to help him for an attack and beat him also with the club.

THIRTY JAP FISHERMEN ARE MURDERED

San Francisco, Sept. 28.—The Examiner says: Thirty Japanese fishermen were murdered by the natives at the settlement of Uruka, which is situated on Kamchatka peninsula and a similar fate would have been visited upon other men if they had not managed to make their escape to the American fishing vessel, S. N. Castle, which was lying at anchor close to the settlement. The Japanese belonged to fishing schooners, whose home port was Hakodate. The ten survivors were kept on board the Castle for several days, and then in a large sampan amply provided by Capt. Ipsen, they set out for a Japanese settlement some distance away. The news of the massacre was brought here on the S. N. Castle, which arrived from a codfishing cruise in the Okhotsk sea, yesterday.

The sympathy of the American woman with the Japanese cause is beginning to be displayed by the progressive manufacturers in the most approved fashion by naming the clothes she wears, and the ties she chooses, and the belts she wants to wear, after the leaders of these pugnacious little men. One of the first things to be shown this fall is the Togo belt, which is not materially different from many other belts in shape. It is of soft leather, in giraffe effect, the original color being a kind of bronze. This shows in patches, however, for over all, grotesque figures in pink and blue and green and red try to give the Japanese effect. To those women of the city who have devoted the past year to the study of Japanese art, the grotesque figures on the belt are rather a failure, but its name will get the Togo belt a certain following.

Another of the novelties which is promised by an up-to-date shoe man of the city is the prevailing colors of the season. Green gown, green shoes; red gown, red shoes, and blue gown, blue shoes, is what the woman with the price may attire herself this fall. Shoes to match the gowns have been talked about before, but this is perhaps the first time that shoes in colored leathers for practical wear have been offered in Duluth. They will be low shoes, and may be worn with spats. They are the Du Barry cut, with a seam down the center of the vamp, the ties run through two tie eyelets.

Another of the fads that promise to be overworked before the season is half started is the cross of gold, of silver, or plated brass, of a series of precious stones, of imitation stones, of a solid piece of turquoise, or several Lake Superior amethysts, or any other thing that may suggest itself to the manufacturer. Every jewelry store window, every dry goods store jewelry department, and nearly every woman with the courage to blazon forth her crosses, hangs from a dainty necklace chain, or hanging to a lengthy string of beads. To one to whom the sign of the cross means anything, its place now as an ornament of the hour is incongruous to the latest degree. To combine the most flighty of Marie Antoinette extravagant styles with the symbol of that which should be an appeal to a simple and beautiful unselfishness seems the climax of the inconsistencies of the season. But—get a cross if you would be smart.

ENTERTAINS PIANIST.

Eugene Bernstein, Eminent Russian Musician, Is a Guest in Duluth.

Mrs. Hans Christensen was hostess yesterday afternoon at a most delightful musicale in honor of her guest, Eugene Bernstein, the Russian pianist, who is on his way to New York, after a brilliant concert tour on the Pacific coast. Mr. Bernstein is widely known for his introduction of the works of the great Russian composers to the American audience, and his brilliant interpretation of these compositions of his countrymen. Mr. Bernstein played several numbers yesterday afternoon, and assisting with vocal numbers were Mrs. James McAuliffe and George Tyler. It is hoped that upon his next tour Mr. Bernstein will be heard in concert here.

Last evening Mr. and Mrs. Christensen entertained at dinner at the Elitch Gammil club in honor of their guest. Covers were laid for six.

Entertain at Bridge.

Mrs. M. R. Cullen and Mrs. S. R. Holden entertained at bridge yesterday afternoon at Mrs. Cullen's home on East Superior street. The game was played at ten tables, and the favors were won by Mrs. C. A. Luster and Mrs. W. B. McGibbon of Superior. Assisting the hostesses were Mrs. Bert Foster and Mrs. P. J. Pullford.

Mrs. Cullen and Mrs. Holden will #### Reception for Teachers.

The Endeavor society of the First Presbyterian church will hold a reception in honor of the teachers of the public schools tomorrow evening. The affair will be held in the church parlors, at the corner of Third avenue east and Second street. The rooms are being prettily decorated for the occasion and an orchestra will play during the first part of the evening. Later in the evening a musical and literary program will be given and a large attendance is anticipated.

Personal Mention.

Miss Katrina Richardson left last evening for Washington where she will attend Mr. Vernon's seminar.

Miss Irma Hartley will leave this evening for New York where she will attend school.

Miss Elsie Silberstein has returned from a visit with friends in Chicago and the East.

Miss Purcell of Toronto who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Purcell during the summer will return to her home tomorrow.

Mrs. J. H. M. Parker and children have gone to Montreal for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Giles Gilbert and family returned yesterday from an outing at Bay Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Colston left today for a month's visit at Colorado.

The College Girl.

If an instinct lies dormant too long there is danger of atrophy. The four years that a girl spends in college are the last of her best learning years, and during that time, except in some colleges which are experimentally inclined, the domestic half of her mind is left to slumber. For men there are special courses in agriculture, engineering, law and medicine, but the woman's colleges content themselves with the student's brain merely. Until the woman's college can prepare a girl for her specialty as well as a man's college prepares him for his, it must remain, after all, a rather ornamental thing, not in every way comparing well with the special courses in agriculture, engineering, law and medicine, but the woman's colleges content themselves with the student's brain merely. Until the woman's college can prepare a girl for her specialty as well as a man's college prepares him for his, it must remain, after all, a rather ornamental thing, not in every way comparing well with the special courses in agriculture, engineering, law and medicine, but the woman's colleges content themselves with the student's brain merely.

In the aim to make the college education of a girl equal to that of the boy, similarity has been mistaken for equality. The girl in the man's college, with her masculine environment, is a reversal of the story of Achilles among the maidens. Give her, along with her higher mathematics, Greek, biology and whatnot, the modern equivalent of a distaff; and she will seize upon it as eagerly as poor Achilles did upon the sword, until she does receive the modern equivalent of the distaff, the college provided for her will be a thing removed from the other sex, not a growth from woman's needs.

Handsome Love Maze.

Waltham, Mass., has acquired a new claim to fame this summer says the New York Tribune. For this it is indebted to Miss Cornelia Warren, who has constructed on her estate, Cedar Hill, a love maze modeled after the famous maze at Hampton court, and to have been designed by Henry II as a bower for Fair Rosamond.

The maze is a combination of English estates, but is little known in this country, and Miss Warren's is an —Dolores means sorrowful—stood before the mirror in her bedroom and studied impartially the face that the glass reflected. Once upon a time it had been the face of a laughing, care-free girl. Where the dimple had twinkled in the girl's cheek was now a hollow, the cupid's bow of a mouth was set in lines of weariness and of patience. The delicate oval of the face had shrunk with time and trouble, and the eyes were hard and cold. She wondered that any man could love her as she was now, least of all the man who did love her. Yet she was who could not love but yet a woman may fascinate without beauty if she has those other gifts which often beauty lacks.

The woman had married to become disillusioned. The man whom she married was not brutal. He had none of the vices which are commonly supposed to cause misery in married life. Yet he lacked just those qualities which make happiness. He had a certain soft and languorous fashion of making love. He was good looking and his woman's heart was easily won. So he won the love of this woman and married her. Within six months her love for him had waned to indifference. He had a certain soft and languorous fashion of making love. For a few minutes it was nothing more connected than a memory, the memory of a song that he had heard in the street light, a blind man sat. And as he sat, a faint, sweet, low voice came from the street, a song that he had heard in the street light, a blind man sat. object of great interest to people of Waltham and its vicinity. Miss Warren permits the public to have access to the maze at reasonable hours, and hundreds visit it every week. No records of the number of visitors have been kept, except on Sundays, when 623 people have been recorded.

The maze is composed of hedges of arbor vitae about 10 feet ten inches in height, and set so close together that only one person at a time can pass between them. The effect is extremely bewildering, and any one who ventures into the labyrinthine paths soon feels as if he were lost in a great forest. In fact many people have been lost in the maze, and after wandering for hours in a vain attempt either to reach the center or to return to the entrance have been obliged to call for aid to release them from their predicament.

Those who are fortunate enough to unravel the mystery and reach the center find there two artificial ponds, one above the other. On the bank of the lower pond a Japanese stork bids the successful adventurer welcome.

Near the entrance of the maze is a tower surmounted by a summer house. Seated in this one can overlook the maze and get abundant amusement from the bewilderment of people in the maze. Miss Warren often entertains her friends by taking them to this very on the days when the place is open to the public.

The maze is twenty-two feet in width, and the shortest way from the entrance to the center is 940 feet. But even if they are fortunate most people travel ten times that distance before reaching the goal of their endeavors.

of divorce it was to remember that her husband had not been guilty of a single sin upon which the grounds for a decree of separation might be found. And she could not seek a divorce because she was tired of the man whom she had married. ### HAPPENINGS IN THE DAKOTAS

Resort to Law Sequel of a Church Fight at Abercrombie.

NORTH DAKOTA.

Wahpeton—Rev. Mr. Edmonds of this city was arrested on a charge of libel on a warrant sworn out by Rev. William Edwards of Abercrombie. The arrest grows out of a controversy between Rev. Mr. Edmonds, who is chairman of the executive committee of the Wahpeton Association of Congregational Churches, and Rev. Mr. Edwards, who has been pastor of the Abercrombie church for twenty years or more. Rev. Mr. Edwards is disliked by some of Abercrombie's citizens, and as a consequence his congregations have been very small. The membership of his church has dwindled to about a half dozen members, including two or three of his own family, and a movement has been on foot for some time to displace him. Rev. Mr. Edwards, however, has resisted all efforts to oust him, and has succeeded so far in retaining possession of the two buildings. He has refused to leave the buildings, and he gets no salary from the church, and makes his living selling books and other articles throughout the state. Recently the committee of which Rev. Mr. Edmonds is a member took up the matter and a new church organization was formed in Abercrombie and Rev. Mr. G. Young elected pastor. This organization was recognized by the state association, which has just over a large section of country in the vicinity of Minn. in Edmunds county. One tract searched by the fire is four miles wide and six miles long, and another is a mile wide and four and a half miles long. The largest loser is Frank Schwab, who had 60 bushels of speltz, 20 bushels of barley and 20 bushels of oats. Other farmers lost from fifteen to twenty-five tons of hay each, and a large acreage of uncultivated land was swept over. Many farmers in the path of the fire had to fight the flames valiantly to save their barns and other property.

Great Northern engineers have commenced active work on the extension of the tracks to the site of the proposed new station in Aberdeen. The new station will be an exact duplicate of the one being built at Sioux Falls, and the present passenger station will be used as a freight depot.

Waterbury—Mrs. Charles Wellington, wife of a prominent farmer residing near Kanapiska, was instantly killed Tuesday afternoon. She was sitting in his high chair when the horses took a sudden start and she was thrown forward. A wheel passed over her head and death was instantaneous.

GOMEZ RESIGNS HIS CANDIDACY
Says Only Hope of Success Would Be In a Revolution.

Havana, Sept. 28.—Jose Miguel Gomez, governor of the province of Santa Clara, who was nominated by the Liberals for the presidency, has resigned his candidacy. In letters to the executive committee of his party he gives the reasons for his action, laying part of the blame on the United States, owing to the Platt amendment. Governor Gomez says:
"It is impossible to continue the campaign within the bounds of the law. The government has won a complete and overwhelming victory. With Liberals by the hundreds in the jails and with the rifles of armed forces, and even the dangers of the hired assassins against unarmed voters, the problem confronting me is whether I should continue to lead my followers to the polls, and permit them to become the victims of this sort of treatment. One other road is open, that followed by other nations in analogous circumstances, namely, the right of revolution; but Cuba stands in a peculiar position, as an armed conflict would inevitably bring foreign intervention. Before this was accomplished, however, our material prosperity would run grave danger, and property, which is to a great extent in foreign hands, would be destroyed, while the natural elements would suffer. Therefore, I who had courage to rebel against Spain, which was one hundred times stronger than Cuba's government, decline to accept the responsibility of plunging the country into war, least of all at a time when they might be the slightest suspicion that I had done so to satisfy my personal ambitions for the presidency."
"I am a Cuban soldier. I love order and peace, and prefer to leave to my adversaries the sombre glory of their triumph along the criminal path where they have gained Cuban liberties. For these reasons I entreat my party to accept this irrevocable resignation."

GIVES HIS SAVINGS
To Pay the Fare of His Rival's Bride.

New York, Sept. 27.—His hopes of riches dashed to earth and his faith in himself seriously shaken, Fritz Schultz announced yesterday from Ellis Island, where he had been sent to believe his own fortune, that he was anxious to see his rival, Freda Lutz, who was awaiting his coming.
She was there, he found on his arrival, and was so much because of the fact that although the savings of his last trip had been lost, he had been able to secure a ticket for the trip. Fritz, at once recognized in him a rival for the hand of the German girl, and he had been in the German town of Passau, where he had been a student of law.
To the immigration officials Fritz told the story of his coming to America two and a half years ago, and how he had been able to make a fortune. He had been in the German town of Passau, where he had been a student of law, and he had been in the German town of Passau, where he had been a student of law.

What To Eat and When To Eat
Two Important Questions That Can Be Answered Easily After Reading This.

In many products of Nature are found two or three or four elements of food, but in what there are fifteen different food elements and every one of these fifteen different elements is necessary for the proper sustenance and upbuilding of the human body.

Every nutritive element of the best wheat is found in Malta-Vita. This famous food is the whole of the wheat thoroughly steamed and cooked in alcohol, pure and mixed with the finest malt extract that was ever made, thus it is the finest, richest, strongest food in the world. You understand, of course, that the cooking and steaming of the wheat gelatinizes its starch, and then the malt extract, a powerful digestive agent, quickly converts this starch into maltose—malt sugar. Maltose is great food, and the weakest stomach digests and assimilates it without effort.

We all know that for many years physicians of highest standing in their profession have prescribed malt extracts, which contain a large percentage of maltose, or malt sugar, but which cost from fifty cents to seventy-five cents per pound. Malta-Vita, the crisp, delicious whole wheat food, contains from eight to ten per cent of maltose.

When Malta-Vita comes from the oven it is the crispest, most delicious food in the world, containing only one per cent of moisture. The other ninety-nine per cent is food—protein, fat, and nerve and muscle food—and most easily digested because the gelatinized starch of the thoroughly cooked wheat has been converted by the malt extract into maltose (malt sugar).

The Malta-Vita company limits orders from every wholesale dealer to a quantity which the company knows can be disposed of quickly in the wholesaler's territory. The wholesaler, in turn, makes only such shipments to grocers as he knows they will be able to handle satisfactorily.

Thus the grocer's supply of Malta-Vita is always as fresh and crisp as when it comes from the oven in the big factory at Battle Creek—always the kind that melts in the mouth.

Malta-Vita is a food that is good for health the year 'round. It can be eaten three times a day by the sick or well. It is sustaining to the working man, refreshing and invigorating to the invalid. At all grocers now 10 cents.

HE MADE AN ALPHABET

Great Work of Sequoyah
With the "Talking Leaf."
Anyone Could Learn to Write Cherokee In Four Days.

Muskogee, Ind. T., Sept. 28.—In giving the name Sequoyah to the proposed state to be composed of the lands of the five civilized tribes in the Indian Territory the constitutional convention, of which a majority of the delegates are tribal citizens, has honored the memory of one of the most notable Indians that ever lived.

Sequoyah, or George Guess, invented the alphabet by which the Cherokees acquired a written language. The alphabet is still in use. A newspaper, supported by the tribal government and printed in both Cherokee and English, is published at Talequah, the Cherokee capital.

The history of Sequoyah, long since dead, is of unusual interest. His father was a German trader from Georgia. His mother was a full-blooded Cherokee of the Paint clan. She was a sister of Co-to-ho-see or Co-tassah of Toqua, a signer of the United States-Cherokee treaty of November 28, 1785. Sequoyah was born about 1790. His first wife was Salie of the Bird clan. His second wife was U-to-yu.

Physically, he was below medium size, slight and sinewy. His skin was lighter than that of most Indians, and his eyes were dark gray. In childhood he suffered from white swelling, which resulted in lameness in one of his legs.

In dress Sequoyah clung to the custom of his people, wearing the turban, hunting shirt, leggings and moccasins. He never acquired any knowledge of the English language, and always adhered to the religious beliefs of the ancient Cherokees. The only regret he felt over the innovation of his syllabary was the use made of it in spreading the Christian religion among his people.

In his early manhood he was a blacksmith and silversmith. In both callings he often was incapacitated by his love of liquor. The prevalent idea among the Cherokees was that the written page actually talked to the white man, and for this reason they called it the "talking leaf." Sequoyah, by studying the letters, conceived the idea that each one represented a word, but upon getting a book and comparing the different marks thereon he soon saw that their number was inadequate to the expression of a language.

In 1809 his meditations culminated in the idea that probably each mark meant a sound. To test this, he scratched with his knife on a stone the letter G, calling it "wa," and E, which he called "ka."

This demonstrated to him the feasibility of his idea, as by these two marks and the sounds that he applied he represented the word "wa-ku," which is the Cherokee word for cow. At the same time he scratched out three other figures, to which he gave the sounds of "sa," "qu" and "ni," this being the Cherokee name for horse. In this way he satisfied himself of the correctness of his idea.

Thenceforward Sequoyah continued to multiply, eradicate and change many of the characters he adopted from the English book, although he misjudged their use in the original. As he became more absorbed in his work he grew correspondingly more abstemious in his use of liquor.

He announced to his friends that he was going to make the last talk to the Indian as well as to the white man. This was incredible to the Indians and exposed him to ridicule, but the joining of the Cherokees was not sufficient to keep him from being one of the signers of the treaty of September 14, 1836. Only men of merit had this honor and they were regularly elected for this duty.

The manuscripts of Sequoyah were pieces of bark, and at one time his life, as suggested at his seeming abundance, consisted of the work of several years to the flames. Sequoyah set to work with greater industry than ever, and in a short time produced a small bundle of bark manuscripts which he showed his wife. She was so proud and imperious which she had destroyed. This confirmed his wife in her suspicion that her husband was a fraud.

The syllabary was finished in 1821. It was the only alphabet in the world that wished to learn had mastered the syllabary, and Sequoyah visited the Cherokees on the Arkansas river, where he moved his family in 1825. During its regular session in October, 1825, the national council of the Eastern Cherokees voted a silver medal to Sequoyah. The medal was made in Washington under the supervision of John Ross, who was delegate for the Cherokee nation. On one side it bore a head surrounded with the inscription in English, "Presented to George Gist by the General Council of the Cherokee Nation for His Ingenuity in the Invention of the Cherokee Alphabet." On the reverse side it bore the inscription in Cherokee, "The Cherokee Nation presents to George Gist for his invention of the Cherokee Alphabet."

It was intended that the medal should be presented in council, but upon learning that Sequoyah intended to remain in the West, Chief Pathkiller instructed John Ross to forward the medal to Sequoyah with a letter of transmission, which was done. Sequoyah wore this medal during his subsequent life. The first Cherokee type was cast in

GOVERNMENT SCORES IN BEEF PACKERS' CASE.
Chicago, Sept. 28.—A victory was scored, yesterday, by United States District Attorney C. B. Morrison in his struggle to bring to a successful finish the prosecution of the meat packers. During the argument against a demurrer filed by Attorney Morrison some time ago by the defending attorneys contesting the indictment which charges the various packers and their associates with conspiracy in restraint of trade, the question of the right of the packers to appear in court at the time of the impaneling of the federal grand jury and to challenge jurors as they were impaneled was raised and Judge J. Otis Humphrey decided in favor of the government.

In passing on this question, which was one of the main points in the plea in abatement filed by the packers' attorneys, Judge Humphrey said: "I considered this question fully at the time the jury was empaneled and

I came to the conclusion that there was no duty resting upon the court or any of the officers to ask the proposed defendants to come in and save any rights they might have had, by objecting to the array of the grand jurors. We will not spend any time on this question, as it has been settled as far as this court is concerned."

The objection by the defendants to the manner in which the jury was drawn was then taken up and at the time of adjournment Attorney Rosenthal was reading authorities supporting his contention that the jury was drawn from a part of the district without proper order of the court. The jury was drawn from the eastern district of the northern division of the state and it is contended by its defendants that the court ordered the jury drawn from the "body" of the district, meaning both the eastern and western districts.

WHEAT CROP OF CANADA

Puts Her In the List of the Prosperous Nations.

Money Received Will Find Outlet in the United States.

New York, Sept. 28.—That our neighboring countries are enjoying prosperity as ourselves is well known, and the outlook for their future is as promising as that of the United States.

The Northwest of the Dominion of Canada comes to the front this year with an estimated production of 100,000,000 bushels of wheat, and one of the Dominion officials reports that the Dominion can readily spare 75,000,000 bushels of this crop for export to other countries. An estimate of the population of the Dominion gives a total for 1905 approximately 6,000,000, showing an increase of 800,000 persons since 1901. If the Dominion exports 75,000,000 bushels of wheat at current prices it can readily be seen that the Dominion will bring to the Dominion will cause a great increase in the per capita distribution of money throughout all of Canada.

It will have the same effect in the central and northern portions of the Dominion that the three last cotton years had upon the business of the South. It will be a stimulus to every line of business. It will aid the railways by increased freight and passenger receipts.
It will add to the business of all the lake and seacoast ports. It will give employment to stevedores, dockers, firemen, commission men and ship brokers.
It will attract thousands of hungry to the wheat fields of the North and cause the opening up and settlement of hundreds of square miles of territory now virtually uninhabited.

It has been estimated that more than 60,000 persons from the northwestern portion of the United States have gone to the Dominion to settle during the last three years.

These emigrants from the United States have no doubt largely contributed to the recent increase in the wheat production of this year, as they have taken with them the latest improved farming machinery and applied the energetic United States methods to Canadian soil.

Russian, Scandinavian, Scotch,
English and Irish agriculturists are aving, economical and hard workers, shen-dow, people to tackle hard problems, and persistent enough to succeed with even the most difficult tasks. They require less patience to a far greater degree than American farmers do, and they have brought up in a school that requires that virtue. They speedily acquire the skill and readily adapt the intelligent methods of the American farmer, once they have witnessed the greater results coming from these methods.

It is evident from the reports of Dominion agriculture that the farmers of that country have adopted the methods of the people who have come to them from the United States, and the consequence is the boom that is just getting going headway in Canada. The manufacturers of farming machinery in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois will have a large market for their sales for the year 1906 in this great agricultural Dominion of the Northwest.

Canada has been without the wheat regions far to the north of Minnesota, Lake Superior and the St. Lawrence valley.
The wheat crop of the Dominion has been almost double during the coming twelve months, and the use of the wheat will be sufficient to supply the needs of the people of the Dominion, and will amply supply the needs of all kinds needed upon their farms.

Manufacturers of stoves and ranges, of all articles that enter into the furnishing of homes and houses and that contribute to the comforts of modern civilized life, within this widely extended area find quick demand and ready cash for their products. The wheat crop of the Dominion has been almost double during the coming twelve months, and the use of the wheat will be sufficient to supply the needs of the people of the Dominion, and will amply supply the needs of all kinds needed
upon their farms.

The wheat crop of the great state of California is reported to be the largest crop in this year that it was in 1905, but it is also announced that not a bushel of it will be exported, but that the conditions of the Mexican people are such that they will be able to keep it all at home for their own consumption. This means that many who have hitherto had only corn and wheat for food will now be able to purchase wheat, and that the conditions of the Mexican people are such that they will be able to keep it all at home for their own consumption. This means that many who have hitherto had only corn and wheat for food will now be able to purchase wheat, and that the conditions of the Mexican people are such that they will be able to keep it all at home for their own consumption.

Mexico will produce this year the largest cotton crop she has ever produced, all of which staple will be made up by the cotton manufacturers of the United States. The great cotton factories at Orizaba, Queretaro, Juarez and other points not only manufacture all the cotton that Mexico produces, but also make large purchases of raw cotton in the United States. Every one of these great factories is producing cotton cloth to its full capacity, and the demand from the people of Mexico continues to increase with even greater ratio than the facilities for manufacture, although additional hundreds of thousands of pounds of raw cotton are used each year.

A very interesting report has just been made by the treasury department of the Mexican government and it is instructive and encouraging as regards the growth of the trade of the United States with Mexico.

The four great customhouses on the northern frontier of Mexico are Nagales, Ciudad Juarez, Ciudad Porfirio Diaz and Matamoros. The number of cars and the amount of freight which entered Mexico from the United States by these four way points during the six fiscal years was as follows:

No. Cars, Tons Freight	Value
1895-1896	47,592
1896-1897	47,592
1897-1898	47,592
1898-1899	47,592
1899-1900	47,592
1900-1901	47,592
1901-1902	47,592
1902-1903	47,592
1903-1904	47,592
1904-1905	47,592

This was to June 30, 1904, and from July 1, 1905, to June 30, 1905. The amount of freight which entered Mexico from the United States by these four way points during the six fiscal years
was as follows:

The effect of the greater tonnage brought into Mexico in the new carload cars can readily be computed by comparing the number of cars of the freight trains of the United States with the total tonnage of each year.

The tonnage from Jan. 1, 1905, until the present writing was far greater than during the same time in former years, but the official figures are not yet issued.

Owing to recent advances in the custom duties made by the Mexican government merchants in Mexico during the early part of the present year imported provisions so as to have their stocks of merchandise in store prior to the date upon which the advanced custom rates went into operation. This fact caused a great increase in the business of the United States and has added many thousands of dollars to the business of the manufacturers of certain classes of goods made in the United States.

The change in the mining laws of Mexico made during last May will be of great service, not only in the encouragement of mining in that republic, but in creating a demand for mining and milling machinery which, under certain conditions, can now enter Mexico, with a refunding to the mining companies of the duties levied and collected upon machinery brought in during the next two years. This should add largely to the orders of the mining and milling machinists and manufacturers of the United States, and give employment to many thousands of skilled mechanics.

HIS BUSINESS LIFE ENDED

John D. Rockefeller Jr.
Compelled By Ill Health to Retire.

New York, Sept. 28.—If the verdict of his physician is correct, the active business career of John D. Rockefelder, Jr., is ended. It is announced in a semi-official way that young Rockefelder will probably never return to New York, which he entered fifteen years ago when 23 years of age, fresh from Brown university, backed by his father's wealth.

He is suffering from acute dyspnea, not dangerous, but the wearing type years ago in the drizzle of an October rain, in which "Boxwood," the beautiful summer home of the elder Rockefelder near Tarrytown, was destroyed by fire. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., had to save the property, and contracted a severe cold.

Since then Mr. Rockefeller has tried to resume his work, only to find the burden too hard. The fact that there is no change for the better, as evidenced by the announcement that the young man will sail soon for a winter abroad.

His friends say he will never get back to the days when he used to work from 9 o'clock a. m. to 5 p. m. in his office at No. 24 Broadway, and when he had in almost a made himself in the financial world. He is now from an active business standpoint is over for him at 38 years of age.

JAPANESE SURGEON

Reads Paper on His Experience in Battle With Togo.

Detroit, Sept. 27.—Two papers in armed and naval sessions in the program for the opening session of the second day of the fourteenth convention of the Association of Military Surgeons of the United States, prominent among them was that read by Surgeon General S.
Suzuki of the Imperial Japanese navy.
He is a member of the Japanese navy warships. General Suzuki's recent experience in battle with Admiral Togo's fleet added interest and authority to his statements.

His Usefulness.

Galveston, Wis., Sept. 27.—After a wandering life of 70 years of rock and body of Joseph Porter, an old fisherman and trapper, was found beside the road near this city. When Porter lived he made his home on a small island near the mouth of the Wisconsin river.
He would drop into the towns in this section every few days to get his fish and furs, and then disappear. He was found last week. He was very old and the authorities tried to produce him to go to the hospital. He

THE WINNING STROKE

If more than ordinary skill in playing brings the honors of the game to the winning player, so exceptional merit in a remedy ensures the commendation of the well informed, and as a result, a large amount of outdoor life and recreation is conducive to the health and strength, so does a perfect laxative tend to one's improvement in cases of constipation, biliousness, headaches, etc. It is all important, however, in selecting a laxative, to choose one of known quality and excellence, like the ever pleasant Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., a laxative which sweetens and cleanses the system effectually, when a laxative is needed, without any unpleasant after effects, as it acts naturally and gently on the internal organs, simply assisting nature when nature needs assistance, without griping, irritating or debilitating the internal organs in any way, as it contains nothing of an objectionable or injurious nature. As the plants which are combined with the figs in the manufacture of Syrup of Figs are known to physicians act most beneficially upon the system, the remedy has met with their general approval as a family laxative, a fact well worth considering in making purchases.

It is because of the fact that SYRUP OF FIGS is a remedy of known quality and excellence, and approved by physicians that has led to its use by so many millions of well informed people, who would not use any remedy of uncertain quality or inferior reputation. Every family should have a bottle of the genuine on hand at all times, to use when a laxative remedy is required. Please to remember that the genuine Syrup of Figs is for sale in bottles of one size only, by all reputable druggists, and that full name of the company—California Fig Syrup Co., is plainly printed on the front of every package. Regular price, 50c per bottle.
